FIVE PAIRS OF TWINS.

Mississippi Woman, Mother of Ten Children in Eight Years, Claims World Record.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A Mississippi woman claims the world's record for twins, having given birth to five pairs, a total of ten children, within a period of eight years.

She is Mrs. J. D. Pifario, of Gulfport, and if her record has ever been equalled it is not generally known.

Mrs. Pifario's first twins were girls, the next two boys, the next four girls and the next two boys, making a total of six girls and four boys, all within eight years.

A remarkable feature is that neither the mother nor any of the children has been seriously ill. They are all hale and hearty with distressingly good appetites, even to the youngest twins, who are only six weeks old.

LONDON ABLAZE WITH FLAGS FOR CORONATION CELEBRATION.

Everything In Readiness For Crowning and Anointing of King and Queen.

Dense Masses of People, White With Fatigue, Seize Places on Curb to Witness Pageant and Spend the Night Holding Vantage Points—Seven Thousand Favored Ones Will Pack Westminster Today.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON (Thursday) June 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Outdoors and indoors everything is ready for today's solemn events—the stately progress to and from Westminster Abbey and the crowning and annointing of King George and Queen Mary.

Throughout London flags and streamers fill the air with unresisting color, even in the dullest courts and lanes, the abode of the ragged and hungry.

The illuminated river winding majesticly through the somber metropolis is fringed for miles with red, white and blue.

Long lines of brilliantly colored pennants float from the pinnacles of innumerable buildings.

Seats in endless array are swathed in crimson and emblazoned with patriotic hues. The Admiralty Arch, an imposing marble gateway between the Mall and Trafalgar Square, to be used for the first time tomorrow, is the center of a quadruple group of seats gorgeously draped with bunting, green leaves and red blossoms. From Buckingham Palace to Trafalgar Square is a spacious vista of white, gleaming masts, and pillars garlanded with lines of pale green leaves thickly strung with crimson bloom.

Whitehall presents much the same aspect, but the pillars here are larger and have massive pedestals, each crested with gilt figures of lions, griffins and winged victories blowing trumpets.

STRIKING DECORATIONS.

Wooden archways in Whitehall typifying Canada and the empire are striking decorations to that historic street.

Westminster Abbey is almost lost in mountainous waves of red-swathed seats topped with flags and pennons. Parliament quare is practically under roof, practically an unbroken series of observation galleries. Electric mechanisms are ready in all parts of the city to reflect loyalty to the King and imperial enthusiasm in unique form of luminous colors.

London is amazed at the appearance of their familiar old town. Night and day they are wandering, drifting about in dense masses, looking, staring, plodding to and fro until they are white with fatigue. Last evening was one of the most crowded that London ever knew. The sidewalks were packed and the streets were held by sluggish floes of motor cars, carriages, trucks and vans. Progress awheel or afoot was almost impossible. The jam lasted until after midnight, when haggard men and half-fainting women, some with babies in their arms, struggled with each other for seats in the last busses and trains.

As London is so too to a smaller

The Wool Measure from the Lower House Forces the Coalition.

Crisis in the Finance Committee's Control of the Senate.

The Fate of Reciprocity in the Upper Branch Is in Doubt.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Throwing of the Democrati wool revision bill into the Senate today drove the insurgent Republicans of that body into an open coalition with the Democrats in a demand for a general revision of the tariff and brought about the threatened crisis in the Finance Committee's control of the Senate.

At the end of a bitter fight the resolution by Senator Gore that the Finance Committee report back the wool bill before July 10 was adopted by a vote of 39 to 18.

The fate of the Canadian reciprocity bill was in doubt as a result of the remarkable developments of the day's session of the Senate. Western Republications who have fought the reciprocity measure, taking up challenges thrown down by the Democratic leaders, followed each other in rapid succession in their ultimatums to the Senate leaders.

OTHER SCHEDULES.

These ultimatiums were invariably to the effect that before the reciprocity bill is permitted to pass a Republican Senate will be forced to undertake a revision of other schedules of the tariff including much more than the woolen revision bill and the free list bill, which have gone through the House of Representatives. Of the affirmative votes, cast for the Gore motion overthrowing the Finance Commitee, sixteen were Republicans. They were Senators Borah, Bourne, Bristow, Brown, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Dixon, Gronna, Jones, Kenyon, La Follette, Nelson, Poindexter, Townsend and Works.

This included the full insurgent strength of thirteen and in addition, Senators Jones, Nelson and Townsend. Senator Myers was the second Democrat voting with the Republicans against the motion.

CALLS A MEETING.

As the result of the Senate's action Senator Penrose before adjournment called a meeting of the Finance Committee, of which he is chairman, for 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, and he and other regular Republicans predicted that when the Senate convenes at noon tomorrow, the wool measure together with the free list will be reported adversely.

Notable speeches on reciprocity were made in both branches of Congress today. Senator Foot, announcing that he favored the agreement, advocated and explained his amendment to the wood pulp and paper provision of the bill, around which the reciprocity fight has centered, and which President Taft opposed on the ground that it might jeopardize the whole agreement. Republican Leader Mann in the House, attacked the Root amendment as a violation of the Canadian reciprocity agreement.

Today's fight began the instant the wool revision bill appeared from the House of Representatives. Senator Gore, apparently with the approval of Democratic leaders, moved that the Finance Committee be instructed to report the bill back to the Senate on or before July 10. The admitted purposes of the motion was to prevent the Finance Committee from holding the bill indefinitely or from failing to report it at all.

LINES DISRUPTED.

The result of the Gore motion was to disrupt so completely the lines that have formed in the Senate that it cannot be foretold now when a vote can be reached on the reciprocity bill, or whether enough votes can be mustered to pass it without amendment. Senators Cummins, Nelson, Crawford, La Follette, Jones and other Republican insurgents from northwestern States who have opposed the reciprocity bill because of alleged discrimination against agricultural interests, declared that before a vote would be permitted on the reciprocity bill they would demand that the other schedules of the tariff be taken up and would insist upon an attemp to attack many of them on the reciprocity measure. The Republican leaders, notably Senators Penrose, Smoot, Gallinger and Lodge, all members of the Finance Committee, declared that such a limitation on the action of the Senate's chief committee was "unfair, uncalled for and unreasonable."

CALLS IT ABSURD.

Senator Penrose characterized the Gore resolution as "rank absurdity and shallow demagogism." The insurgent Republicans took up the fight by declaring that the Finance Committee must either report out the free-list bill, the wool bill and other measures of tariff revision, or prepare for a long fight to secure a vote on Canadian reciprocity.

TRAINLOADS OF DOCTORS.

CHICAGO STARTS HUNDREDS OF THEM TO LOS ANGELES.

Eastern and Middle West Physicians Depart in Special Train for Meeting of American Medical Association in a Land Where Many Are Wont to Send Their Patients.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gleeful as a lot of school boys over the prospects of the vacation in the garden spot of the world, nearly 1000 physicians from eastern and middle western States are on their way to Los Angeles to attend the coming session of the American Medical Association. From Chicago, alone, 250 phyicians and surgeons left tonight at 11 o'clock on a special train over the Burlington route, accompanied by members of their families.

The train, consisting of eleven cars, will make stops in Omaha, Denver, Colorado Springs, Manitou, Glenwood Springs and Salt Lake City.

The following are among the Chicago doctors in the party: George H. Simmons, Robert Gilmore, Sidney Kuh, Frederick R. Green, M. L. Harris, Charles B. Read, George F. Suker, Dr. Sebell, J. J. H. Belter, William G. Stearns, D. R. Pietrowick, E. A. Collins, Dr. Cotton, E. W. Bullen, A. W. Adams, Dr. Richter, A. W. Martin, Q. L. Pelton, Dr. Cunningham, E. F. Smith, Hilden, Peasey, Hazen, R. J. Puhl, E. L. Garber, E. B. Ward.

Nearly all, if not quite all of these practitioners, have sent many patients to California to regain their shattered health, but this is the first opportunity many of them have had of visiting the famous country themselves.

TRAINLOAD FROM IOWA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DES MOINES (Iowa.) June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A trainload of Iowa physicians and their wives left Des Moines this evening for Los Angeles to attend the meeting of the American Medical Association, which opens June 27.

The train is made up of three coaches, a diner, a baggage and an observation car. Stops will be made at several points of interest along the way. The Hotel Alexandria has been selected as the headquarters for the delegation and is the headquarters for the national society.

The Des Moines contingent includes Dr. Granville Ryan, Dr. W. L. Bierring, wife and two daughters; Miss Penrose, a Methodist hospital nurse; Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Summer, Dr. and Mrs. F. V. Shore, Miss Lillian Ayres, A. E. Robertson, Dr. A. J. Field, Miss Kittie McNulty and mother.

WILL WED A LIEUTENANT.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Former Senator Henry Gassaway Davis of West Virginia has announced the engagement of his granddaughter, Katherine Brown, to Lieut. Chester P. Barnett, Fifteenth Cavalry, U.S.A. The wedding probably will take place next October upon the return from abroad of Miss Brown's aunt and cousin, Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins, and Miss Katherine Elkins.

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY FOR MEN CONVICTED OF PEONAGE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 21.—President Taft today ordered the immediate release of W. S. Harlan, C. C. Hilton and S. E. Huggins of the Jackson Lumber Company of Lockhart, Ala., who are now serving sentences in Atlanta Penitentiary for peonage. Formal action commuting their sentences to expire immediately and remitting their fines will be issued.

The President extended executive clemency to the men at the request of Senator Fletcher of Florida. It is understood President Taft, before leaving for New Haven yesterday, told the Senator he believed the men had been punished enough and that he would order their release after a conference with Atty.-Gen. Wickersham. The President met the Attorney-General in New York last night and sent an order for the release of Harlan, Hilton and Huggins.

The other men, Gallagher and Grace, convicted at the same time and for the same offense, are not included in the clemency extended to the other three. It is understood, however, that Senator Fletcher has asked President Taft to release Grace and Gallagher also.

The cases of the five men attracted much attention. Harlan is a successful lumberman of some wealth. President Taft first commuted his original sentence to six months and a fine of $5000. Harlan later applied for pardon, and the President refused it. Hilton was sentenced to six months and fined $1000 and Huggins received a like sentence and a fine. Grace, however, was sentenced to thirteen months and fined $1000, and Gallagher was sentenced to fifteen months and fined $1000.

The general charge against the men was that they had imported foreign laborers from New York to a lumber camp in Alabama and forcibly detained them.

Not an Easy Task to Find in Denver a Jury to Try the Henwood Murder Case.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DENVER, June 21.—The work of selecting a jury to hear the case against Frank Harold Henwood, who is charged with the murder of George F. Copeland, was resumed today. Both prosecution and defense are examining closely the records of prospective jurymen and peremptory challenges are not infrequent.

At adjournment of court this afternoon, the regular jury panel had been exhausted, and Judge Whitford ordered a special venire of six for tomorrow.

DEVICES OF GOLD FOR CORONATION.

Yellow Metal Enters Into the Imperial Mantle.

Crown Itself Is Worth a King's Ransom.

Order of Service to Be Held in Westminster.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, June 21.—The details of the coronation ceremonial at Westminster Abbey have been set forth at length in the official order of service.

Upon entering the church their Majesties are received by the singing of an anthem. Then, upon taking their places, the official recognition occurs. The Litany is then sung by two bishops, after which follows the beginning of the communion service and the sermon. The oath is administered by the archbishop, after which the ceremony of the anointing takes place. Then His Majesty receives the spurs and is girded with the sword, is invested with the armill and the royal robe, and handed the orb.

At this point follows the actual crowning by the archbishop, after which comes the presentation of the Holy Bible, the benediction, the inthronization, and the homage. There follows then the coronation of Her Majesty the Queen, the conclusion of the communion service, the prayer of consecration, and the "Te Deum Laudamus."

IN CRIMSON ROBES.

The King drives to the Abbey on coronation morning attired in a crimson satin under-robe reaching to the knees, over which he wears his crimson Parliamentary robes, which, however, he takes off on reaching the Abbey.

After the ceremony of the anointing he puts on in succession the colobium sindonis, or a sort of alb such as is worn by bishops; then comes the tunicle or dalmatic, followed by the stole and finally the imperial mantle, or pall.

The colobium sindonis is a simple lawn garment resembling a surplice.

The tunicle is a long coat of cloth of gold with wide sleeves. Just below the throat it meets in front and thence falls straight to the feet, thus completely enveloping the King's body. Embroidery four inches in width adorns its edges on each side where it meets, making a broad band of embroidery right down the center when the robe is fastened. There is no other decoration and the rest of the garment presents a unified surface of cloth of gold, which has a most brilliant effect, which is added to by the embroidery being of dull gold color, bearing a simple ecclesiastical design without emblematic significance.

CLOTH OF GOLD.

A band of cloth of gold three inches in width, with a fringe of bullion forms the stole, which is heavily embroidered with silk threads. A pink rose is the central ornament, to which are added eagles and other emblems, each of them divided from the next by a silver coronet. At each end there is a square panel bordered with blue and white and worked with the red cross of St. George, on a silver ground. The whole is lined with rose silk.

The imperial mantle, or pall, is similar to a cope. It fits just on the shoulders and is fastened in front by a clasp. It is of cloth of gold made of plate-gold threads worked upon silk. Beneath this silk basis is a stiff muslin and underneath this the lining of Indian red satin. A design of laurel leaves is embroidered on the cloth of gold and forms a background to the general adornment of the robe, consisting of emblems in various colors. The emblems, comprising the imperial crown, and the imperial eagle, the rose, shamrock and thistle, with the lotus flower of India, are encircled by wreaths of laurel leaves. The eagles are embroidered in silver, the lotus flowers in white, the rose, shamrock and thistle in their natural colors, and they are repeated over the whole surface of the robe, rendering it, with the laurel leaf ornamentation, very rich and magnificent. The emblem of the eagle is said to be derived from the imperial eagle of Rome.

THE ROYAL GARMENT.

The royal robe of State which the King wears while proceeding from the vestibule of the Abbey to the "theater" where he takes his place during the ceremony, is of rich crimson velvet, emblazoned with heavy gold lace. It has a train of great length and is lined throughout with royal ermine, hundreds of skins being necessary for this purpose. This is spotted with more than 10,000 small pieces of black fur.

After the ceremony his Majesty will leave the Abbey attired in a robe of royal purple, under which he will wear an under coat of purple. On his head he will wear the imperial crown.

The regalia, properly so called, brought into use at the coronation, comprise St. Edward's crown, the sceptre, the virge, or rod of power, the orb, or mound of sovereignty; the sword of mercy, or curtana; the two swords of justice, temporal and spiritual; the ring of alliance with the kingdom; the armillae, or bracelets; the spurs of chivalry and the scared was destroyed by the Republicans in and royal vestments.

The original St. Edward's crown 1649, and a replica was made of it in 1662 by Sir Robert Viner for the coronation of Charles II.

It is a very rich crown of gold, embellished with pearls and precious stones of many kinds, comprising diamonds, rubies, emeralds and sapphires.

CORONATION SCEPTRES.

Sceptres, which take a prominent place in the coronation ceremony, are more ancient than crowns as emblems of sovereign dignity.

The royal sceptre, or King's sceptre with the cross, is borne by the Monarch in his right hand. It is made of gold and is two feet nine inches in length, the upper part of it being wreathed in two bands of gems and enamel, while the foot widens out into a boss profusely ornamented and adorned with precious stones.

The virge, called the scepter with the dobe, is held in the King's left hand during the ceremony of investiture. This is quite plain, except at the knob and pommel and in the center, where it is jeweled. The distinction between the royal scepter and the virge is that the former has a cross at the top, while the latter has a dove. The virge is of gold, three feet seven inches in length, three inches in circumference at the handle and two and one-fourth inches at the top. A circle of table diamonds decorates the center and at several places there are precious stones. At the top beneath the white enameled dove, is a globe surrounded with rose diamonds and a cross.

The Queen's scepter with the cross is of gold ornamented with diamonds and other stones.

St. Edward's staff, carried before the King in the procession in the abbey, is of gold, and is four feet seven inches long.

The Queen's virge is a scepter of white ivory three feet one and one-half inches long. The pommel and ornaments are in gold, as well as the mound and cross at the top. It carries at the top a white enameled dove.

No fewer than four swords play a part in the ceremony of coronation. The principal of these is the sword of state, which is a two-handed weapon, with a splendid scabbard of crimson velvet, decorated with gold plates of the royal badges.

The next most important sword is the curtana, or pointless sword of mercy. It is forty inches long with the hilt, the blade itself being thirty-two inches in length and almost two inches in breadth.

The pointed sword of spiritual justice has a blade forty inches long, which is also carried drawn before the King. It is very similar to the curtana, except for the ornamentation of the blade.

The sword of temporal justice is a sharp-pointed weapon, with a scabbard in all respects similar to that of the curtana. It is carried drawn in the bearer's left hand in front of His Majesty.

The Great Golden Spurs, as the emblem of chivalry, are carried in the procession, and at the proper period in the ceremony are brought to the King by the Lord Great Chamberlain, who touches His Majesty's heels with them one after another and then returns them to the altar.

The ring of alliance, sometimes called in ancient writings "the wedding ring of England," is of pure gold, set with a large table ruby, violet in color, chased with the cross of St. George and surrounded by a circle of twenty-six diamonds.

THE QUEEN'S RING.

The coronation ring of the Queen is also of gold, set with a large table ruby and sixteen other smaller rubies.

LONDON ABLAZE WITH FLAGS.

extent, are the larger cities throughout the whole country. Decorations, illuminations and special festivities are the order everywhere.

Inside the silent and beautiful church at Westminster the coronation stage is set. The stage is not spacious—on the contrary, it is greatly compressed. The passages, narrow in the widest places, barely afford room enough to act the prescribed ceremonial. The only amplitude of dimensions lies in the direction of the dim, ornate arches of the roof.

Before the altar stand three chairs—one in the center and two at one side. The two at the side are the so-called "recognition" chairs, where the King and Queen sit immediately before the crowning. These chairs are modern reproductions of antiques. The chair in the center is the throne, centuries old, of plain wood, exactly as it was originally except for strips of purple on the velvet arms. At the left of the altar are the bishops' chairs. Before the throne is the dais, where the King and Queen will sit to receive the homage of archbishops, bishops, then the Prince of Wales, the Princess of the Blood Royal and the Peers of the Realm. The dais is draped in faded red. The Queen's chair is a step lower than the King's.

SEATS ASSIGNED.

At the left of the dais, facing the altar, will sit the members of the House of Commons and of the Lords, each house headed by its leading lights. Next to the Commons will sit the German Crown Prince. Immediately in front of him will be John Hays Hammond, the special Ambassador from the United States. In the same group will sit the other special representatives.

Opposite them Premier Asquith and the other Cabinet members and their wives, Premier Laurier of Canada, Premier Botha of United South Africa, Premier Fisher of Australia, Premier Ward of New Zealand, and other prominent colonials will sit.

United States Ambassador Reid and Mrs. Reid will occupy seats in the row with the French, German and Russian Ambassadors.

Seven thousand people will pack the abbey like herrings in a box. One observer has described the prospective assembly as a "tabloid of the world's lucky members."

The carpets used for the occasion in Westminster are the oldest and finest Persians, some lent by Lord Curzon and others by various private owners. The carpet over which the coronation party will pass to the altar is one long strip of light blue on which are worked in dark blue the initials of King George and Queen Mary, with their respective crowns, as well as the crosses of St. George, St. Andrew, and St. Patrick, and the rose and thistle and shamrock of the United Kingdom.

Several famous artists have viewed the set stage, one of them being the brilliant Louis Gillot, regarded by his compatriots as the French Turner, who has been commissioned by the French government to paint a picture of the naval review at Spithead for presentation to Britain and to give the world his impressions of the scene in Westminster Abbey.

Tomorrow's finished canvas will compare with the canvases by Solomon.

All acquainted with Gillot's genius expect a magnificent picture. He was made a Knight of the Legion of Honor recently by the President of France, while the artist was standing before one of his own great canvases in the salon.

Gillot has an unequaled gift for portraying mammoth industrial works, with full chimneys and flaming furnaces. The artist has presented London brilliantly by painting President Loubet's visit to Guildhall. Many expect that in the abbey picture he will touch the highest mark of his career.

MONARCHICAL FORMS APPEAL TO BRITONS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, June 21.—The British nation shows not the slightest sign of diminishing favor towards monarchical government. A half century of quiet life under Queen Victoria has been succeeded by a stirring decade, which has seen a coronation and two state funerals. Yet the public appetite is unsatisfied, but rather augmented in its enthusiasm for royalty and kingly display.

Never before has this enthusiasm reached such a high pitch, and the ceremonies attendant upon tomorrow's great event, the coronation of King George V., appear likely to be marked by a degree of excitement and public fervor unrivalled by any state ceremonies in the past. Further, this tribute is manifestly accorded more to the monarchy than the monarch, for it cannot be said that either King George V or Queen Mary is as beloved as was Victoria, or so popular and esteemed as were King Edward and Queen Alexandra.

To the casual observer, the countless population of the city, with its myriads of foreign and provincial visitors, did not go to sleep tonight, and the scenes until midnight vividly recall those enacted when the news of the relief of Mafeking was received. After that for a few hours there was a slight subsidence before the inrush from the suburbs of great crowds to watch the coronation procession and secure places.

The King and Queen have not for a moment relaxed their strong sense of public duty, which has characterized them since they mounted the throne. Although Their Majesties have long and exhausting ceremonies confronting them, they spent the day as busily as any previous day of this exciting period, receiving coronation visitors, attending to matters of state, and dropping in on the horse show at Olympia. Wherever they appeared they were the objects of unbounded enthusiasm.

The eve of the coronation found London at the highest point of fever heat. Immense crowds of preceding days became tonight seething masses, all determined to gain vantage ground to view the morning's royal procession.

Streets in the west end were almost impassable, but everybody was good humored and ready to cheer at the slightest provocation. The passage of foreign princes to and from the dinner given by the Duke and Duchess of Connaught gave many opportunities for this. Outside the residence of John Hays Hammond, the special representative of the President of the United States, thousands gathered to await his return from his audience with Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, and the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Hammond for the banquet.

Worried.

BRITISH AUTHORITIES WILL BE RELIEVED WHEN SOVEREIGNS ARE SAFELY CROWNED.

Danger of Untoward Event With Millions of People Crowding London Keeps Officials Anxious, for They Are Responsible for Visitors as Well as Royal Britons. Panic Is Feared and Anarchists Are Watched.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Thursday, June 22. —[Exclusive Dispatch.] Profound will be the relief of the English authorities when today's coronation ceremony is over and the King and Queen have returned safely to Buckingham Palace from Westminster Abbey.

The responsibility resting on them is enormous. They are not only accountable for the preservation of order in the streets traversed by the royal procession, but for the protection of the sovereigns and all their foreign and imperial guests within as well as without the walls of the abbey.

The thoroughfares along which the King and the Queen will pass and the adjoining streets will be crowded as never before. For London's population of more than 7,000,000 inhabitants has been reinforced for today by hundreds of thousands—nay, perhaps millions—of visitors from the provinces, including an army of 50,000 troops over and above the ordinary metropolitan garrison.

There is always the danger with such crowds as these of a panic which may be started by a trifle or by some unforseen, contretemps, and which may result in some frightful catastrophe such as occurred at the coronation of the present Emperor and Empress of Russia, when the dense masses of peasants gathered on the plain outside Moscow to hail their sovereign, suddenly became stricken with unreasonable fear and stampeded like a drove of cattle with the result that more than three thousand lives were lost under the eyes of the Czar and Czarina. Crowds are always unreasoning and unaccountable and no matter what precautions are adopted, are just as likely as not to get beyond control, with fatal results.

Even still greater, however, is the fear by the police authorities of some murderous outrage by anarchists or ordinary notoriety-seeking homicidal cranks. There is not only the possibility of some shot being fired, or some bomb being thrown, at the royal procession, but there is peril of an explosion occurring in the abbey itself.

The English are thoroughly aware that the anarchists bitterly resent their activity during the last six or eight months, especially since the memorable Sydney-street siege, when troops and artillery were called into action to destroy an anarchist stronghold.

The "Reds" have been threatening ever since to avenge the loss of their comrades and to get even with the authorities in London and today's coronation may be regarded by them as a favorable opportunity for the execution of their fell designs.

In view of the fact that there will be present today in Westminster Abbey not only England's King and Queen, but the rulers of Norway, Mecklenburg-Strelitz, Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Hesse, and of Monaco, as well as the crown princes of Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Greece, Montenegro, Roumania, Servia, Bulgaria and Turkey, and the presumptive to the Wurtemburg and Austro-Hungarian throne, it will readily be understood that an anarchist outrage in Westminster Abbey today would create a dynastic disturbance of such international magnitude as to shake the monarchial system of Europe to its foundations.

"GOD SAVE THE KING," LONDON SINGS, "FROM MISFORTUNES OF THE GEORGES."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Amid the universal gayety and the general solemnity that mark the festivities of coronation week there is lurking in a corner of the English nation at heart a feeling of apprehension that is born of a national pride that George V will be able to make his reign distinguished, if in no other reason, by the breaking of the ill-luck of the Georges.

A hoodoo seems to have hung over the throne of England while the four preceding Georges sat on it, and thus the paeans over the accession of the fifth George scarcely serve to drown the only discordance that comes echoing down the centuries. The Georges have left black marks in English history.

The House of Hanover came to the English throne with George I in 1714. The intrigues and jealousies of the King's feminine followers led to many bitter court quarrels and financial corruption. Parliamentary squabbles also came up. His favorites were notorious, the last one being the Duchess of Kendal. In 1727 he went for a visit to Germany, where he died.

George II, who then came to the throne, constantly fought with his son, whom he treated with the utmost severity. Important events in his reign included the beginning of the Pitt ministry, the battle of Culloden and the starting of the Seven Years War.

The next George to come to the throne in 1760 was the grandson of George II. Intrigue, jealousy and public and private corruption surrounded him in his youth and ascended the throne with unlimited prejudices fostered by the women and pages. His unreasonable despotic attitude toward the American colonies brought on the American Revolution and separated the two countries and gave birth to the United States. Insanity finally came to George III. One attack followed another and he left a memorable heritage to his son, George IV, who ascended the throne in 1820. His yuothful days were marked by drunkenness, association with low companions and other evils. He treated his family shabbily and contemptuously and was notorious as a "welcher" on gambling debts. He got into desperate straits for money and to improve his fortune he married the wealthy Caroline of Brunswick in 1790, leaving the woman he had loved. He ruled ten years, when he was a voluptuary, and his evil life finally drove him to blindness and insanity.

"God save the King," London is shouting this week.

"God save the King from the misfortunes of the other Georges" is the answer deep down in the English heart

TO INVESTIGATE "TITLEITIS."

Pretty Soon Congress Will Inquire Why Some Women Still Nail Down Their Parlor Carpets.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Investigation of "chronic titleitis" described as a disease of "rich, trust-made women," is urged in a resolution introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Sabath of Illinois, who would have the State Department inquire why only two dozen American peeresses have been granted permission to take part in the coronation ceremonies in England and to ascertain the amount this country is sending across the Atlantic anually to maintain the titles.

After demanding that light be thrown on the discrimination shown against other American peeresses, the resolution calls for information as to the number of unhappy marriages and the amount of American money being spent in the chase after coronets.

The information, says the resolution, is desired so that this government may judge "to what extent our country is being benefitted by this trade."

STREETS OF LONDON ARE DENSELY PACKED

Americans Amazed at Stolid Briton's Enthusiasm.

Seat Prices Tumble; Speculators Are in Agony.

Line Forms Early for Long Vigil Before Ceremony.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] London tonight has reached the acme of excitement over tomorrow's great coronation pageant.

Since early morning the streets have been packed with a dense, unbroken throng of sightseers. All pretence of business has been abandoned.

Americans, who are here, stand in amazement at the hold this outworn ceremonial has taken upon the minds of the stolid Anglo-Saxons, who all seem almost demented under the influence of its spell. They wander for hours along the processional route, all joining in the high festival over the crowning of their King, who as yet personally excites no enthusiasm whatever. Today he went from Buckingham Palace to the horse show without arousing a single hearty cheer.

They are laboring under a species of wild delirium of imperial pride and loyalty. Undoubtedly the assemblage of envoys from all quarters of the earth to pay homage to their King has overwhelmed the imagination of the Britisher.

AMERICANS ARE NUMEROUS.

Americans have been noticeably more numerous especially today. They have crossed in large numbers from Paris, find plenty of hotel accommodation and are among the largest purchasers of seats to view the procession. Even tonight many seats in the very best stands are not let, though prices have tumbled from 200 to 300 per cent. Seats along Friday's long processional route, which are a drug at a dollar, will furnish an admirable viewpoint. The stand speculators were ruined at the last coronation by the King's illness; this time their own greediness has been their undoing.

J. Pierpont Morgan has paid top prices, paying $5000 for the two top floors of Gloucester House, equivalent to four months' rent. The flats were unfurnished; now they are luxuriously fitted up and have a side aproach from Park Lane.

Mr. Morgan's guests will be Mrs. Robert Bacon, her two sons; Mrs. Barnes, Mr. Morgan's sister; Mrs. Morris K. Jessus, her niece, Miss Cuyler, the George Widener party, the E. T. Stotesbury party and the William H. Moore party.

ASTOR HOST TO NURSES.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt's flat in the same building will also contain a party, but on account of the great height it can only get a birdseye view of the parade. In one respect Mr. Vanderbilt's prospect is unique, for it takes in the start of the procession from Buckingham Palace, a quarter of a mile off, and commands it again from the Ritz Hotel to Hyde Park corner and down Constitution Hill to the palace gates.

William Waldorf Astor's house has a broad terrace overlooking the route along the Mall. He has lent it to 300 selected nurses from the London hospitals, whom he is entertaining.

Charles M. Schwab has taken an expensive room at Charing Cross, where he is entertaining a large party of Americans.

Mrs. Ava Astor has been invited by the Duchess of Portland to the peers' stand outside Westminster Abbey.

Otto Kahn has leased for the day the house at No. 95 Piccadilly for $2500. He will have for guests Mrs. Miller Graham's party, the Frederick Townsend Martin party, the Mrs. Charles B. Alexander party and the William Crocker party.

Mrs. John Hays Hammond, wife of America's special Ambassador, announced today: "I want all my American friends about." She will have as many at Stratton House during the parade as the place will accommodate.

All the Belmonts will be among Lord Rothschild's guests at Hyde Park corner.

LINES FORM EARLY.

Tonight the crowd had a dress rehearsal of the illuminations which was immensely effective, especially on Piccadilly, where the street was like daylight from innumerable electrically-lighted devices. Wheeled traffic was stopped at 8 o'clock in the evening. At 10 o'clock the "early birds" were already taking favorable points for tomorrow's show. These enthusiasts are largely women and girls who came provided with refreshments to sit cheerfuly on the curb for an eighteen-hour vigil—for the procession will not pass Piccadilly until nearly 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Like all London crowds, this one is extremely orderly, obeying the uplifted hand of a solitary policeman as if hypnotized. The danger is not from deliberate disorder, but from panic.

Tonight, even with the gates open, there have been some ugly crushes at the barricades. The King is almost forgotten in the turmoil over his coronation.

REFUSES TO DISBAND.

Col. Buelna Hates to Quit the War Game and Gets Arrested As a Consequence.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CANANEA (Mex.) June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Refusing to disband his command and offering to fight it out in the cemetery near here, Col. Buelna has started a factional fight from which trouble is expected. Gen. Lomeli, commanding general in Northern Sonora, sent an order to Col. Buelna, through Col. Giron, for the former to disband his forces.

Col. Buelna protested against the order, saying he and his men had fought in the battles of Agua Prieta and Sahuaripa and minor engagements and that he did not promise to disband them. Buelna was arrested and soon was in jail.

No former factional fight has been so open and trouble is expected, as Buelna has many followers and likewise Lomeli, who issued the order.

His Robustness Caused Customs Officials to Marvel and So Did the Drug.

[Associated Press, Night Report.]

SEATTLE, June 21.—When Sam Spevak, a tailor, walked down the gang plank of a steamer from Victoria today his figure was unusually robust. Customs officers found he was wearing a well-fitted opium vest which contained sixteen five-tael tins of opium valued at $400. A letter written in Chinese from a Chinese merchant in Vancouver, B. MURDER-ARSON CHARGE MADE.

MEXICAN CONSUL PROSECUTING REBEL GENERAL.

Not Only Leader, but Every Member of Band That Took Tia Juana, Killing Its Defenders, Will Be Relentlessly Pursued and Must Suffer Same Fate.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN DIEGO, June 21.—With the arrest of Carl Rhys Pryce in Los Angeles yesterday on a charge of murder and arson preferred by the Mexican Consul in San Diego, Dr. Joaquin Diaz Prieto, begins one of the most widespread criminal prosecutions ever undertaken on the Pacific Coast. State Senator Leroy A. Wright is acting as legal adviser to the Mexican Consul and the complaint and proceedings were drawn and instituted by him. It is the purpose of the Mexican Consul not only to prosecute Pryce, but every member of the rebel band that took Tia Juana, May 9, and killed its defenders in so doing. Most of the names or aliases assumed by the members of the band have been learned and warrants are out for their arrest on the same charge that was preferred against Pryce. Among the number are Joshua A. Reed and Adjt. Laflin. Gen. Mosby is wanted on a charge of violation of the neutrality laws of the United States, but this is not in connection with the action started by Dr. Prieto.

The men wanted on the criminal charges preferred by the Mexican Consul will be arrested wherever found in the United States, and if the contention of Senator Wright is sustained they cannot be released on habeas corpus proceedings, but must be turned over to the Mexican courts for trial.

It is believed the extradition proceedings will be instituted at Washington by the Mexican officials, as fast as arrests are made. The name and record of every man who participated in the battle of Tia Juana is believed to be known to the United States Secret Service and little trouble will be experienced in arresting them if they come over the American line.

Senator Wright said this afternoon: "During my investigation of the neutrality laws recently I found a decision by Chief Justice Fuller of the United States Supreme Court which clearly points out the way for the arrest and extradition of all who participated in the Tia Juana raid on the charge of murder and arson.

"In 1892 a raid was made on the town of San Ygnacio, Mex., by a man named Inez Luiz, and associates, who later sought refuge in the State of Texas. A Mexican Consul named Oruelos, residing in Texas, swore to a complaint before the United States Commissioner charging Ruiz with murder and arson. He was arrested and habeas corpus proceedings were brought, based on the theory that Ruiz was engaged in war and hence was a political offender and not subject to extradition. The Supreme Court held that he could not be released on habeas corpus, so that he was delivered to the Mexican authorities, tried and shot.

"This case and the extradition treaty with Mexico were followed in the matter of the arrest of Gen. Pryce. On the day the Mexican citizens charged with violating the neutrality laws were discharged by United States Commissioner Christian complaints were drawn for the Mexicans charging Pryce with murder and arson. These complaints were sworn to the Mexican Consul, J. Diaz Prieto, before the United States Commissioner, who submitted them to the Department of Justice. After a most careful investigation, warrants were issued on the complaints and Pryce was arrested.

"At the time the complaints were filed, Gov. Vega of Ensenada was supplied with copies and the Ensenada authorities are taking the necessary steps to have Pryce extradited."

PAPA TAKES BRIDE FROM HER GROOM.

Newly Wed San Franciscan Is Locked in Jail.

And Thus the Course of True Love Runs, Etc.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Kenneth McAlpine, a San Francisco automobile dealer, is lodged in the County Jail here, as the result of a sensational episode in Gilroy last night, when his bride of three days, formerly Florence Alma Smith of San Francisco, was stolen from him by her father, James B. Smith, vice-president of the Western Fuel Company. He is awaiting a charge of perjury Smith has promised to make in Santa Rosa.

McAlpine has been boarding in the home of Mrs. James Smith in San Francisco. On Saturday, last, he and Miss Florence Alma Smith, daughter of the woman, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. B. Ross Main, left San Francisco on an automobile run to the Geysers in Lake county.

MARRIED IN SANTA ROSA.

When the party arrived in Santa Rosa, McAlpine and Miss Smith decided to be married. They went to the County Clerk's office there and procured a marriage license and were shortly afterwards married by the Rev. Father John M. Cassin, Mr. Main acting as best man and Mrs. Main attending the bride.

The bridal party stayed a day or two at the Geysers and yesterday afternoon, Mr. McAlpine brought his bride to his old home in Gilroy to see his parents. McAlpine's father is J. G. McAlpine, a Gilroy jeweler.

Last evening the bride's father drove up in an automobile, accompanied by Constable Jack White. Young McAlpine was told he was wanted on the charge of perjury. The angered father-in-law alleged that his daughter is only a little over 15 years of age and that McAlpine swore falsely when he purcured the marriage license in Santa Rosa.

McAlpine, his bride, her father and Constable White drove here in the automobile and the groom was locked in the County Jail.

GO AWAY TOGETHER.

The father and his daughter drove away in the auto and have not been heard from since.

Louis O'Neil, who represents the father-in-law, stated today that Smith had gone to Santa Rosa to swear to a complaint charging McAlpine with perjury. It was stated at the sheriff's office that James Smith, the father-in-law, has been divorced from the bride's mother for a number of years and has since remarried. The further information was given out there that McAlpine's wife has not lived with her father since the divorce and has been cared for by her mother.

McAlpine says the girl gave him her age as eighteen and that they swore no oath at Santa Rosa. He has instructed his attorney to prepare a charge of false imprisonment against Constable White and Smith.

So Seattle Girl Went to Her Lover and Captain Will Marry Them at Sea.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Cast off by her childless old uncle, James Grisdale, pioneer logger of this State, his niece and ward, Grace Grisdale, was rescued by a police officer last night on the water front, following an encounter between the rich and irascible old man and the girl's sweetheart, C. G. Pike, aged 35, chief engineer of the fishing schooner Redfield.

Grace, 15 years old, pretty, blue eyed and weeping when her uncle and lover quarrelled, was taken to the police matron. Today Judge Dykemann, after hearing the case, released the girl, into the custody of Pike, and Grace went aboard the Redfield, where, on reaching the high seas, they will be married tonight or tomorrow morning, by Capt. McKenna of the Redfield.

Grace is the sole heir of the old logger, who is worth $100,000, and those who know him believe he will become reconciled to the girl's romance, and make his will in her favor.

Tenyo Maru Sails From San Francisco With Four Pairs Newly Weds for Oriental Honeymoon.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Brides, near-brides, would-be-brides, and a liberal sprinkling of old maids gathered on the society deck of the Japanese liner Tenyo Maru which sailed for the far East at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

It was a veritable cupid ship and the little mythical rascal was on the bridge trying to elbow Capt. Ernest Bent out of his job.

Rice? Well, rather showers of it. Old shoes too. For four bridal couples are enough to make any ship company happy.

It was not until the lusty lunged tom-tom was severely beaten as a signal for all visitors to leave the ship that the relatives and friends of the four happy young couples hurriedly scampered down the gang plank.

The following were the victims of cupid, who sailed on the Tenyo:

GIRL DISAPPEARS.

New Jersey Parents Lately Arrived in San Francisco Prostrated With Grief for Little Daughter.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Esther Chapman, the 12-year-old girl who disappeared from her home at the Gough apartments on Monday afternoon, has not been found and the gravest fears are entertained for her safety by her parents. The mother is almost prostrated with grief.

When the little girl left home she was dressed in a blue and white striped suit with a red sweater and white hat, trimmed with blue ribbons. It was the dress she usually wore on Sunday and her parents and the police are puzzled to account for the fact that she attired herself in her best garb before leaving home.

The Chapmans are strangers in this city, having come from Plainfield, N. J., two weeks ago. Esther had no playmates or acquaintances here.

The girl left her apartment during the absence of her parents. She was seen to leave the house by the proprietor, who says Esther laughed and talked for a few moments and appeared to be in the best of spirits.

Husband Alleges That Magalia Woman, Suing Him for Divorce, Transferred Her Affections.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OROVILLE, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sensational charges were hurled back and forth today when the divorce suit of Mrs. Mabel Delro of Magalia, against G. W. Delro was called for trial.

Mrs. Delro is suing for divorce upon the ground of extreme cruelty. The husband, in a cross-complaint, alleges she got all the community property in her own name, and then transferred her affection to R. R. Smith.

Mrs. Delro, on the stand, charged that her husband had on numerous occasions cursed and slapped her. Her main reliance, however, she placed upon an occurrence in their Magalia home, where she says he drew a revolver and threatened to kill her unless she promised to send Smith away. She denies that their relations had been improper.

When Coffee Shows What It Has Been Doing.

"Of late years coffee has disagreed with me," writes a matron from Rome, N. Y.

Its lightest punishment being to make me 'logy' and dizzy, and it seemed to thicken my blood.

"The heaviest was when it upset my stomach completely, destroying my appetite and making me nervous and irritable, and sent me to my bed. After one of these attacks, in which I nearly lost my life, I concluded to quit the coffee and try Postum.

"It went right to the spot! I found it not only a most palatable and refreshing beverage, but a food as well.

"All my ailments, the 'loginess' and dizziness, the unsatisfactory condition of my blood, my nervousness and irritability disappeared in short order and my sorely afflicted stomach began quickly to recover. I began to rebuild and have steadily continued until now. Have a good appetite and am rejoicing in sound health which I owe to the use of Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

CAR GRAFT CASES CLOSED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 21.—The Illinois Central car repair "graft" cases were practically settled yesterday. Men indicted are to go free and the whole matter will be brought to a close within the next week, according to the Record-Herald. The fact that the graft cases were settled became known when the civil suit against Charles L. Ewing, former superintendent of lines north, was dismissed. Ewing, with Frank B. Harriman, former superintendent of the road; John M. Taylor, former general storekeeper; Orlando F. Keefe, former superintendent of transportation, and J. E. Baker, former assistant superintendent of machinery, were sued jointly by the road for approximately $1,500,000.

DISCIPLINE VIA THE HOSPITAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 21.—Tipplers and brawlers will be barred from the benefits in the new hospital department to be established by the Illinois Central railroad. Employees inclined to the liquor habit are warned they need not look for treatment in hospitals provided by the company. Officials of the road declare that the provision will serve as an excellent disciplinary measure.

DISCUS THROWER HURT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

JOLIET (Ill.) June 21.—Merritt Griffin, who represented the Chicago Athletic Association in the Olympic games in London in 1910, and one of the greatest amateur discus throwers in the world, was probably fatally injured here yesterday in a runaway accident. Griffin, it is said, sustained a fractured skull and injury to his spine. He has been in a paralytic state since the accident.

FORMER CASHIER INDICTED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) June 21.—Joseph D. Bren, former cashier of the University of Minnesota, who several weeks ago said he had been robbed of over $12,000, has been indicted by the Hennepin county grand jury on a charge of embezzlement. He is charged with having taken $31,318 belonging to the university.

ASLEEP OVER TWO MONTHS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

VANDALIA (Ill.) June 21.—Miss Hazel Schmidt, who has been asleep in the home of her father here for sixty-five days, awoke last night and asked for something to eat, but soon relapsed into sleep. For three months previous to going to sleep Miss Schmidt, according to her mother, appeared drowsy. Every means known to medical science has been employed to arouse her, but with little or no effect.

PASTOR BALKS AT THE CLIMB.

ARTIST WEDS HERMIT HUNDRED FEET FROM GROUND.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

GRAND JUCTION (Colo.) June 21.—Standing before an altar of quartz and granite carved and fashioned by the hands of the bride on a narrow ledge 100 feet from the ground, and reached by a trail hewn out of solid rock by the bridegroom, Miss Beatrice Farnham, the Boston artist and sculptress, and John Otto, eccentric hermit, prospector and trail builder were married yesterday in the National Monument Park, of which Otto recentlyy has been appointed superintendent.

It originally had been planned to hold the ceremony on the top of Independence Rock a lofty spire towering over 500 feet in the air, the pinnacle of which no one has reached before, except Otto, who for months has been busy cutting steps in the side of the rock spire, but the minister balked and a compromise was effected. Before the ceremony the bride cooked the wedding feast over a camp fire, then donned her wedding gown of white satin, with long bridal veil and made her way to the foot of the cliff, where the groom, in blue serge coat and khaki trousers awaited beside the minister, who was clad in the full robes of the Episcopal clergy. At the altar Otto specified that the words "honor and obey" should be omitted from the service.

"It's silly," he declared. "I never heard of a woman obeying her husband, anyyway, and what is the use of making them lie every time they stand up before a minister."

The ceremony over, the bridal party descended from the cliff and Otto burned incense in the form of cedar berries before his bride. Then together they planted a young spruce tree, solemnly declaring that it should grow as long as their love continued.

Later when the wedding gown had been exchanged for a mountain climbing costume, the newly married pair scaled the Independence Spire and on its pinnacle, where they had planned to be wedded first, repeated a marriage ceremony of their own devising.

The explosion of a number of sticks of dynamite concluded the wedding festivities and Otto immediately took up his work of perfecting his "stairway" on the side of the rock, while his bride resumed her task of carving the Declaration of Independence on the other side of the high natural spire.

Son in New Orleans May Relieve Him of One of His Wives Who Is His Mother.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH (Kan.) June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Peter C. Sharp may yet find a way out of the difficulty into which the presence of his two wives has plunged him. Sharp today received a letter from his son, William Sharp, a locomotive engineer of New Orleans, whom he has not seen in more than twenty years, saying he would be in Pittsburgh tomorrow.

"My son is anxious to take his mother, Ann Catharine Sharp, to his home in New Orleans," Mr. Sharp said. "If he does that, it will mean that Louisa and I will be left alone again where we will be happy. I don't want to drive Ann Catharine away, but if she wishes to go to New Orleans I will not attempt to prevent her."

Neither Sharp nor Mrs. Ann Catharine Sharp have seen their son since he disposed of a farm given him by his father in southeast Missouri years ago.

pulp paper. It prevents importation of paper from Canada free, or of paper into Canada from here, free.

"As the Root amendment provides that the pulp and paper provision in the act shall not take effect until Canada admits all of our paper free of duty, and as Canada does not, under the terms of the agreement, admit our paper free of duty until we admit all of her paper free of duty, and as we have a provision or condition precedent in the act to the effect that we will not admit paper coming from a Province free of duty if made from pulp wood that might not have been exported to us, we would leave it within the power of any one Province in Canada to prevent the taking effect of any portion of these provisions and thereby prevent the admission of any paper free, merely by refusing to remove the restriction it makes in its contract on the exportation of pulp wood.

ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN.

"If this power be left in each individual Province of Canada, it is absolutely certain the provision in the act is not worth the paper it is written on."

Mr. Mann contended that only by establishing competition between the private wood lands and the Crown lands could the Provinces be brought to remove the restrictions which they have placed on the importation into this country free of duty of wood or wood pulp from Crown lands.

"The crown land pulp wood and the private land pulp wood are in competition in Canada. If we let in paper made from the private land pulp wood free and charge a duty of $5.75 a ton on the paper made from the crown land pulp wood, the latter will be at such a disadvantage that the province which is the owner of it will naturally seek to secure the same benefits for crown land pulp wood that the private wood land enjoys, and therefore take off the prohibition on exportation.

The American reader, the American school children, American newspaper, the American manufacturers of news print paper, the Canadian manufacturer of news print paper, the Canadian owner of pulp wood and the Canadian pulp wood forests all would benefit, Mr. Mann said, by the pulp and paper section of the agreement as made by the House.

"It tends," he added, "to make available the raw material and to prevent undue increase in price of the finished product; but the Root amendment will render the whole provision ineffective and of no value. It practically destroys the agreement"

Representative Malby of New York, received permission to file a reply to the remarks of Mr. Mann.

Solicitude.

one with access to the remedies which bore them need have died from any cause other than accident or old age.

"Unfortunately, the statements were not true.

"Prior to the recent decision of the Supreme Court, the officers charged with the enforcement of the law regarded false and misleading statements concerning the curative value of nostrums as misleading and there was a general acquiescence in this view by the proprietors of the nostrums.

PRETENDED CURES.

"Many pretended cures, in consequence, were withdrawn from the market and the proprietors of many other alleged cures eliminated false and extravagant claims from their labels either voluntarily or under the compulsion of criminal prosecution. Nearly 100 criminal prosecutions on this charge were concluded in the Federal Courts by pleas of guilty and the imposition of fines. More than 150 cases of the same nature, involving some of the rankest frauds by which the American people were ever deceived, are pending now and must be dismissed.

"I fear, if no remedial legislation be granted at this session, that the good which has already been accomplished will be undone, and the people of the country will be deprived of a powerful safeguard against dangerous frauds.

"The statute can be easily amended to include the evil I have described. I recommend that this be done at once as a matter of emergency."

NOMINATED IN HEBRAIC.

THE JEWS WANT TAFT AGAIN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The indorsement of the orthodox Jewish congregation of this city for his renomination for the Presidency and his election in 1912, was accorded President Taft last night. The meeting was attended by Chief Rabbis Margolis of New York and Levinthal of Philadelphia, and many of the most prominent Jews of Washington. A number of speeches in praise of Mr. Taft's liberal policy as exhibited toward the Jews were made. Their treatment in this country was contrasted with the persecution in Russia. The entire meeting was conducted in Hebrew.

WHITE HOUSE VISITORS.

TWENTY THOUSAND OF THEM

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 21.—A crowd estimated at 20,000 last night took advantage of the invitation extended the public by President Taft, and visited the White House grounds. As on the night before, the silver wedding anniversary of the President and Mrs. Taft, the grounds were ablaze with varicolored electric lights. The President was not visible during the night, but Mrs. Taft, her sister, Mrs. Anderson, of Cincinnati, and Miss Helen Taft sat on the broad veranda for an hour watching the crowds. The Marine Band rendered a concert.

THE WORLD A BEDLAM.

That's the View of a Doctor Who Conducts a Sanatorium Which, However, Isn't the World.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

DENVER, June 21.—"We're getting crazier as a nation and as individuals every day. Men are becoming more refined in their vices, and, as they do, insanity increases."

This was the statement made yesterday by Dr. Hubert Work, in charge of the Woodcroft Sanatorium, Pueblo, before the convention of the American Psychopathological Association, in session here.

"A complex social life, the terrible modern-day competition in business, vice, disaster and alcohol are the reasons for the increase of all sorts of mental disorder," he said.

Sixty-second Congress.

DIRECT ELECTION STRIKES A SNAG.

House Refuses to Concur in Bristow Amendment.

Measure Goes Back to Senate for Reconsideration.

Wrangle Whether States or Congress Shall Control.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The House of Representatives today by a vote of 172 to 112—practically a strict party vote—refused to concur in the Bristow amendment adopted by the Senate to the House resolution providing for the direct election of Senators.

The Bristow amendment leaves with Congress the power to regulate the time and manner of holding these elections while the resolution passed by the House during the early days of the present session would change the examination so "that the times, places and manner of holding elections of Senators shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereafter."

HOW THEY VOTED

Representative Sells, Republican, of Tennessee, voted against the amendment, while Mr. Burke, Democrat, of Wisconsin, voted for it. Representative Berger, Socialist, of Wisconsin, voted for it. The resolution therefore is returned to the Senate for reconsideration by that body as to whether it will reverse its former action.

The motion that the House concur in the Senate amendment was made by Representative Olmstead of Pennsylvania. Those who spoke in favor of it were Representatives Olmstead, Young of Michigan, Norris, Moon of Pennsylvania, Cannon, Prouty, Jackson, Madden and Mann, all Republicans; and those who spoke against it were Representatives Rucker of Missouri, Cullop, Hardy and Clarke of Florida, Sherley, Witherspoon, Sisson, Hughes of New Jersey, Randall, Richardson and Heflin, all Democrats.

DEMOCRATS FOR STATES.

The Democrats proposed that the people of the states could safely be entrusted with the power of controlling the elections of their representatives in the Upper House while the Republicans contended that such delegation of authority would take from Congress the power which it should retain. Representative Rucker of Missouri, in charge of the resolution on the Democratic side, declared "it was the command of the American people that the election of United State Senators be taken out of the market.

"I have no fear of the people," he said, "but of the combinations behind closed doors which trample on the most sacred rights of the people. Give the States just a little more power and we will take the lumber trust, the sugar and all other trusts out of politics."

Representative Mann, on the other other side, asserted that this was an attempt of the Democrats to accomplish indirectly what they had been unable to do directly.

TAUNTS DEMOCRATS.

"You are afraid," he added, "that your grandfather clauses will be unconstitutional."

"I have spoken on the stump for ten years in favor of the direct election of Senators," said Representative Prouty of Iawo, "but I would prefer to leave the Constitution as it now stands rather than yield any of the power of the Federal government for the States"

The resloution when it is returned to the Senate, is expected to precipitate a lively discussion, but it is anticipated that it will go to conference in the immediate future.

BANDITS IN HOLY LAND.

Iowa Man Witnesses the Hold-up of a Party of American Tourists Near Galilee.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

BOSTON, June 21.—In the wilds of Palestine hold-ups are pulled off in approved style, according to Dr. Ira D. Payne of Des Moines, just returned from a trip through Egypt and the Holy Land. He witnessed an encounter between brigands and American tourists.

"While we were between Galilee and Zammaren in the wildest part of Palestine," said Dr. Payne, "the party just ahead of us were attacked by masked brigands. We were amazed when we saw what was going on. The travelers were asked to hold up their hands and the robbers went through their pockets and baggage with the precision of experts. When we reached the scene, which we viewed from a rocky outlook several miles away, the bandits had disappeared, and the travelers were penniless."

MEXICAN TROOPS DELAYED.

Washouts Hinder Soldiers En Route to Lower California to Rout the Magonistas.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Three special troop trains bearing the 1500 Federals from the garrison at Chihuahua destined for service in Lower California failed to arrive here as per schedule this afternoon, having been delayed by washouts on the Mexican Central.

The breaks in the track have been repaired and it is expected the soldiers wil larrive here about 3 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Mexican officials in Juarez today arranged with the United States customs officials in El Paso for the passage of 600 horses in bond through this port for the use of the troops in Lower California. The transportation equipment for carrying the troops to a point across the line from Yuma is in readiness here, having arrived yesterday from the Pacific division of the Southern Pacific.

Col. Escudero is in command of the troops, according to advices received here. American soldiers will act as convoy during the passage through the United States.

ADMITS THAT AMERICAN OWNS STOCK IN MICHIGAN SUGAR REFINING COMPANY

Congressmen Find Conflict in Testimony of Warren of the Beet Concern and That Given Before Ways and Means Committee Two Years Ago That the Philadelphia Producers Were Not Financially Interested.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 21.—That the American Sugar Refining Company owns 37 per cent. of the common stock and 55 per cent. of the preferred stock of the Michigan Sugar Refining Company, a beet sugar corporation, controlling six refineries in Michigan, was declared today by C. B. Warren, president and general counsel of the beet sugar concern, in testimony before the House "Sugar Trust" Committee of Inquiry. The Michigan company was organized in 1906, according to Mr. Warren, six independent companies having been amalgamated with a capitalization of about $9,000,000 issued, and an authorized capital of $12,000,000.

Henry O. Havemeyer was interested in acquiring large blocks of stock in the independent companies before the formation of the company, he said, but the controlling interest always has remained with the Michigan investors, who still hold 63 per cent. of the stock.

SOUGHT OUTSIDE CAPITAL.

"Did you represent the American Sugar Refining Company to Mr. Henry O. Havemeyer in seeking to bring about a consolidation of the independent beet sugar companies of Michigan in 1906?" asked Chairman Hardwick.

"All of these companies sought to have outside capital brought into Michigan for their benefit," said Mr. Warren. "They approached Mr. Havemeyer, or his representatives, in every instance except one and those interests paid par for all the stock purchased."

"Did you advise Mr. Havemeyer in the negotiations?"

"I advised him as to the condition of the companies and matters of that kind."

"Did you ever advise him as to whether the efforts of the American Sugar Refining Company in that matter might be involved as violations of the Sherman anti-trust law?"

"No, I never did anything for the American Sugar Refining Company, outside the State of Michigan, and had nothing to do except as I have described. I held the stock in some of these companies for Mr. Havemeyer and his associates."

CONFLICTING TESTIMONY.

The admission by officers of the Michigan company that the sugar corporation controlled 37 per cent. of their stock, it was pointed out today by members of the committee, is in conflict with the statements made by representatives of that company before the Ways and Means Committee of the House two years ago. It was then maintained that the American Sugar Refining Company had no interest in the Michigan beet sugar corporation.

Mr. Warren testified that Arthur Donner and Charles R. Heike, formerly of the American Sugar Refining Company, accumulated approximately 33,000 shares of stock in the Michigan beet sugar companies, which were merged into the Michigan Sugar Refining Company.

Mr. Warren admitted that in early years of the Michigan sugar concerns, Mr. Havemeyer, president of the American, occasionally wrote letters to express whether he thought the price of sugar was going up or down. President Warren submitted figures to show the increase in the business of the Michigan companies since the formation of the corporation. In 1906, the first year of the new company, the six plants used 305,020 tons of beets and manufactured 72,245,160 pounds of sugar. In 1910 they used 511,261 tons of beets, manufactured 124,544,545 pounds of sugar, nearly doubling the output without materially increasing the original capacity of the plants. Ability to get more beets and improved machinery was given as factors in this big increase. Earlier in the day Horace Havemeyer, son of the late sugar king, closed his testimony before the committee, continuing his description of the National Sugar Refining Company.

SALARIES INCREASED.

Woodmen of the World in Convention in Rochester Boost the Pay of Their Sovereign Officers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) June 21.—Woodmen of the World in biennial session here today, adopted salary increases recommended by the Salary Committee as follows:

Sovereign Commander, $10,000 to $12,500; Sovereign Adviser, $5000 to $8400; Sovereign Clerk, $7500 to $10,000; chairman of Finance Committee, $6000 to $7500; Sovereign Attorney, $6000 to $7500.

Expenses of the managers were fixed at $12 per day with no change in the mileage allowance.

The election of head officers was held today.

A. B. Talbot of Lincoln, Neb., was re-elected Consul; J. C. Dickson, Spokane, Wash., was re-elected Escort, and J. L. Mayfield, Granada, Colo., Watchman.

A resolution is expected, providing for an appropriation of $200,000 toward the maintenance of the Woodmen's Sanatorium at Colorado Springs.

DUEZ GETS TWELVE YEARS.

Man Who Swindled France of Money Intended For Old Age Pensions is Sentenced.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PARIS, June 21.—Ferdinand Edmund Duez, receiver for the dissvolved religious congregations, was convicted today of embezzling $1,200,000. He was sentenced to serve twelve years imprisonment at hard labor. Duez, as judicial administrator of the Civil Tribunal of the Department of Seine, was in charge of the liquidation of the property of thirteen congregations dissolved by the association law of 1901.

In March, 1910, he confessed the embezzlement of $2,000,000 and was held for trial. The total value of the properties which Duez was liquidating had been appraised at $212,000,000 and the government expected they would yield $200,000,000 out of which the old age pensions voted by Parliament could be paid.

When Duez was arrested about half of the liquidations had been made and the total actually turned over to the Treasury was only $1,461,331.

FIRES ON HIS PURSUERS.

Desperado Who Kidnaped Rural Carrier Fails to Hit Deputies and Hides in a Wood.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CORVALLIS (Or.) June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Word has just been received here that at half past nine o'clock tonight pursuing deputy sheriffs in two automobiles overtook a desperado who had kidnaped Rural Mail Carrier Huber at Monmouth this afternoon, on Keyes' Hill west of Philomath. A dozen shots were fired by the outlaw, but none hit the officers, who did not fire back for fear of hitting Huber.

The fugitive then abandoned the mail carrier's buggy and is now hiding in the timber.

There seems no doubt from the latest descriptions that the outlaw is Jess Hall, the escaped convict who committed two robberies here last night.

The Player Piano

How One Bright Man Decided the Player-Piano Question

He had seen, carefully studied and compared all well-known player-pianos, and this is his story:

"I had seen and heard wonderful things, done by experts on their particular instruments, and they could produce fine music. But, I said to my wife: which one of these instruments is different from the others? And we had to admit that there was only one, the SOLO-APOLLO."

"Any other player-piano, in the hands of an expert demonstrator who knew just what to do with every button and lever, could produce wonders; but the SOLO-APOLLO was the only PLAYER-PIANO that I could do wonders with myself."

"The fact that the SOLO-APOLLO has one set of pneumatics that play the song or melody clear and distinct above the accompaniment—and another set of pneumatics which play the accompaniment entirely independent of, and always in the right proportion to the solo that settled the matter for me."

MILDRED BRIDGES DEFENDS HER SEE.

Likens Chief of Absolute Life Cult to God.

Her Father, However, Takes a Punch at Him.

Excitement at Chicago Trial of Fad Leader.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 21.—Mildred Bridges, for whose alleged abduction Evelyn Arthur See, founder of the absolute life cult, is being tried, again took the stand when the trial was resumed today.

In answer to questions she declared that she, See and Mona Rees spent many of their evenings in the See home, reading and playing games, forgetting for the while the study of aboslute life.

She declared she believed See received a divine inspiration for his writings.

During a recess in the trial, Stephen H. Bridges, father of the girl with whose abduction See is charged, attacked See in one of the corridors of the courtroom. Bridges struck him on the body, but before See could return the blow, court attaches separated the men.

Mildred Bridges, continuing her testimony, said she had contributed to See's books, saying, "I wrote some 'truths,' as I saw them."

Her inspirations, she said, were derived from See's manuscripts.

The girl identified a letter she had written See in which she called him husband, and signed herself wife. She ended the letter by promising everlasting love for See. The words love and dear, she explained, however, did not have the meaning ordinarily accorded them.

"I loved Mr. See as I do God, because he tells me the truth," she said.

Further, she testified that in her opinion See alone was the "God man," the herald of the absolute life. She denied that she called herself See's wife, explaining the signature by saying it was caused by her interest in the character of "wifehood" in absolute life.

WAR SECRETARY OBJECTS.

Notifies Jordan That Federal Troops Can't Be Used to Guard Forests in California.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Secretary of War Stimson does not favor the suggestion of the California Legislature, embodied in Senate Joint Resolution No. 8, calling for the protection of the forests in California by United States troops during July, August and September. He says so in a letter today to Secretary of State Jordan.

In the communication which is in answer to a letter sent by Jordan some time ago, Stimson says the forests of this State could not well be protected by United States troops without the same protection being given to Oregon, Washington, Idaho and other States. He also said that it would require such a large force of men that the scheme would be too expensive for consideration and concentrating the men for this duty would defeat the purpose for which the men are enlisted. Again he draws attention to the fact that the months named are the ones for the annual maneuvers and the most valuable of the entire work for the year would be lost.

Spokane Business Man Chases Mysterious Woman Until She Drops His Little Daughter.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A fashionably-attired, exceptionally tall woman wearing the latest modes and a willow-plumed hat, attemped to kidnap Ruth, aged 4 years, daughter of W. H. Priest, from her home today.

Priest, who is a well-to-do business man, was lying in a hammock on the porch of the home in negligee, and was attracted by cries of women in the neighborhood. He gave chase in bare feet, trousers sagging and undershirt exposed, and regained his little daughter near the St. Luke's Hospital. The mysterious woman gathered up her skirts and ran out of sight in the direction of a park.

Ruth and her little brother, Willie, were playing in the front yard when the woman came. She asked the little girl if she would take a walk with her. The child agreed. When two blocks away, the woman gathered Ruth in her arms and started on a run.

"I'll come back and take you for a walk tomorrow," were the woman's parting words as she dropped the babe.

SAN FRANCISCO COLISEUM INADEQUATE TO HOLD SUNDAY-SCHOOL DELEGATES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Formal opening of the thirteenth International Sunday School Association convention took place tonight. In the absence of John Stites, president of the association, A. B. McCrillis, Providence, R. I., presided.

A. E. Boynton, president pro tem. of the State Senate, gave the address of welcome, officiating as the representative of Gov. Johnson. Mayor McCarthy represented San Francisco in welcoming the delegates and the responses were made by H. M. Hamill, representing President Stites by Justice J. J. McLaren of Toronto.

The Coliseum was inadequate to hold the throng of delegates and their friends, although all those who are attending the convention have not arrived.

The papers read at the open session were by the Rev. David G. Downey, D.D., of Chicago, corresponding secretary of the Board of Sunday-schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and by the Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, evangelist of New York.

Dr. Downey said in part:

"The Christian conquest of North America can be accomplished only through the actualization of Christ's prayer, 'Thy Kingdom come; Thy will be done.' The coming of the kingdom means that some day science and society, commerce, civics and trade shall be brought into harmony with the will of God. With due regard for all others, the Sunday-school is the agency best equipped of all for the Christian conquest of the nations.

"It has 15,000,000 workers enrolled, officered and organized, and eager to be led."

The speaker said that too long religion has been interpreted in terms of the material and has been confined in doings and abstensions; now, it must be insisted that religion is life and spirit. It is not the acceptance of one creed and the rejection of another, but at the heart and center is nothing else and nothing less than the love of God in the soul.

"The chief difficulty with Sunday-school work," he said, "is that it is not closely related to daily life; it is theory, not practice."

He advised that the leaders in the work so prepare the youth that instead of striving to keep all this youth from association with the affairs of the world they will become fitted to go into the world and combat by personal effort evils and wrongs.

Dr. Chapman's subject was "The Open Bible and the Uplifted Cross," and he declared that the word of the one and the symbol of the other are closely interwoven. In the Bible, he said, is to be found the secret of holy living.

"I am undisturbed in this day of the Bible's trial," he said, "for the question of authorship does not invalidate the story that it tells."

One of the most important executive acts of the convention so far was that of the International Executive Committee taken with reference to the Uniform Lesson Committee and to the graded and uniform lesson system.

The report made public today says that in adopting bylaws of the association it was decided that the Executive Committee shall elect a Lesson Committee consisting of sixteen members, eight to be elected at each regular meeting next preceding each three-year period for a term of six years, the first period to begin with the close of the present convention. On the subject of the graded and uniform lesson system the Executive Committee says:

"In putting before the schools of the international field the system of graded Sunday-school lessons to be used optionally with the lessons known for many years as the 'uniform lesson system,' the association does not discriminate, but would urge that in our great field both systems be tried."

The morning and afternoon sessions today were devoted to department conferences and the papers read were mostly of a technical nature, detailing experiences in striving for the best results in the many lines of Sunday-school work, as conducted by specialists representing nearly every section of the United States and Canada.

The conference will continue tomorrow.

President at Yale.

FINDS THE ROAD TO HONEST BUSINESS IN THE OIL AND TOBACCO DECISIONS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) June 21.—Speaking at the Yale alumni luncheon here today President Taft declared that the decisions of the United States Supreme Court in the Standard Oil and American Tobacco cases have pointed a clear road over which the honest business man can travel in safety. It was the first public reference the President has made to the decisions and was brought forth by the presence on the platform with him of Associate Justice Lamar.

"I believe these decisions," said the President, "have done and will continue to do great good to all the business of the country."

The President took reflected credit, he said, from the five appointments he had made to the Supreme Court. The decisions in the two big cases, he declared, proved conclusively that he had chosen well.

The two hundred and tenth commencement was held at Yale University today when diplomas were awarded to 897 men. President Taft joined the members of the corporation, of which he is a fellow.

Honorary degrees conferred by President Hadley included:

Master of Arts, Walter McClintock, known for his lectures and writings on the Blackfoot Indians.

Doctor of Letters, John Muir, author and naturalist of California.

Doctor of Laws, Liang Tun Yen, Yale '82, recently elected a member of the imperial Cabinet of China;. Joseph Rucker Lamar of Georgia, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Among the gifts to Yale University announced by President Hadley at the alumni dinner today was one of $5000 by the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity in honor of James J. Hogan, the football captain of the class of 1905. The income of this fund will be awarded at the end of his first year in college to a worthy freshman who possessed the traits that characterized Hogan—high standing in the college world and high character.

WHERE THE GAME IS NEW.

Sacramento Sports Are Playing "Twenty-isx" Since the Slot Machines Were Ordered Out.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When the curfew tolled the knell for the parting nickle-in-the-slot machine and the card devices had whirred and hummed their own sad requiem, so far as this State is concerned, the "twenty-six" game arose Phoenix like from ashes. It is apparantely the logical successor of the card machines.

The soft rattle of the polished cubes on the green baize trays has superseded the whirr of the card reels and the sports will have to content themselves with the substitute game until something new and original and within the scope of the law arrives to take its place. This is the game which was played at all the cigar stores in Los Angeles after slot machines were prohibited there, by a local ordinance, and later "twenty-six" was stopped for a while in the same way.

The cigar stores hope, through "twenty-six," to get back the patronage lost by the abolition of slot machines, but they admit that at the best the game is not rapid enough to bring in as great profits.

Skirmishing.

FEDERALS CLASH WITH INSURGENTS.

Advance Guard of Vega's Army Attacks Outposts.

Excitement at Tia Juana Because of Uncertainty.

Fight for Possession of Town Expected Today.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN DIEGO, June 21.—The advance guard of Gen. Vega's army of Federals, en route from Ensenada to Tia Juana, encountered Gen. Mosby's outposts at Carizo, this afternoon, about twenty miles southeast of Tia Juana. In the skirmish that followed, two Federals were killed.

STIR AT TIA JUANA.

Between so-called peace negotiations and reports of the approach of the Mexican troops from Ensenada under Col. Miguel Mayol and Celso Vega, jefe politico of Lower California, the rebel camp at Tia Juana today was in a high pitch of excitement.

Priate advices received in San Diego this morning told of the departure of the Mexican troops from Ensenada Friday of last week, and it was rumored persistently today that the vanguard of the force had reached a point about twelve miles from Tia Juana. It was also stated that the Mexican gunboat Guerrero had arrived off the point of Rocks, about fifteen miles from Tia Juana, with a force of a hundred men, all of whom were landed.

Gov. Vega and his force of 500 men or more reached the Dupee ranch at Carrizo at 12:30 p.m., and the fight occurred two hours later. The advance guard of the Federals withdrew to their main camp and the insurgents retired to Tia Juana, where they arrived this evening, bringing with thm the horses of the two Federals killed.

FIGHT EXPECTED TODAY.

A fight for the possession of Tia Juana is expected tomorrow. Mosby is supposed to have about 300 well-armed and desperate men. Over 200 white men answered to their names when the roll was called this morning. The rest of Mosby's force is composed of Mexicans and Indians.

This evening the insurgents held up a construction train on the San Diego and Arizona Railroad near Tia Juana. The train was brought to the line under guard and held there until arrangements could be made for another engine and cars. The insurgents have these on a side track just below the boundary line, where they may be used, if desired, to send men eastward in haste. Two of Mosby's men are detailed to run the engine. In taking the construction train, the insurgents disclaimed any purpose to damage property. They said they might need the engine and cars for an emergency.

GALLAGHERS GET TOGETHER.

San Francisco Judge in the Way to Reconcile Couple Who Quarreled Over Burial of Their Babe.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The quarrel over the burial plot of their 20-months-old baby, which brought the estranged Gallaghers to Superior Judge Graham, has been settled, and may ultimately result in the reconciliation of the couple, after a year's separation.

Last week Mrs. Blanche Gallagher came to Judge Graham with the tale that her husband had exhumed the body of their baby from the grave in which she had buried it in Holy Cross Cemetery, and placed it in the grave of his mother in the same cemetery. Mrs. Gallagher tearfully besought the judge to have the body transferred to its original grave.

Today Jim Gallagher, the husband, came to the judge and offered to deed his wife a half interest in the plot in which the babe is now buried, so she could have as much interest in the plot as he. This proved satisfactory to Mrs. Gallagher.

Before Gallagher left Judge Graham's chambers today the judge urged him to become reconciled to his wife, and Gallagher promised he would try. Mrs. Gallagher has also been urged by the judge to return to her husband.

KLINE'S WILL STANDS.

Daughter of Former National Committeeman Who Wedded A Gentile Fails to Break It.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CORVALLIS (Or.) June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Through a decision by Circuit Judge Harris, this afternoon, Mrs. Hazel R. Taylor of Portland, loses the contest with her mother and brother involving property sold by her father, the late Simon L. Kline, a wealthy local merchant and National Republican Committeeman, who died in 1909. His estate was valued at more than $200,000, while his bequests to his daughter were $500 cash and real property worth $500.

In the trial Mrs. Taylor contended that her marriage to a Gentile offended her mother, who had used undue influence in persuading her father practically to eliminate his daughter in making his will. The widow and son, Walter Kline, inherited the bulk of the estate. The suit attracted much attention and some racy testimony was introduced by both sides in attacking each other.

The decision orders that the will be recorded and that the contestant and proponents each pay their own disbursements. The elder Mrs. Kline now resides in San Francisco.

WHERE PENNIES COUNT.

IN CALIFORNIA LAW COURTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Because he paid 1 cent in excess of the legal price at a delinquent tax sale, F. J. Chiselli loses title to a town lot through a decision handed down today by Superior Judge Graham. The amount paid by Chiselli at the sale was $7.51. Under the law, the price should have been the tax with a 5 per cent. excess, by way of penalty which would have amounted to $7.50. According to the court, the additional cent paid by Chiselli invalidates the sale.

Instructions received last night from New York to the American Steel & Wire Company office in Pittsburgh, Pa., ordered a reduction of 10 cents a hundred pounds on all steel wire products and nails. The cut of $2 a ton is in effect.

active director of the International Smokeless Powder and Chemical Company.

The only member of the Du Pont family mentioned in the suit who is not found to be violating the law is Henry A. Du Pont, United States Senator from Delaware. The court found that in June, 1906, a year before suit was begun, he resigned all his official positions in the companies and has had neither real nor nominal connection with their management since.

HISTORY IS INVESTIGATED.

The decision written by Judge W. M. Lanning and concurred in by Judges George Gray and Joseph Buffington, goes into the history of interstate commerce in gunpowder explosives back as far as 1872, when, the government charged, the first trade agreement of manufacturers was entered into.

It finds that when the suit was begun the Du Pont company, organized in 1902, controlled in the United States the trade as follows:

Black blasting powder, 64 per cent.
Petre blasting powder, 72 per cent.
Dynamite, 72 per cent.
Black sporting powder, 73 per cent.
Smokeless sporting powder, 64 per cent.
Smokeless military and ordnance powder, exclusive of what the United States government itself made, 100 per cent.

The court also finds that the Du Pont Company of 1903 and the Eastern Dynamite Company, controlled by the Du Ponts, had acquired control of sixty-four corporations, between April, 1904, and September, 1907, and caused them to be dissolved. It then discusses whether the combination found to exist is obnoxious to the provisions of the anti-trust act.

CITES RECENT DECISIONS.

Citing the recent decisions in the Standard Oil and Tobacco cases, interpreting the Sherman act, the court comes to this conclusion:

"It matters not whether the combination be in the form of a trade association or a corporation, if it arbitrarily uses its power to force weaker competitors out of business or to coerce them into a sale or union with the combination, it puts a restraint upon interstate commerce and monopolizes, or attempts to monopolize a part of that commerce in a sense that violates the anti-trust act."

COOKERY AT BARKER'S.

Another Large Crowd of Women to Hear Mrs. Haffner—Bower of Bouquets.

When the usual large crowd of women assembled for Mrs. Bertha Haffner's cooking lecture yesterday afternoon, they were greeted with the most appetizing smell of newly-cooked cake, which added distinct zest to the proceedings. As the curtain was drawn, it revealed Mrs. Haffner's stage kitchen a perfect bower of flowers, bouquets presented at the "stage entrance" by ardent women admirers. Mrs. Haffner expressed herself as grateful at receiving her flowers while still alive.

When the enthusiasm had subsided to some extent, she directed attention to the serious business of the day—the cooking of a yellow cake. For this the yolks of the eggs, unused in the previous day's cake, were utilized, together with nine others, sufficient for two good-sized cakes. The remaining ingredients were five cups of sifted flour, two heaped teapoonsful of baking powder, three cups of sugar, one pound of butter, two teaspoonfuls of lemon extract, and three-quarters of a cup of water.

The yokes of the eggs have to be whipped very thoroughly, the sugar warmed and rubbed well into the butter with the hands, in order to cream without oiling it, and then all the ingredients, with the exception of the flour, are mixed in the pan. The flour is added last of all, being again passed through the sifter, and the whole well mixed with a metal spoon. This dough, which is nearly moist enough to pour, is placed into two pans, ungreased. They should be cooked in a slow oven, for about forty minutes. The pans were about half filled with the dough, and rose well above the top.

Mrs. Haffner was at some pains to explain the advantage of whipping thoroughly—in the case of creamed potatoes both flavor and color are greatly improved; in cream the flavor is also greatly improved, besides making it stiff, and with the yolks of eggs it adds to their quality and lightness in many ways.

Among Mrs. Haffner's general hints for cooking, was that it is always preferable to use water for mixing cakes rather than milk, as the casein in the latter is apt to make them heavier. And particularly did she insist upon the need of understanding your own particular oven, for love's labor can all be spoiled by a fractious oven.

While the cake was cooking we were shown how to make salad dressing, which was afterward to be used on our own sandwiches. Mrs. Haffner used the yolks of two eggs and one cupful of olive oil, well whipped together. She did not add the oil drop by drop, as we have been taught through the ages, and yet her dressing did not curdle. She explained that the yolks of two eggs can take as much as two cupfuls of the oil, but in that case the dressing will be too liquid for sandwiches. Vinegar and paprika were added. The sandwiches were formed of plain square soda crackers and the filling was composed of chopped bacon, lettuce, green peppers and olives.

Mrs. Haffner greatly amused her large audience by assuring them that the men did not really like good cooks, that in fact, if any of the girls present were good cooks, they must keep it secret.

Mrs. Haffner is organizing a breadmaking contest which is being taken up very enthusiastically. Every contestant is to make two loaves which will afterward go to a charitable institution. Twelve prizes will be awarded.

Graft Trail.

PURITY SQUAD IS IN LIMELIGHT.

Important Arrest Is Made in French District.

Police Find Women Claimed to Be Protected.

Former Patrolman's Wife Urges Him to Tell All.

In the arrest last night of Frank Morelli, Chief Detective Browne of the District Attorney's office believes he has practically laid bare the trail of graft to the police department which was uncovered when Patrolman Busse, formerly a member of the Purity Squad, was arrested and confessed to receiving money for protecting a disorderly house.

The arrest of Morelli was conducted by Browne and a squad of detectives after it was learned that Morelli was preparing to escape. The information that led to his arrest was furnished by Busse and was obtained by Detective Browne and Deputy District Attorneys Keetch and Horton, after severe quizzing at the hand of Browne. Little by little the information that may lead to the arrest of other police officers, go-betweens and Tenderloin habitues and politicians, was obtained, and in this Browne was aided by Busse's wife, who made a clean breast.

PLACES PROTECTED.

Busse admits he has obtained several hundred dollars during the past two months as his personal share of the rake-off for protecting more than twenty-two houses in the district bounded by North Central avenue, North San Pedro, Alameda and Aliso streets, which were extended police protection, he stated. The resorts were inhabited almost exclusively by French women and were patronized almost exclusively by Japanese, Chinese and Mexicans, so that there was little chance of the resorts being known generally.

Morelli, according to Browne, has conducted resorts at Nos. 215, 217, 219 and 221 North San Pedro street, under police protection, for several months. Each house last night contained from three to six French women.

HITS PURITY SQUAD.

Morelli was lodged in the County Jail and will be held incomunicado until he has related his story to the grand jury this morning. Prior to being taken to his cell, he was questioned in the District Attorney's office by Deputies Horton and Keetch and Browne, and made a detailed confession of the Tenderloin graft. It is stated by members of the District Attorney's office that the Purity Squad will be depleted as a result of Morelli's confession. The money, it is said by Browne, found its way into the palms of several members of the squad. It is said that politicians prominent in Goo-Goo politics are also involved.

The arrest of Morelli, it is expected, will be followed by others today.

PASTOR'S DAUGHTER WED.

Marries Iowa Man in Methodist Church at Bishop—Pink and White the Prevailing Colors.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

BISHOP, June 20.—The marriage of Miss Edith Beatrice Beal, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Asa Beal of this city, to Charles Arthur Trowbridge of Des Moines, Iowa, was celebrated this evening in the First Methodist Church, of which the bride's father is pastor. Dr. Beal read the service.

The bride, who is a charming brunette was attired in an elaborate white satin robe, made en train with Venetian veil falling in soft folds to the hem of her gown. Her flowers were lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern. Attending her as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. R. Wills of Waco, Tex., and three bridesmaids, Miss Clara Beebe of Muskogee, Okla.; Miss Bernice Kinslee of Burlington, Iowa; and Miss Theodosia Roberts of Round Valley. The best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Willis Trowbridge. Three-year-old Sheldon Wells of Waco was ring-bearer, and there were two dainty flower girls, Misses Dorothy Sherwin and Beulah Smith. The wedding march was played by Miss Scales and there were two vocal solos by Mrs. W. S. Eldred.

The wedding was a pink and white one, and hundreds of roses and sweet peas were used in developing the delicate color scheme. The dresses of the attendants were white with bows and ribbons of pink. Over 500 people from Owens Valley and out-of-town points were in attendence. Following the ceremony, there was a reception at the church. Later, the out-of-town guests and bridal party were entertained at an elaborate wedding supper at Hotel Istalia. The young people have gone by auto to Roberts ranch at Round Valley, where the party will join them. The day will be spent trout fishing in the mountains following a breakfast, and in the evening there will be a turkey dinner for all. Afterwards, Mr. and Mrs. Trowbridge will leave for a three weeks' honeymoon at Mammoth. When they return, they will go at once to reside on Mira Monte ranch, ten miles southeast of Bishop, of which Mr. Trowbridge is manager. Miss Beal and Mr. Trowbridge were both graduates of Simpson College. The latter is also a graduate of the agricultural department of Ames.

SANTA MONICA.

SANTA MONICA, June 21.—The Academy of Holy Names closed its tenth successful school year here today with commencement exercises held in Columbia hall tonight. There were three graduates, Misses Mildred Feron, Annie McCraw and Jessie Langston, and fourteen graduates from the grammar grades. The school had an attendance of 160 during the year.

The High School class play was given at the Lincoln school building last night. Commencement exercises will be held in the ocean front auditorium tomorrow night, and the elementary graduation exercises will be the attraction Friday evening. Those who are to receive diplomas from the High School are: Beulah J. Archer, Edith M. Barton, Jennie C. Curtin, Mabel F. Dunsmore, Hazel G. Gibson, Arthur E. Gripp, Rosemary N. Hamilton, Masaki R. Ichien, Lawrence R. Jackson, Elsie L. La Berge, Frederick H. Lipking, Margaret E. Mann, Pauline E. Mathews, Douglas McNeil, Percy F. Minister, Eunice Oerter, Jessica Peasgood, Lyba M. Sheffield, Nita C. Sheffield, Katherine P. Snyder, May T. Steffy, Harriet C. Ware, Wilma W. Webster, Lillian Wilson.

CORONA.

CORONA, June 21.—Joe Sterling, a Mexican laborer, was bound over to the Superior Court yesterday, on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Sterling became very anger with his mulatto wife Sunday afternoon, over a trifling matter and cut several gashes in her head with a bottle, it is charged.

Mrs. Archer Bowen a native of Michigan and more than twenty years a resident of Corona died yesterday.

With the exception of two vice-principals the Corona teachers have been appointed thus, Prof. H. I. Priestley, with these High School instructors, Gladys Blickhatin, Elizabeth Andrews, Nina Beebe, Laura Gilbert, Louise Oakey, Olive Clark; grammar grades: Etta Watkins, Oleata Boling, Margaret Smith, Eva Beebe, Alina Conway, Helen Whitmore, Serena Troomey, Lydia Whited, May Boudinot, Alice Walace, Maud Unger, E. Marian Kimmell, Elizabeth Keller, Alice O'Rourke and Nettie Sewright.

RIVERSIDE.

RIVERSIDE, June 21.—Judson O. Moxley was found guilty by a jury this afternoon in the Superior Court of obtaining $8000 from F. M. Ryon by making false representations regarding the title of property on which he gave a mortgage to Ryon as security for the money.

The case has occupied the time of the court all week with Judge Wilbur of Los Angeles presiding. The jury retired at 12:15 p.m. and returned a verdict three hours later, one hour of the interim being consumed in taking dinner. Attorney Lafayette Gill, who defended Moxley, made a motion looking to placing the convicted man on probation and the court will set a date for hearing.

OFF FOR VENEZUELA.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Thomas C. Dawson, American Minister to Panama, left Washington today for Hampton Roads where he will embark upon the North Carolina for La Guayra as the head of the American delegation of special embassy to participate in the Venezuelan centennial ceremonies at Caracas next month. Capt. Marsh, commander of the North Carolina has been designated naval attache of the special Embassy, and Capt. Frank Parker of the Eleventh Infantry will represent the army.

Gets Continuance.

Because his attorney, W. W. Wideman, was ill and unable to appear in court, Ralph Rafel, charged with having attempted to poison his wife with strychnine about two weeks ago, was granted a continuance until today by Police Judge Chambers yesterday. Pending his preliminary examination, Rafel is held in the City Jail in default of $10,000 bail.

The Pity of It.

HUSBAND, AVENGING INSULT TO WIFE, SHOT DOWN BY LABORITE; MAY DIE.

DEFENDING his wife against the insults of George M. Ranck, a virulent union laborite and miner, R. C. Wilbur, a painter and glazier, was shot down and possibly fatally wounded last evening at the Hotel Twain, No. 517½ West Seventh street. Ranck was arrested in his room and taken to the City Jail in the same police automobile that conveyed his victim to the Receiving Hospital.

The shooting, according to all the testimony obtained on the premises last night, was the result of a debauch on the part of Ranck.

Wilbur, 27 years of age, is a native of Michigan where, about six years ago, he married the handsome young woman who was the innocent cause of his wounds.

Ranck is a former soldier, who, at one time, owned a coffee plantation in Mexico. He came to Los Angeles about six months ago to submit to a surgical operation, and before going into the hospital, became known as a rabid union laborite.

Ranck yesterday was preparing to return to a mining claim in Mexico. His preparations consisted largley in the accumulation of a jag During the afternoon, it was said last night at the Hotel Twain, he insulted three of the women living there and threatened to kill W. L. Price, a deputy sheriff, who also makes the hotel his residence.

Mrs. Wilbur was one of the women insulted. When her husband returned in the evening, she told him about it.

"I'll attend to that fellow, myself," said Wilbur, a fine specimen of athletic young manhood.

He strode out into the hall from his room on the third floor of the hotel. He met Ranck in the hall—the latter's room was but a few doors away, around a corner. There were no witnesses to the encounter. The only thing known by the other roomers is that they heard the sound of a blow, a noise like that caused by the striking of a fist in an open palm, and this was immediately followed by a shot.

Price, who lives on the same floor as Wilbur and Ranck, was the first to run out into the hall at the noise. He found Wilbur on the floor and resting on one elbow. Price was just in time to see Ranck entering his room and slamming the door behind him.

FINDS REVOLVER.

Detectives Jones and Erven, sent out from headquarters, unceremoniously pushed open Ranck's door and, while Erven entertained the unwilling host, who was in bed, partially undressed, Jones went to a trunk at the rear of the room and, from between two empty beer bottles, picked up an automatic pistol which was subsequently admitted by Ranck to have been used in firing the shot into Wilbur's body.

"He was a bigger man than I, and I had to defend myself, didn't I?" whined Ranck to the officers, after vainly pretending to simulate an advanced stage of intoxication.

Wilbur's wife soon joined him at the Receiving Hospiti and remained by his bedside through the night. The bullet had entered a few inches below the armpit, apparently lodging in the left lung, after passing close to the heart, and the surgeons pronounced him in a critical condition, with but slight chances of recovery.

"It Never Rains."

FIREBUGS WORKING IN WHISKY ROW.

One Conflagration Follows Upon Another.

Evidence Produced Showing Incendiary Origin.

Two Men Seen Near Building Said, "Let Her Go."

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

BAKERSFIELD, June 21.—Following close on the heels of Tuesday morning's fire, which destroyed a third of the business section of Maricopa and caused the death of Fred Ball, one of the prominent business men of that city and chief of the Maricopa volunteer fire department, flames believed to be of incendiary origin last night swept Whisky Row in Boust City and destroyed property of a value estimated at $60,000, mostly in saloon buildings and stocks of liquors.

Al Thackery, B. M. Tibbet, Jess Dover, Will Collins, Gibson Brothers and Mrs. Jerry Lillian were the chief losers by the Boust City fire. The blaze started from a range in Thackery's restaurant, and as the town, which is practically an addition to Taft, is wholly without fire protection it burned until everything within its reach had been consumed.

This is the third big fire that has visited the Taft-Moron-Boust community during the past two years Last September, half of the business part of Taft was wiped out, and nearly two years ago the whole place was practically destroyed. The Boust townsite is now in litigation. It is claimed by E. J. Boust, under a mineral location, and recently squatters from Taft and the Midway oil fields filed an application for a townsite patent under the mining laws. The rival claims are now before the land office officials.

CAUSED BY INCENDIARIES.

That the fire which burned the string of saloons and lodging-houses known as "Whisky Row," entailing a loss of $40,000, was the work of incendiaries was made known this morning. Al Thackery, proprietor of a saloon and lodging-house, has produced evidence to this effect and has employed attorneys to conduct an investigation. A girl living in a tent a short distance from the building saw two men approach the structure.

One of them declared "let her go," and then the two ran. A few minutes later the flames broke out and she gave the fire alarm. A watchman sleeping in the building was awakened and when he went to put on his shoes he found one of them wet with oil. The fire burned itself out, there being no water with which to combat it. Very little insurance was carried on account of the high rates.

WILL REBUILD MARICOPA.

The burned portion of Maricopa, which is the southeastern part, will be rebuilt at once, probably with a better class of buildings than those that were destroyed. For the day following the fire hardly a wheel moved in the place. By mutual consent all business was suspended as a mark of respect to Fred Ball, the popular fire chief, who was killed by contact with fallen electric wires while he was leading the fire fighters in the effort to check the flames. As the citizens stood among the ashes of their homes and places of business $200 was raised to buy floral pieces, and about forty of Maricopa's leading business men came to Bakersfield with the body. The remains were met at this place by a delegation of fifty Elks, and the funeral, held today at the Elks' Hall, was largely attended. The body was shipped to Los Angeles on the noon train today.

SLOT MACHINES GO.

Today witnesses the removal of the last of more than 500 money slot machines, besides a very large number of cigar machines which heretofore have been in operation in saloons and cigar stands all over the county. A few of the machines were shipped to Juarez, Mex., and some to other places, but the majority have been taken apart and stored in local cellars and warehouses. Sheriff Baker announced yesterday morning that he would vigorously enforce the law against the machines, and the order for their removal has been obeyed, so far as can be learned, without question everywhere. Along with the slot machines go two keno games, which have been running full blast. As a substitute for the cigar machines, most of the cigar stands have added some extra dice boxes, and these are being freely used by those who insist on having their cigars flavored with the spice of chance.

H. L. Eldingham, member of the general strike committee of Los Angeles, is here endeavoring to interest local labor organizations in the effort to unionize the southern metropolis.

SACKETT RESIGNS.

Member of State Text Book Committee Anticipates Plan to Remove Him.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, June 21.—George L. Sackett of the State Text Book Committee, today tendered his resignation to the committee and it was accepted at once to take effect August 1. That Sackett has been slated for removal for some time has been known, but he anticipated the action.

AVIATORS OFF AGAIN.

LIEGE (Belgium) June 21.—The European circuit aviation race was resumed today, the task for the day being a round-trip flight from Liege to Spa, a total distance of 37 1-4 miles. Vedrines was the first to accomplish the trip, making it in 42 min. 23 sec. Viedart was the second home, his time being 48 min. 50 sec. Others who started were Weymann, Duval, Garres, Penaud, Wynmalen, Prevost, Verrept, Lelasseure, Beaumont and Barraul.

NAVAL OFFICERS' HABITS.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Inquiry into charges that naval officers habitually have used government material and time in the Washington Navy Yard to repair personal automobiles and power boats was resumed today by the House Committee on Expenditures in the Navy. John H. Merriam, a paymaster in the navy, explained that $18.44 worth of material and labor used in repairing his motorboat were amply covered by a deposit made when the work was undertaken.

AMERICAN ADMIRAL RESCUER.

KIEL (Germany) June 21.—Capt. Thomas S. Rodgers, while returning from the Imperial Yacht Hohenzollern to his command on board the American battleship New Hampshire, saved five Germans, whose sailboat had capsized in the harbor.

PRESIDENT IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 22.—President Taft arrived here at 12:04 a.m., by special train from New Haven. The seventy-four miles were covered in an hour and thirty minutes. The President was driven at once to the home of his brother, Henry W. Taft, where he will spend the night.

Gov. John W. Shafroth of Colorado yesterday set the date for holding a public land convention in Denver for September 28, 29 and 30. Delegates from every State and Territory west of the Missouri River, including Alaska, that has a public land acreage of not less than 1,000,000 acres will attend the convention.

The Doctor's Answer On Health and Beauty Questions

BY DR. LEWIS BAKER

The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Building, College-Ellwood Sta., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Ex-Health:—Your symptoms indicate a weak-run-down condition of the nervous system probably due to indiscretion, late hours or overwork. This condition is accompanied by such symptoms as timidity, downcast eyes, lack of confidence, lost memory and vigor, cold extremities, dizziness, heart palpitation, trembling limbs, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, discontent, irritability and a general inability to act naturally at all times. Scientifically concentrated drugs, free from opium, cocaine and the like, will overcome such conditions. Obtain these ingredients separately, avoid any embarrassment, and mix at home as follows: Get three ounces of compound syrup sarsaparilla in a six-ounce bottle. Get one ounce each of compound fluid balmwort, compound essence cardiol and tincture cadomene compound. Add balmwort to sarsaparilla, shake and let stand two hours. Then add other two ingredients, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring.

N. O. K.:—Such symptoms as are mentioned amongst the following indicate a hereditary scrofula or a condition of blood poisoning. The disease can be eliminated by a regular and thorough course of treatment. The symptoms are sores, running sores, eczema, ulcers, boils, carbuncles, bald spots, sore mouth, sore eyelids, mattery discharges, etc. Have the following prescription filled for both yourself and child: Syrup trifolium comp. 4 ozs., aromatic cascara 1 oz., and comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz. Mix. Adult dose, 1 teaspoonful four times daily. Children, one-fourth to one-half teaspoonful. Be persistent and regular in taking until the blood is altered and purified.

Claire H.:—I certainly agree with you that fine clothes and ladylike deportment will not overcome the ill looks of a stringy, greasy head of hair, but such adornments too often accentuate the poor health of the hair and scalp. If your hair is "greasy," oily and dead in lustre, you can quickly restore its lustre and eliminate the oily appearance and at the same time cure the worst case of dandruff and itching scalp. Obtain a four-ounce jar of plain yellow minyol and use as per directions accompanying same. Beautiful, lustrous fluffy hair will be your early reward.

Overfat Man:—Obesity is burdensome and sometimes proves dangerous, but if you will begin reducing now you need feel no alarm. If you wish a remedy which you can handily carry in your pocket I advise you to obtain a sealed package of tablets phythyrin. Only large well-stocked drug stores can supply you. The following will prevent the formation of fat and causes an increased combustion of it by a peculiar action on the cells and tissues of the body. Glycol arbolene 1 oz., aromatic elixir 5 ozs. Mix, shake well and take a teaspoonful after meals for three days and then increase to two teaspoonfuls. Continue several weeks or months as the case may require. From five to seven pounds a week should be eliminated.

Elsie J.:—Your questions and symptoms have been answered and explained several times heretofore in these columns, but as they may have escaped your attention I will repeat my advice, as I have for many others. You have an extremely chronic and dangerous case of nasal catarrh, and this is responsible for your headache, foul breath and indigestion. The mucus drips into your throat and thence to the stomach while sleeping. Obtain two ounces of vilane powder; take a level teaspoonful and mix it thoroughly with one ounce of white vaseline. This makes an excellent healing balm when applied to the nostrils daily. Use the remainder of the powder as a nostril wash, a half teaspoonful to a pint of warm water. Snuff the water from the hollow of the hand well up into the nostrils until all mucus is removed. Do this twice daily and in a week or two all trace of catarrh will vanish. Keep up the treatment as a preventative.

Goldie N.:—Your height indicates that you do not weigh enough, and an abnormally thin girl is never very attractive to the opposite sex. If you wish to be plump with pink cheeks and red lips you should continue taking the tablets. One package of 3-grain hypo-nuclane tablets could not be expected to any more than start the processes in the cells and tissues necessary to increase your weight. It is a scientific process which requires time in the building up of new cell tissues, white and red blood corpuscles.

Continue taking the 3-grain hypo-nuclane tablets for 3 or 4 months. Your health and strength are certain to improve and added weight will come, as certain as night follows day.

Miss M.:—The formula which you request is not one of my own, but I have frequently quoted it and have learned by correspondence that it has proven very effective for some of my patients. The formula is that of a noted beauty specialist. If properly used it should prove very satisfactory and round out your figure as desired: Compound tincture cadomene 1 oz. (not cardamon), glycerine 2 ozs., rosewater 3 ozs., and a teaspoonful of borax. Mix. Shake well and apply about a tablespoonful to the neck, arms and bust, rubbing and massaging until completely absorbed. Then wash the parts treated with hot water and soap and dry thoroughly. Apply morning and night for several weeks or months, as the case may require.

I would further advise internal treatment to improve the blood and increase the general plumpness of the body. For this obtain 3-grain hypo-nuclane tablets.

Young Adam:—My favorite prescription, which has frequently been given in these columns for weaknesses of the kidneys and bladder, can be used by a very large number, as this is an affliction visited upon scores who have disobeyed in some way natural laws. Anyone who has such symptoms as lame back, headache, feverishness, puffs under the eyes, inflamed eyelids, swelling of the ankles and feet, frequent burning and profuse urination, especially at night, with pain in the bladder region, may rest assured that the following prescription will prove vastly beneficial, and all such symptoms will disappear with its use. Have your druggist mix or obtain ingredients separately and mix at home: Compound fluid balmwort one ounce, fluid extract buchu one ounce and syrup sarsaparilla compound four ounces. Take a teaspoonful before or after meals and one when retiring, drinking plenty of water between meals.

Very Well, Sir—I'll Attend to It

FROM GOLF LINKS TO OFFICE

MANY a man would be unable to enjoy the healthful exercise of golf if the telephone did not keep him in touch with his business.

A word over the wire saves him an hour's delay in leaving the office. There is another reason.

The busy man's day is made shorter by the Bell Service, which brings him in instant communication, not only with his fellow townsmen, but with correspondents in distant cities.

The Bell System provides universal service to meet the needs of all users.

FOR SALE—
SWISS CHALET BUNGALOW
IN BEAUTIFUL HOLLYWOOD.
$6500. ON TERMS TO SUIT. $6500.

Have just completed 3 of the most charming and strictly down-to-date 8-room, 1½-story bungalows you have ever seen anywhere at any price. In the arrangement artistic taste displayed, and the general construction; the owner invites the most critical inspection. They have stone porches, cemented drives, garage, furnace; in fact, there was nothing overlooked that goes to make a thoroughly complete and strictly high-class home. In this brief space a comprehensive and satisfactory description cannot be given, but if you are interested it will more than pay you to see these homes. The location is on Argyle ave., near Franklin ave., and surrounded by beautiful and palatial homes. Get off on Hollywood blvd. and Vine, walk 1 block north to Argyle, or phone owner: 71005 for appointment to show you the houses. Will accept well located residence lots as part payment.
O. G. ROMBOTIS,
Designer and Builder.

FOR SALE—BY OWNER, WHO MUST sacrifice one of the nicest little six-room homes in the southwest; ideal location and everything as good as money could make it; fine lot, beautifully improved with nice lawn in front and rear, flowers and shrubbery, orange, lemon, fig and peach trees, full of fruit; only two short blocks to car and paved street; the interior is as pretty and artistic as an artist could make it, lovely sun-room and sleeping porch, kitchen, bath and bedrooms in white enamel and extra large; there is nothing like it in the city at the price, but it must all go; we not only must, but are going to sell this month at some price; about $800 worth of nice, new furniture, to sacrifice with house; come and see it; come today, do not miss this if you want a nice home all ready to move into at a bargain. FOR SALE—
$10 TAKES THIS BIG LEVEL LOT,
72x300 FEET.

Big lots are rare in and around Los Angeles today; big lots at a low price are scarcely ever found; here is one that is BIG, CHEAP, and unusually located—in fact it's only 17 minutes out on the best car line. The combination is irresistible! It's a money-maker, a sure profit-winner! Suppose you bought it for a home—what better could you ask? Rich, loam soil, with abundant water delivered in large steel mains—a place where you can have a nice garden, chickens and fruit trees—almost like a little ranch in itself. Even though you don't do a thing with it, this lot will make you money. The price is only $350; put your savings here—$10 cash and $10 month. They'll bring you an interest that will put the ordinary investment to shame. Full details at my office.

BE SURE
YOU'RE RIGHT,
THEN GO AHEAD.

When you buy farm lands, the element of speculation should not enter into the transaction. Don't take any chances at all—you really can't afford to. Don't guess. Look at the proposition on a business basis—investigate for yourself. Go at the Fresno Valley tract in this way. You can't go wrong. These lands stand on their own merits, and are selling rapidly. No fictitious values here. No claims of impossible production. I am selling land, not pretty pictures, nor glowing promises. I take you right onto the property and let it do its own talking. It is located a little south of Fresno, with good train service to that city by two railways; both of which have stations on the tract. Good oiled wagon roads, too, and good town right there at the property. Soil is rich and deep, with ditch water at only 75 cents per acre per year. Successful crops are alfalfa, corn, oranges, deciduous fruits, figs, walnuts, vegetables and berries. Fine opportunities in dairying, poultry raising, and in general farming; prosperous ranches tell the story. I sell these lands at only $40 an acre up; pay one-fourth cash and the balance in four equal payments—or make easy monthly payments, if you prefer. Free excursions so that you can see for yourself. Free exhibit of soil and products here at my office. Come in and get one of my illustrated booklets—it will interest you.

Salt River Lands.

FOR SALE—

UNDER ROOSEVELT DAM.

BIG LAND OPENING—
SALT RIVER VALLEY.

By ruling of U. S. Reclamation Service famous "Chandler Ranch" must be reduced to comply with units established by Government. If you have lost out on other similar projects, don't miss the best opportunity you will ever have for owning a wonderfully fertile farm with 10 years in which to pay. (See U. S. Government Report.)

Government will turn over to farmers mammoth Roosevelt reservoir, electrical power plants, wells, ditches, etc.; now completed for use. Beautiful townsite in middle of ranch, all on railroad. No pioneering or hardships.

Valley holds highest prices on record for early, luscious oranges, cantaloupes, etc. Farm all year; no storms, winds or pests; altitude and climate ideal. Farming 12 months. Go up and see the fat cattle, horses, sheep, hogs; enormous profits raising ostriches, mules; citrus and deciduous fruits, all three to seven weeks earlier than anything else and of extra quality. Big demand for poultry, eggs and garden truck to supply near-by mining camps and home towns at good prices.

The people who are taking this land are the most skilled wideawake, progressive and successful Southern California farmers who are best able to judge the exceptional advantages of our rich soil, perpetual sunshine and the great abundance of water backed up by the Government. Read what U. S. Agricultural Experts say in comparing this with most favored spots in United States. Also please keep in mind that this is not a frontier proposition, but simply the subdividing of a large and immensely fertile, level ranch offered at prices which will move it speedily in keeping with ruling of U. S. Reclamation Service.

We especially invite the attention of the most exacting expert and skilled agriculturists and horticulturists as well as stock raisers and poultrymen.

Farms of ten acres up at attractive prices. Come while you may and make reservation. We are owners and not in real estate business, except to reduce our holdings. No trades, nor big speculators.

FOR SALE—
ORANGE LAND YOU CAN AFFORD.
In Orange Vista I am offering safe, well watered orange land at only $200 an acre. And I am making such terms that the man or woman of moderate means can secure five or ten acres of this land without undergoing too heavy a strain. It's superb orange soil—rich, warm and thoroughly protected. It lies at an elevation above the frosts, with foothills protecting it. The water goes with it—more than you'll need. Land is not far from Riverside, and close to prosperous city. Select five or ten acres, pay $5 per acre cash and $5 per acre monthly. Get your trees set out and your place on a "going" basis. It will be worth double its cost by the time you own it free and clear. From an investment viewpoint alone, the proposition is an exceedingly favorable one. If you want to, you can pay one-fourth cash and the balance in four equal yearly installments. Get my handsome booklet. It's full of photographs, interesting facts and useful figures—and while you're here, learn about my free excursions.

BUSINESS CHANCES—
For Sale.

BE INDEPENDENT.
Have a business of your own.
A man or woman, with $1500, can invest it, secured by real estate, with us in a way that will create a nice income. What is the charm of California life if your business keeps your nose to the grindstone? You might as well live in Chicago. A peculiar thing about our company is that we only ask you to invest $500 of the above amount with us. Call and we will explain what you are to do with the balance. And when we say you can make 7 per cent. on your $500 and double your $1000 every year under our direction, we mean it and can show you. It's worth seeing us about.

SAVED FROM PRISON BY LOCK OF HAIR.

Flaxen Wisp Falls from a Letter in Courtroom.

Seattle Prosecutor, Moved, Recommends Mercy.

Court Acquiesces and Guilty Man Is Set Free.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A lock of hair from his baby's head saved John Allfort from a sentence of ninety days in the County Jail today. Despite Allforth's plea of guilty of petty larceny, the mute but eloquent wisp of hair laid low the evidence, conclusive and convincing, that the prosecuting attorney brought to bear.

On June 7 Allfort quit his job in Aberdeen and embarked on a spree which ended when he was arrested here on a charge of issuing worthless checks.

With bowed head and cheeks red with shame, he stood in the Police Court today and entered his plea of guilty. Then thrusting a hand in his pocket, Allfort pulled forth a letter that had reached him only today, from his wife in Aberdeen, and handed it to the prosecutor. As the prosecutor took the written pages from the envelope a curl of yellow hair from a babe's head came with them. Amid tense silence the prosecutor read the letter of a faithful and courageous wife, begging him to come home. Then came the postscript: "Kisses for papa from baby," followed by a score of crosses. The prosecutor handed the letter and lock to Judge Gordon, who studied both and then looked inquiringly to the prosecutor, who said:

"I recommend that this defendant be sentenced to ninety days in the County Jail, and that sentence be suspended."

"The recommendation will be adopted," replied Judge Gordon.

TRIES TO END HER LIFE.

French Maid Who Shot a San Francisco Capitalist Saved From Death in Her Cell.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Adele Verge, the French nurse who shot C. Frederick Kohl, capitalist, two weeks ago in the corridor of the Grant building, attempted to commit suicide last night in her cell in the City Prison.

Tying her handkerchief around her neck and knotting it to the iron bars of the cell, she tried to hang herself.

She was discovered, black in the face and unconscious, and within a few minutes of death. Miss Verge had take nadvantage of the time between watches. She had been slightly hysterical all evening and knowing she would be without the vigilance of the matron for a half hour, decided to end her life.

She was hurried to the hospital and prompt action saved her life. After she had been brought back to consciousness she went into raging hysterics and was placed under care of nurses in the Detention Home, where she will be held for observation as to her sanity.

Everett M. Warren, general manager for Mexico of the F. S. Pearson lumber and railroad interests, died yesterday on a special train that was bringing him from Madera, Chihuahua, to El Paso. Death was the result of ptomaine poisoning.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.

FAVORS A STRETCH IN LIQUOR LAWS.

"Uneven Plan" Supported by the Mayor.

Prohibitionists and W.C.T.U. Think Otherwise.

Charges Cause Stir in the Police Department.

Office of The Times, 26 S. Raymond avenue.)

PASADENA, June 22.—True to his inaugural promise Mayor Thum has tackled the temperance question by giving out his concrete ideas as to the best manner of settling the vexatious problem. In his maiden speech he promised to proceed along economic lines and so educate the people that they would be happy and the temperance question would give no cause for worry.

Several weeks ago he appointed a temperance commission, consisting of five citizens, and told them to proceed along lines which would be conducive to regulating the liquor traffic. So far, that commission has had no meetings, but the Mayor has passed out his ideas of the way they should proceed. He has not commanded the members of the commission to follow his ideas but, inasmuch as he is the creator of the commission, it is to be assumed that if the commission wishes its recommendations to be followed that it will proceed along the route marked out by the Mayor because he is not compelled to follow the commission's ideas, unless they conform to his notions.

The Mayor states that Pasadena's present temperance laws, which are written in the city charter, are very good, providing a few changes are made. He says that the city should have "uneven temperance laws" instead of the present "even laws." By "uneven laws," he explains, there should be temperance laws for the poor people and another code for the "idle-rich" as he calls them. People of the latter class should be allowed to have their drinks in the big hotels and clubs while those of the former class, which he designates as the "laboring class" or "common men," should have restrictive laws so that they cannot secure alcoholic drinks. If it is not practicable to make "uneven laws" the Mayor then recommends that the strict enforcement of the laws should not be made in case of the rich people, but the temperance laws should be rigidly enforced in case of the laboring people.

The reason for these conclusions, according to the Mayor, is that the rich men, or the "idle rich," as he calls them, are "alcohol-weaklings" who will eliminate themselves if allowed to have their drinks, while the "laboring men" who are "alcohol-resistent," should have liquor kept away from them. He says the rich will have their drinks, anyway, while the poorer people will not drink unless they have an opportunity. The Mayor argues that the working people, those who toil from morning until night, are more able to go without alcohol and, if it is kept away from them by a strict enforcement of the temperance laws, they will not drink, while the rich who, he states, have time hanging heavily on their hands, want to drink to "kill time" and that it is futile to attempt to restrict them by the enforcement of temperance laws.

"The suggested uneven enforcement or a slight modification of our liquor law would make it one of the more practical temperance laws," said he. "It can be thus unevenly enforced if the so-called common man will only see the point and permit the other man to be the common man, if he will. Seemingly, the so-called common man would be subject to the temperance law to a greater extent than the rich man; but if one considers fully the difference in the conditions to be treated and the difference in results to be effected, and if one realized that, as a matter of fact, the cases are different by nature and legitimate subjects of different laws, he will readily understand that the so-called common man is no more restricted by a rigid enforcement of the temperance law than is the rich man by a slightly-relaxed enforcement of it. In effect, the case would be slightly different laws for two slightly differing cases."

The Mayor's ideas are not indorsed by the Prohibitionists, nor by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, who advocate rigid temperance laws and a uniform indorsement of them.

POLICE CAPTAIN UNDER FIRE.

Late yesterday afternoon, S. L. Wallis filed with Mayor Thum charges against Police Captain Copping, accusing him of various things unbecoming a police officer, according to a statement given out by Wallis. The specific charges were not given out but it is rumored there are a number of counts contained in the statement signed by Wallis and handed to the Mayor. Mayor Thum refused to make any statement regarding the charges, replying that he would prefer nothing, at all, he said regarding the matter. The Mayor indicated that he is growing tired of the complaints being made against the police together with the multitude of rumors going the rounds, many of which are entirely groundless.

Capt. Copping has been a member of the police force eight years, beginning as a patrolman and promoted first to sergeant, then lieutenant and for the past year has been a captain. Chief of Police Wood says that his captain is an excellent officer and that any charges against him as a peace officer are not true, so far as he knows. Copping is a Spanish War veteran and now holds the exalted position of vice-commander of California and is in line for the position of commander at the coming encampment. He has long, apparently, had a high standing in this city and his friends are very much surprised that any charges should be filed against him.

It was stated last night that the matter will be taken before the Police Commission tonight. The charges are alleged to be the outgrowth of the ruction recently caused in the police department when Sergt. Longley was dismissed without a hearing on the charge that he and the Chief of Police had personal grievances against each other. Longley was very popular in the city and his friends have taken up his cause and have made threats against the department in what they term retaliation against the dismissal of Longley without "a fair and impartial trial."

PATROLMEN WILL STAY.

Mayor Thum, yesterday, gave out a statement to the effect that the report that four patrolmen and one police sergeant are scheduled for dismissal is entirely false; that no charges have been preferred and, so far as he knows, none will be. He said that the efficiency of the police department is being crippled by the sporadic rumors which are going the rounds.

TWO PIGGERS FINED.

Justice of the Peace McDonald, yesterday morning, fined two self-confessed blind piggers. The first was Louis Doble, who was arrested sometime ago charged with selling liquor in violation of the law at the Astoria cafe. He pleaded guilty, asked for leniency and was fined six months in the city jail.

The other case was that of Thad Morrison, who was arrested Tuesday for selling liquor in the same cafe. Morrison bought the place from Doble and had his new place open for fifteen minutes when he was caught by the police and arrested. He pleaded guilty and was fined $175.

BIG PICNIC TODAY.

The annual union Sunday school picnic of Pasadena will be held at Long Beach today. The special trains will run through from Pasadena to the "Queen of the Beaches" and it is expected there will be at least 2000 attend. This picnic is the second largest event of the summer, being out-classed only by the annual Pasadena picnic when about everyone in the city goes to one of the beaches. Special trains will be provided for each Sunday school this morning and the picnickers will start on their ride of joy and happiness at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

NEWS BRIEFS.

There was an enthusiastic meeting of the members of the Citizens' Committee at Arroyo Hall in the "dry tract" last night. The principal subject of discussion was better streets for that section of the city."

The Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church held a meeting last night and indorsed Saturday afternoon closing for all the business houses of the city during the summer.

The Board of Trade was given a promise yesterday that before the month's end there will be two excellent routes opened up between Pasadena and Los Angeles. Both routes will enter Los Angeles via North Main street and will be over the same road between Sierra Vista station and the El Monte road.

The building record for June was broken yesterday when the permits, for the first twenty-one days of the month, totaled $230,000, as against $213,000 for the entire month of June a year ago. June will be the first month of this year to pass last year, with the exception of January.

SOCIETY EVENTS.

An interesting and novel wedding of last night was that of Mrs. Emma W. Clark, 60 years old, and William Montgomery Rogers, aged 67. The ceremony took place in the old home of the groom, No. 163 North Euclid avenue, Rev. R. R. Meredith performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers were sweethearts away back in the years long past in Hartford, Ct. They became separated and each married. Last winter the bride came to Pasadena to spend the winter. She was a widow and met her girl-day sweetheart, who was a widower, and another wedding was planned.

A pretty wedding of yesterday morning was that of Miss Helen Orcella Wernett and John Raymond Lee, which took place at St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Rev. Scanlan officiating.

A wedding of last night was that of Miss Jennie Darling Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Carpenter, and Le Roy Gould Franklin, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, No. 258 South Madison avenue, Rev. Robert Freeman performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by her niece, Miss Madeline Amly of Providence, R. I., who was maid of honor. Parker Franklin acted as best man.

TREASURER'S DAUGHTER WEDS.

Marries Redondo Beach Man in Pretty Ceremony at St. James Catholic Church—Many Present.

REDONDO BEACH, June 21.—A pretty church wedding was solemnized this morning at St. James Catholic Church, when Miss Ruby Constance Scoles, daughter of City Treasurer George C. Scoles and Mrs. Scoles of Hermosa, was united in marriage to Henry Hiss of this city.

Rev. Father James McMahon performed the ceremony, assisted by Father Michael Conneally of San Pedro and Rev. Father O'Reilly of Los Angeles. Miss Barbara E. Hiss of Hermosa and Miss Jane Maltrey of Los Angeles were the bridesmaids, and August Hiss of Hermosa was the best man.

The bride wore a becoming traveling gown of gray broadcloth and a large white hat trimmed with a white willow plume. The bridesmaids wore white.

The altar of the church was decorated with masses of white lilies and ferns, and the chancel rail was banked with hydrangeas. The church was crowded with friends and relatives of the bride and groom.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party went to the Berth Hotel in Hermosa, where a wedding breakfast was served. About thirty guests were present. The dining-room was elaborately decorated with roses, lilacs and sweet peas.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. George C. Scoles, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hiss, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scoles, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hiss, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Conneally, Oxnard; Mr. and Mrs. P. McNerny, Mrs. G. G. Kerwin, Mrs. Mary Grunn, Mrs. H. McGrath, Oxnard; Mr. and Mrs. P. Connelly, Mr. and Mrs. E. Jones, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. W. Lord, Rev. Father O'Reilly, Rev. Father McMahon, Rev. Father Conneally.

After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Hiss left for a trip through Northern California. Upon their return they will live on Garnet street, Redondo Beach.

GLENDALE.

GLENDALE, June 21.—Many were turned away from the class day exercises of the Glendale High School last night. Participating in the programme were: J. Airle Dix, Emma Pulliam, Catherine Lennox, Rev. S. Lawrence Ward, Lucile Parker, Julius Kranz, Dwight Stephenson, Alexander Badger, H. T. Burleigh, Owen Emery, Granville McClure, Harriet Ware, Evelyn Ryan and Grace Grady.

Death Comes Near to the Victim of Accident.

Golden Eagles Nucleus for Signal Hill Aviary.

LONG BEACH, June 21.—R. B. Simpson, a machinist, was frightfully burned this morning, but saved his life by his presence of mind. Simpson was welding some metal when the end of his gasoline blow pike broke off and the gasoline squirting out upon his clothing ignited, and in a second Simpson was ablaze.

Writhing in pain, Simpson darted out of his shop on East First street and with flames enveloping him ran to a vacant lot adjoining, and throwing himself upon a sand pile, began rolling over and over.

Walter Bryden, a bicycle man startled by the man aflame rushing past his door followed and rendered material assistance by throwing sand upon the blazing form and by the efforts of both the fire was smothered. Simpson is severely burned upon his arms and face, but will recover.

TEACHERS DON'T COME BACK.

Miss Gertrude Upton and Miss Jessie Pierson, members of the High School faculty, and both popular teachers have failed to return their contracts and it is understood will not be teachers in the Long Beach district next year, both having accepted positions in the Los Angeles schools. Miss Pierson has been teacher of biology, while Miss Upton has been for four years head of the mathematics department and coach for the girls basketball team, four-year champions of the county and State, admittedly so because of her coaching.

The congregation of Bethel Friends Church last night celebrated, by burning the mortgage, the release of the church from debt. The congregation bade farewell to its old pastor Rev. Louis Hadley and welcomed the new one, Rev. John Stribling, who comes here from Des Moines, Iowa.

EAGLES FOR SIGNAL HILL.

Thomas C. Hovey, steward of Hotel Virginia, has received two fine golden eagles from the Santa Cruz Mountains, which he will cage at his home on Signal Hill as the nucleus of an aviary he proposes to build up gradually. An uncle in Michigan has about the largest and most costly aviary in the United States.

Bids recently submitted for temporary location of the local postoffice have been returned to the proposers with the request that they include estimates of the additional cost necessary to establish quarters for a postal savings department.

A Long Beach lad, aged 13, named Howland, is in jail at Ontario, charged with passing a worthless check in payment for a bicycle. Young Howland is a smooth talker. Some time ago, with a tale of a big estate coming to him, he induced an automobile dealer to send for a machine, which the boy used for a week.

Fire from an unknown origin, this morning destroyed the carpet-cleaning establishment of John Short, at the foot of Sixth street. The loss is estimated at $500, on which there is partial insurance.

A small flock of gypsy children, unadorned by clothing save nature's garb, shocked beach residents on Seaside boulevard this morning, and the police were called, who chased the naked ones to their homes and warned the parents.

Differences of opinion between the city and the bath-house management, relative to the playing of the band on the beach will probably be settled amicably. It is understood that the latter will submit a proposition to the City Council Friday night, offering a sum close to the amount which the Council thinks the company should pay for the privilege of concerts on the beach, opposite the Pike.

At the Auditorium tomorrow night, the graduating class of the High School will hold its commencement exercises. One hundred and one students will receive diplomas, the largest class in the school's history. A feature of the occasion will be the appearance of the young ladies of the class in gowns, designed for them and most of them made by the wearers at a total cost of $2.80 each.

The United Sunday-schools of Pasadena will hold their annual picnic at the beach tomorrow, and 2000 are expected to attend, coming on special through cars on the Pacific Electric. A programme of sports has been arranged for the afternoon.

SAN PEDRO.

SAN PEDRO, June 21.—The big British tramp steamer Bannockburn, having a net tonnage of 4052 tons, and larger by 200 tons than the Harrison line steamer Centurion, which discharged here last week, sailed from London Sunday in command of Capt. Dent, carrying a general cargo loaded at Antwerp and consigned to Parrat & Co., at this port, San Francisco and Puget Sound ports.

The big freighter has had a run of bad luck since she originally cleared from Antwerp on March 1. On March 3, she was in collision with another steamer in the English channel and was damaged, being beached at Dover, was finally floated and towed to London, where the cargo was unloaded and the vessel repaired. Her cargo has again been stowed and she is now on the way here.

GRACE DOLLAR HOLED.

The steamer Grace Dollar loading a lumber cargo at Union Landing, for this port, struck a rock at that port on Monday, and punched a hole in her hull. Her propellers were bent, making it impossible to turn the engines over. The steamer has been towed to San Francisco for repairs.

ALHAMBRA.

ALHAMBRA, June 21.—The petition asking for the annexation of the territory south of the city, including Granada Park, has again come up for the consideration of the Board of City Trustees. George H. Bancroft of Los Angeles and W. E. Montgomery have appeared before the board to further the interests of the petitioners. City Clerk O. M. Caulk has reported that the names appearing on the petition are correct. City Attorney Walter F. Haas states that the board should call an election to decide the matter.

At the last meeting of the board, Trustee A. C. Weeks said that he was unalterably opposed to annexing any territory whose citizens would not agree to assume their share of the existing bonded indebtedness of the city. The general opinion seems to be against extending the present corporate limits of the city under any circumstances.

WANT LOWER RATES.

Hermosa and Redondo Beach City Trustees Meet for Purpose of Asking Reduction in Fares.

HERMOSA BEACH, June 21.—At a meeting of the City Trustees last night the members were appointed as a committee of the whole to meet next Monday evening with the Redondo Beach City Trustees, at the next regular meeting of the Redondo Beach board, to confer regarding an effort to secure lower rates on the Pacific Electric lines from Los Angeles to the beach.

A cut of commutation rates for Redondo Beach and Hermosa will be asked of the Pacific Electric, equal to that recently made for Santa Monica and Venice. It is probable that the two boards will also take up the matter of securing a 25-cent round-trip rate for the single fares to the beach, a matter that has been often agitated.

Pomona College.

GREAT IS DAY TO FORTY-FOUR.

CLAREMONT CHURCH THRONGED FOR COMMENCEMENT.

Almost Half-Hundred Graduates of the Institution Receive Their Diplomas—Wide Range of Affairs of the World Treated of by the Various Speakers.

CLAREMONT, June 21.—The Claremont Church was thronged this morning with the alumni and friends of the forty-four graduates of Pomona College, at the commencement exercises. Music was rendered by members of senior class. Bishop Johnson of Los Angeles pronounced the invocation.

The commencement speakers and their addresses were: "The Profit from Loss," John Alfred Prizer; "The New Knighthood," Blanche Elizabeth Stafford; "American Race Culture," Charles William Metz; "The Place and Power of Fiction," Helen Rose Kennard; "The American College," Miss Maynard, and "Modern Civilization," Harry Williams Hitchcock.

After the conferring of the degrees by President Blaisdell, announcement was made of the appointment of Mendall G. Frampton, to the professorship of English language of Francis H. White to the professorship of history and of Myron D. Johnson of Cleveland to the associate professorship of romance languages.

The graduates with their degrees and the honors are: Bachelor of arts, summa cum laude; Mary E. Davis, Blanche E. Stafford, Madeline D. Willard, magna cum laude; M. Louis Bangs, Clara L. Bissell, Julian L. Brannan, Marjorie Maynard, Leona E. Mudgett, Solena Savory, Ida M. Shrode, Vinnie R. Stout, cum laude; Delphia Comstock, David L. Crawford, Amanda E. Fairchild, Ernest W. Fischer, Margaret Minney, Helen R. Kennard, Flossie C. Moncrieff, Evangeline E. Rasmussen, Leora M. Smith, John Howard Becker, William W. Clary, Lucia H. Fifield, Joseph G. Garrison, Alice Hoyt, Paul Jennings, Mary Maynard, Homer Seaver, Arthur Walden, Jean Walden, George Wood.

Bachelor of science, summa cum laude; Harry W. Hitchcock, Elva A. Henry, magna cum laude; Charles W. Metz, George Churchill, Lloyd Louis Lorbeer, Joseph D. Nuels, Clarence R. Parker, Hope Lee Potter, John Alfred Prizer, Lloyd Stahl, Gladys R. Stephenson.

Bachelor of music summa cum laude, Bess V. Daniels; magna cum laude, Frank L. Anderson.

The after-dinner speeches at the church in the afternoon were among the most enjoyable features of commencement. In the evening a large number attended the alumni banquet at Claremont Inn.

The senior play, Tuesday evening, was attended by 3500 persons. The out of door setting was perfect for the Indian play "The Thunder Spear," which was one of the most spectacular plays ever given in the Greek Theater.

GROVES DELIGHT HIM.

Former Governor of State of Sonora Visits Orange Orchards About Covina and Expresses Pleasure.

COVINA, June 21.—Gen. Don Luis Torres, former Governor of the State of Sonora, Mex., enjoyed an inspection of the orange groves of Covina today, in company with A. A. Neil, a Covina resident, who is the proprietor of a large soda cracker factory at Guadalajara. Mr. Neil became a personal friend of the former Governor during the time when the Neil factory was situated at the capital of Sonora, the city of Hermosillo. Since the insurrection in Mexico, Gov. Torres has been supplanted by the choice of the party now in power. He is making a visit to Southern California and is much interested in the orange industry, being especially delighted with the great growth of the business in the Covina Valley. In short time spent here, Gov. Torres was driven through more than twenty miles of groves.

HOUSER-TOWNSEND.

The wedding of Dennis V. Houser, a Covina ranchman, and Miss Elva Townsend, took place yesterday, at Glendale, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. S. Utter of the Christian Church. The couple left for a stay of fifteen days in the vicinity of San Francisco, and on returning will occupy a new cottage which Mr. Houser is building on his twenty-acre orange ranch in Charter Oak.

VENICE.

VENICE, June 21.—The advocates of a greater Venice say they will at once circulate a petition for the calling of a special election for the annexation of more territory to the city. The lines proposed by the late petition were not satisfactory to the outside territory and they will be changed to meet the wishes of the people.

Mrs. Grace McDowell, aged 27, wife of Charles McDowell, died last night at the Santa Monica Hospital and today her one-day-old babe passed away. She recently came here with her husband from Imperial Valley.

Marching On.

CONTRACT LET FOR CHANNEL.

LOS ANGELES HARBOR TO BE IMPROVED DAILY.

Steam Yacht Being Built to Carry Mail to Mexico—Government Dredging May Be Finished in Ninety Days—First Municipal Wharf Almost a Reality.

WILMINGTON, June 21.—The Consolidated Lumber Company of this city today let the contract to the Standard American Dredging Company of San Francisco for deepening and widening the channel in front of its private wharf in Los Angeles harbor. This work, which involves the expenditure of over $40,000, is the most important to be undertaken in the inner harbor for a number of months, and is made necessary for the reason that the lumber company, which is one of the largest on the Pacific Coast, has for some months been compelled to work two shifts in its yards and mills in order to keep abreast of its rapidly increasing business.

Two years ago the Consolidated spent about $100,000 in the construction of wharves and the dredging a channel to its yards in this city, the improvements having been made necessary for the accommodation of its own large fleet of vessels, plying between here and the forests of the North. The present plans for improvements include the widening of the channels to over 200 feet, making it twenty-five feet deep at low tide and extending it about 300 feet farther inland. The wharf will then be made 250 feet longer.

MAIN FOR ENSENADA.

A. F. Leffingwell, manager of the Wilmington Machine Company, has just been awarded a contract from the Mexican government for the carrying of mail between San Diego and Ensenada. For carrying on the work, a company composed of local citizens and residents of Mexico, has been organized. A steam yacht, seventy feet long and having a ten-foot beam, is already under course of construction in the boat-building department of the Wilmington Machine Company. As soon as it is completed, the work of carrying the mail will begin. It is expected that the new craft will develop a speed of not less than sixteen knots an hour, which will make it possible to complete the round trip between San Diego and Ensenada once every twenty-four hours.

The big suction dredger Oakland, operated by the Standard American Dredging Company, was today placed on the last cut that will be necessary to complete the contract with the government for the widening and deepening of the east channel. It is now thought that the work will have been finished within less than ninety days. This channel, which is nearly two miles long, is being widened to 200 feet, with a depth of twenty-one feet at low tide, and is already one of the most important sections of the harbor.

The task of constructing the first municipal wharf in Los Angeles harbor, located at the foot of Fries street in this city, is now rapidly nearing an end, the last granite block of riprapping having been dropped into place this afternoon. The superstructure will be completed within a few days, and, after a small fill west of the wharf has been made, it will be ready for the handling of commerce.

OCEAN PARK.

OCEAN PARK, June 21.—Abe Richman is critically ill in the hospital here, as the result of a beating he claims to have received at the hands of Sam Rosenthal. This morning the injured man underwent a serious operation and his recovery is in doubt, it having been found that the arteries and membranes of his groin were seriously affected. Rosenthal is held under a small bond awaiting developments. Both are members of Jewish families. The sick man says he was assaulted and knocked down by Rosenthal and an assistant, the latter having held Richman while Rosenthal administered the punishment. The assault followed a dispute over the rental of a storeroom on the ocean front occupied by Rosenthal.

PERRIS IRRIGATED FARMS

Do You Want to Double Your Money?

Here's an opportunity to secure splendid land—where profits are certain from a variety of crops—and where you can count on doubling your money in only two years' time. You know of the fertile Perris Valley, famous for its productive alfalfa ranches. There's where this land is located, close to the city of Perris, and near Riverside—so that city advantages are within easy reach. Alfalfa here produces up to $125 per acre, and developed ranches sell as high as $450 an acre. White potatoes, with two crops a year, pay $200 to $250 an acre. Sweet potatoes run up to $400 per acre, and onions can be made to produce $600 an acre. Apricots, Peaches and Pears pay well. Several large firms offer to make contracts for the fruit for ten years, at good prices. You can see the wonderful possibilities of this rich soil. As others see it, the demand, already heavy, will grow. Today you can secure selected land at only $100 to $150 an acre, including a valuable water-right. Two years from now you will pay double for the same land. Present terms of payment are very easy. Come in and get my interesting booklet and learn about my FREE EXCURSIONS.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

ence Magee. Mrs. Magee died a martyr to Christianity, having gone as a missionary, working in the slums of Rome, where she contracted a dreadful disease from which she died. She was an aunt of J. E. Sargent of this city and formerly resided here.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight C. Lefferts left yesterday in their motor for a six-weeks' trip up the Coast, planning to make stops at Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and Vancouver, and other points in British Columbia. On their return, they will spend some time at San Jose and Del Monte.

W. Anderson, a carpenter, was thrown to the ground from a roof which he was shingling yesterday, the board on which he was standing breaking. He received a long cut on the face. A wrist was dislocated, and an arm badly wrenched, in addition to several bruises.

NEEDLES.

NEEDLES, June 21.—A dispatch has just been received from Washington designating Needles as a depository for postal bank funds. The news was received by the people here with much congratulation.

Ontario.

FINDS WOMAN IN SAD CONDITION.

WIDOW OF A FORMER WEALTHY RESIDENT WANDERS.

Husband, a Successful Sea Captain, Met Financial Reverses Just Before His Death—Members of School Board Elected—Numerous Clergymen at Parish Festival.

ONTARIO, June 21.—Numb with cold and damp, suffering from hunger and wandering in her mind, Mrs. J. Garcia, 86 years of age, a former wealthy and pioneer resident of this city, was this morning found by Mrs. Ella G. Brown lying in a helpless condition in the latter's yard at No. 120 East B street.

Mrs. Garcia is the widow of the late Capt. Joseph Garcia, an aristocratic and wealthy old sea captain, and one of the pioneers of this section. The couple formerly resided in a handsome residence at Eighteenth street and Euclid avenue. Just prior to the captain's death, some years ago, he met with financial reverses and when he died left his widow practically penniless.

Of late Mrs. Garcia has been in San Francisco. Late last night she wandered back to Ontario, her old home town. According to her story this morning, she sought a night's lodging at several places and being refused she finally went to the home of Mrs. Brown, whom she had formerly known. Seeing no lights in the house, and heartsick she wrapped herself up in some sacks which she found lying in the yard and spent the night beneath an orange tree.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES ELECTED.

In a quiet election yesterday, R. B. Campbell, J. O. Mills, C. C. Graber of Ontario and E. C. Harwood and H. C. Kennedy of Upland were elected to the board of the new union high school district.

Reports were current yesterday that Upland people were voting solid for five Upland men, while Ontario people were apparently taking little interest in the election. But the vote was exceptionally light in both cities, there being 162 ballots cast here and fifty-five in Upland. Practically the only candidates voted on at all were those which were elected and the result was at no time in question. The total votes for each candidate were as follows: Campbell 211, Mills 212, Graber 209, Harwood 216 and Kennedy 215.

Probably the first action to be taken by the new board will be the calling of an election for the purpose of voting bonds for the purchase of Ontario High School property from the Ontario school district. It is the plan of the city Board of Education to use the money thus obtained in erecting a handsome new grammar school building in the southern part of the city and make other improvements.

PARISH FESTIVAL.

Tomorrow will be the closing day of the parish festival of Christ Episcopal Church and clergymen from all over this diocese and San Francisco are here to help celebrate the event. This is a big event and seldom celebrated outside of large city churches.

INJURED BY EXPLODING GAS.

Orange Man Seriously Hurt — City Trustee Resigns—Attempt at Recall "Dies A-Bornin!"

ORANGE, June 21.—By the explosion of gas in a furnace at the flour mill of the Olive Milling Company today, Edward Dembigh was badly burned and cut about the face and hands. He was unconscious for about two hours. If injured internally, his condition may become critical.

J. P. Boring has handed in his resignation as City Trustee. As yet the board has not acted upon the resignation, but it will be accepted with regrets. E. H. Smith is slated for appointment as his successor. Boring's business interests prevent him giving the time the office requires.

An attempt made to recall two of the City Trustees, Bates and Eltiste, seems to have "died a-bornin." The petition was started two weeks ago, but the required number of signatures could not be secured and the procedure was dropped. Bates has resigned on account of ill-health. It was the intention of the petitioners to proceed against Eltiste, but they evidently have failed in their effort.

Fred Franke of No. 904 Stafford street has received a letter from the American Consul at Chihuahua stating that Alfred Franke, son of Fred Franke, was liberated with the other American prisoners on the 12th inst. Franke was taken prisoner at the battle of Casas Grandes.

ANAHEIM.

ANAHEIM, June 21.—William S. Scheifell, who for five years has been stenographer and assistant book-keeper at the Los Alamitos sugar factory office, will return soon from a vacation and bring with him as a bride Miss Lillian Bradford, who has also been stenographer in the same office for a couple of years.

Bids are now filed with the Post-office Department at Washington for the establishment of a star route mail service from Los Alamitos connection with the Pacific Electric line at Artesia.

Santa Barbara.

HE SETS RAILWAY REPORT AT REST.

LOCAL LINE WILL NOT BE WITHDRAWN FROM CITY.

President of Edison Company Says on Other Hand Bonds Have Been Sold and Large Sum of Money Will Be Spent Making Extensions. Divorce Scandal.

SANTA BARBARA, June 21.—John B. Miller, president of the Southern California Edison Company, and W. A. Brackenridge, also a high official of the company, were in the city yesterday attending a meeting of the directors of the Santa Barbara Gas and Electric Company, when Miller announced that his company has no intention of withdrawing the local street railway from the city. On the contrary, he stated that $608,000 worth of bonds have been sold to eastern capitalists and that $150,000 will be spent in improving the line and adding extensions during the coming year.

There had been rumors to the effect that the Edison would desert this field with the railroad, and the denial by Miller is of great interest locally. The certificate of bonded indebtedness of the Santa Barbara Gas and Electric Company was filed with the County Clerk yesterday.

BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS.

Among the important improvements to be made in Santa Barbara and Montecito this year will be the erection of three cottages in Shore Acres to be followed within six months by three more. They are to be built by Dr. R. W. Miller, who has purchased a frontage of 400 feet. P. H. Rice, Col. C. C. Hunt and H. W. Moore, owners of the Lone Tree tract, also have arranged to make improvements on their property. Upon the return of White from a tour of Europe, the tract will be graded and homes erected, the building restrictions calling for $5000 residences.

Henry E. Bothin of San Francisco yesterday purchased a lot 80x200 feet at State and Gutierrez streets. He plans to erect on it the largest garage in California.

NUPTIAL ROSE.

A red rose worn by Lucian Beal, a well-known resident of Goleta, was what identified him to his prospective bride when she alighted from the train here yesterday morning, their courtship having been carried on through the mails. Beal had been twice married, the second time through the aid of a matrimonial agency, and it being a happy union, he tried it again. His present bride, who was Mrs. Anna Mariah Attwater, came from Baltimore to find a man wearing a red rose on the lapel of his coat. Beal is 60 years old; his bride confesses to 51.

POLITICAL BOOM.

A boom has been started here to have Loius Jones, a Montecito millionaire, appointed as a State Highway Commissioner. The Commercial Club, bankers of the city and the realty board yesterday sent telegrams to the Governor, asking him to favorably consider Jones.

Miss Hazel E. Donoho of San Francisco, a graduate of the University of California, was yesterday elected teacher of history in the High School. She formerly taught in the John C. Fremont High School in Oakland.

VICTIM'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of little Glenn Wolgamott was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock and was largely attended. George Haynes, aged 13, who struck Wolgamott in the stomach, was released from the custody of the probation officer yesterday, the Coroner's jury returning a verdict of accidental death.

TIP FROM HERE.

A final rule in divorce has been entered in the suit of Jane W. Hall of Chester, Pa., against Harry D. Coates, son of former Mayor J. R. T. Coates of that city, according to a dispatch from Media, Pa., Kingsley Montgomery, Master, recommended that a decree be made declaring the marriage void.

This is the result of evidence submitted to show that Coates was married to a woman named Lottredge at the time of his marriage with Miss Jane Hall. The marriage was performed between her and Coates in 1904. They ceased to live together in June, 1910, when Mrs. Coates was convinced that her husband was married to another woman, through a letter written to his first wife.

The Master finds that Coates was married to Miss F. T. Lottridge on October 10, 1901, at Lead, S. D., and she is still his wife. The libellant declared before the Master that she first learned of the previous marriage of Coates through a letter addressed to her husband when he was in New York. The letter was from Mrs. F. Lottridge Coates, dated Santa Barbara. She declared that she communicated with Mrs. Coates and learned that she was the wife of Coates. She also received letters, which she identified as the handwriting of Coates to his first wife and letters by the latter.

VETERANS FIRE LAST SALUTE.

Military Burial Accorded Spanish War Officer in Rosedale Cemetery. Many Sorrowful Friends Attend.

Many of his friends and his comrades in the Spanish War yesterday attended the military funeral of Lieut.-Col. W. J. Fife. The services began at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the Fife residence, No. 909 East Sunset boulevard, Hollywood. Rev. George C. Patterson officiated. The pall-bearers were Capt. A. C. F. Dee, D. A. Harbour, E. J. Louis, J. K. Polk, George Triggs and Palmer Reed, all Spanish War veterans.

Interment was made in the veterans's plot at Rosedale Cemetery and the veterans took full charge of the services at the grave. In the absence of Chaplain J. F. Ormsby, B. H. Harbour officiated as acting chaplain. Commander W. W. Cooper of Roosevelt Camp No. 9 presided. The regular ritualistic service was used. Taps was sounded by Corp. Charles Z. Bailey, and the salute was fired by a squad from Co. B, Seventh Regiment, N.G.C.

ENDS LIFE WITH POISON.

Ranchman of Placentia Takes Cyanide of Potassium With Suicidal Intent—High School Site.

FULLERTON, June 21.—Dead from the effects of cyanide of potassium, taken with suicidal intent, the body of Edwin W. Brewer, a prominent rancher of Placentia, was found after several hours' search, late yesterday, in the orange orchard back of his residence. He placed the potion in a cup, knelt down by a tree and drank the drug. Death which he sought evidently came almost instantly. The body was found face downward.

The news of the suicide created a sensation in Placentia and Fullerton, where the dead man was well known. He was in good circumstances and apparently had no reason to end his life. He leaves, among other relatives, a wife and two children.

Brewer is believed to have been mentally deranged. Some years ago he suffered from typhoid fever and was sent to the asylum for a few weeks, but was discharged as cured. To the day of his death he appeared in good health.

In conversation with a druggist, Brewer asked what quantity of morphine or cyanide he should take if he were going to die by his own hand. The druggist, considering the matter as a joke, replied that he would not take cyanide, for that drug would give him no time to change his mind. Brewer remarked in reply: 'In that case when I go, I guess I'll take the cyanide route." The act of yesterday was undoubtedly the culmination of a long-contemplated course.

The body of the suicide was brought to this city this morning and placed in the morgue of Ives Warren & Salisbury, pending the Coroner's inquest. Brewer was a native of Canada and about 48 years of age.

HIGH SCHOOL SITE SELECTED.

The meeting of the school trustees to consider plans and other matters in connection with the erection of a magnificent Union High School in the district on the Grug tract in the east part of Fullerton was held at the High School Monday afternoon. The tract consists of about fifteen acres and was selected unanimously by the trustees after considering several offered. The price was $15,000 and includes twelve shares of A. U. W. Company stock and a small house valued at about $1200.

There was considerable criticism of the board's selection, owing to the distance of the site from the thickly-populated section of the city, it being about a mile from the postoffice, but the district is not far from the center of population. The individual group plan for the High School was a suggestion to the board of trustees by Prof. Delbert Brunton, who has worked out in some detail this new arrangement and had a drawing showing the general plan. Some time ago Prof. Brunton showed this plan to a prominent Los Angeles architect, and since that time the architect has incorporated the idea in his plans for the Pasadena Polytechnic High School.

The individual group plan, as suggested by Prof. Brunton, differs from the old group plan in that there are buildings for each department, making the individual buildings smaller. As outlined by Prof. Brunton, the plant for this district's High School will be a most elaborate one.

The plant would consist in all of about twelve or fourteen buildings, as follows: Library and administration, 70x100 feet; science, 60x60 feet; agriculture, 60x60 feet; commercial department, 60x60 feet; English, 60x60 feet; languages and history, 60x60 feet; mathematics, 60x60 feet; auditorium, 100x60 feet; gymnasium, 140x60 feet; polytechnic building, cafeteria and central heating and pumping plant. A grand stand for the athletic field is also planned.

The cafeteria feature will be a unique one. It is Prof. Brunton's belief that it can be made nearly self-maintaining. This would give the pupils a chance to have warm lunches at noon.

As soon as the amount of money that will be needed is decided upon the board will call the bond election.

SAYS HE'LL GO HIGHER.

District Attorney of San Bernardino County Proposes to Go to Supreme Court with the Akey Case.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 21.—Dist-Atty. Goodcell today announced that he will carry the D. H. Akey criminal case to the Supreme Court, and ask a rehearing. The District Court of Appeal at Los Angeles Tuesday reversed the decision of the Superior Court, which sentenced Akey to San Quentin for twenty-five years, he having been found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of Ludti Valentine, an Ontario girl. The Court of Appeal sent the case back for trial, holding that the trial judge erred in certain instructions to the jury.

SELL AT ADVANCE.

W. A. Downey and E. D. Boren have sold their holdings on the south side of Third street, west of D, 44x135 feet, to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thomas of San Jacinto for $23,000, or at a rate of $500 a front foot. The property sold is improved with two store buildings, occupied by the American Tea Company and the Vogue Millinery store. Four and a half years ago the sellers bought the property of A. H. Ham, R. C. Harbinson and B. F. Bledsoe for $21,000.

OVER "MUSH" BALL.

William Dorsh, captain of the Urbita Stars, was arraigned in the township court this forenoon, charged with assault upon a Rialto ball player named Tracey. He was released on $500 bonds pending the trial. The arraignment was attended by a crowd of Rialto persons, who later had a lengthy conference with the District Attorney. The trouble occurred in the course of an altercation over a "mush" ball, at Urbita Sunday afternoon.

HURT BY BLAST.

News has been received here that H. P. Wilbur and C. H. Eckerson, miners, were severely injured in a shaft on the Riverside zinc property at Goodspring. Just before they had descended the shaft another shift had discharged eight blasts, or supposed the blast of the eight prepared had exploded. One proved to be a slow blast and this caught the two men. It is believed the victims will recover.

A marriage license was issued here today to Alfred J. Allison, native of Illinois, age 37, and Kathryn E. Dalton, native of Iowa, age 24, residents of Los Angeles.

SANTA ANA.

SANTA ANA, June 21.—The Santa Ana Veteran Odd Fellows Association organized here last night with forty-eight members. SANTA FE ADDS TO FACILITIES.

ANAHEIM SUGAR FACTORY TO BE MADE EFFICIENT.

According to Outlook Beets Will Not Be Ready to Harvest Until Near End of July—New Company Being Organized for the Manufacture of Patent Concrete Poles.

ANAHEIM, June 21.—At the Anaheim sugar factory there is increased activity this week on account of the work of the Santa Fe construction forces, which are putting in $15,000 worth of sidings, tresles and other railroad yard accommodations to enable the rapid and economical handling of the factory's big shipping business. The entire yard system will be finished within ten days more, and ready for handling beets in the factory.

The present outlook is that beets in the territory of the Anaheim Sugar Company will not be ready to harvest before July 25, and it is believed that there will be little, if any, territory in Orange county that will be able to take beets from the ground before that date.

The Anaheim factory will be ready in time for the first beets from its acreage. The builders of the plant reasonably expect that it will excel the best work ever done by a new factory erected on the Coast, and that it will take rank in efficiency of operation from the very start with the highest rated plants in the State.

Work in the factory building is going ahead very rapidly under the hands of the skilled factory operators who are everywhere on the job, under the splendid directing abilities of Superintendent Egge, by whom every one in the plant swears and in whom all have the greatest confidence.

Anaheim sugar-beet dumps at Como and Westminster will be finished this week. Work on the Norwalk and Downey dumps will be started next week and finished within fifteen days.

PROSPECTIVE NEW INDUSTRY.

A new industry for Anaheim is about to be promoted by a new company which has been organized with W. J. Orr, a construction man, at its head, and C. E. Holcomb as secretary.

The operations of the company are to be made upon a patent recently obtained by Mr. Orr for a reinforced sectional concrete pole. Tests made of the pole determine that it can be extended to a considerable height and that it can be put up to resist great pressure.

WORKERS SCARCE.

J. R. Williams, operating hay presses in La Habra Valley, was here yesterday looking for laborers, but was obliged to leave empty-handed, there being no idle men in the city. Mr. Williams states that this is the condition throughout northern Orange county, and that in no preceding year has there eben such a scarcity as now exists.

PLAN SHORT CAMPAIGN.

Committee at Work for Votes for Proposed Imperial Irrigation District—Planting Date Offshoots.

EL CENTRO, June 21—The general committee in charge of the campaign to secure the formation of the proposed Imperial irrigation district, which is to include practically all of the lands of the Imperial Valley that can be irrigated by the present irrigation system and reasonable extensions, met in El Centro Saturday and discussed detailed plans for the campaign. The election is called for July 12, and the campaign will be short and lively. It is the purpose of the committee to place in the hands of each voter matter setting forth the points of advantage in the new law governing the formation of irrigation districts. Several public meetings will also be held.

PLANTING DATE OFFSHOOTS.

The California Date Company, owner of the date gardens at Heber generally known as the Chumard date farm, is extending its date acreage. The original planting was seventeen acres. The company is now setting fifteen acres more to date offshoots, mostly from its own trees, and a considerable number of seedlings is being planted. The offshoots are of the Deglet Noor variety, while the seedlings are of seven or eight varieties, from which it is believed will be developed some varieties that are certain to be valuable here. J. E. Brock, recently of the Kansas State Agricultural College, at Manhattan, Kan., is in charge of the work.

HEMET.

HEMET, June 21.—The last page the record of the most brilliant year in the existence of the Hemet Union High School, was written this evening, when the graduating exercises of the class of 1911 were held.

The members of the class are: S. Chester McIntosh, Domencia Domenigoni, Dorothea Bradford, Charles Whitmore Bartlett, Jessie F. Garrigan, Clyde O. Grover, Rupert C. Wedemeyer, Mamie L. Truelsen, Edna Mary Plato, Wallace J. Lee, Raymond B. Rickard, Dora C. Truelsen, Lorraine Ankrum, Raymond E. Proebstel and Mary E. Carson.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Circle Picnic.

The Ladies Circle No. 11, of the First Methodist Church, will give a picnic today at Eastlake Park. Mrs. John Whitfield, chairman of the circle, has arranged an interesting programme and a good time is promised all participants.

Bartlett, D.D.

In recognition of the services of Rev. Dana W. Bartlett, superintendent of the Bethlehem Institutions, in world and civic betterment as a social writer and worker, Grinnell College, of Grinnell, Iowa, granted him the degree of Doctor of Divinity at its commencement last week. Notice of the award reached Dr. Bartlett yesterday.

Must Equip for Saving.

The postmaster yesterday received advices from Washington that hereafter all premises rented for postoffice purposes must be equipped at the expense of the owner with complete facilities for conducting a postal savings bank. This applies to city branches, as well as to rural offices far from a central savings bank equipment.

Benefit Concert.

A benefit concert for the music fund of the First Baptist Church will be given at the church tonight under the direction of Miss Olive Wernlund. Miss May Wright will give negro dialect readings, F. C. McPherson will render Irish folk songs and A. A. MacCurda will sing French and German melodies. All are welcome. No admission will be charged but a silver offering will be taken.

Roof Festival.

Sixty young business girls, members of the junior clubs of the Young Women's Christian Association, entertained with a roof festival last evening. The programme consisted of a lantern drill, May-pole dance, the "Dairymaids' Chorus" from "The Mikado," and a one-act play, entitled, "Maids, Modes and Manners." Refreshments were served on the seventh floor of the building.

Normal Faculty Reception.

An informal reception was tendered by the faculty of the State Normal School to the graduates, yesterday afternoon. It was held on the campus, south of the main building and was simply a friendly word of parting between the teachers and their pupils. President and Mrs. Millspaugh, Dr. and Mrs. Everett Shepardson, Miss Harriet Dunn and Miss F. Osgood stood in the receiving line, and music was furnished by the orchestra.

Sweet Potatoes Dressed Up.

Sweet potatoes in tissue paper! Sounds strange, but that is just the way the first consignment of sweet potatoes arrived in the city yesterday morning. There was only one small box, but they were so extra fancy that they were worth nearly their weight in copper. They sold at 15 cents a pound wholesale, and will bring three times that price on the hotel tables. Coachella Valley carried off the honors of production.

Splendid Lecture on Yosemite.

Mrs. Frances King Headlee, one of the most entertaining women speakers of the West, will deliver an illustrated lecture on the Yosemite Valley, this evening in the Y.M.C.A. auditorium. She has more than 100 fine views taken in the valley, and men, women and children of the city are invited to see them, entirely free of charge. The excursion party to this wonder spot of the Coast is being rapidly filled up and those persons desiring to go should make their reservations at once, to J. L. Graham at the Y.M.C.A.

New Thriller Built.

A remarkably fast piece of work was done at Luna Park when yesterday a trial of the latest thriller, known as "Shooting the Rapids," was successfully made by the management previous to the opening Sunday. The attraction was erected at a cost of $25,000, within twenty days, the mechanics working in twenty-four hour shifts. The contrivance is 149 feet in height and 400 feet long. In adorning it 30,000 yards of canvas were used. A powerful arc lamp surmounts the pinnacle. Besides this light, there are 6000 incandescent lamps for exterior ad interior decorative purposes.

Senator Nash Here.

United States Senator Nash, of Boston, with his wife, is staying at the Alexandria until this morning. He arrived yesterday morning and has only sufficient time to take a few flying trips in automobiles about the city. Senator Nash is to lecture on "Christian Citizenship" before the N.E.A. convention in San Francisco. "There is room in politics and in all civic affairs for higher motives than the sordid ones usually ascribed," said he. "A little religion injected into the duties of every man, whether they be for state or self, cannot but help purify the individual, but will help to raise the general moral standard of citizenship wherever it is applied."

Pennsylvania People's Picnic.

The Pennsylvania Society of Los Angeles will hold its twenty-eighth annual picnic at Redondo Beach next Saturday. To celebrate the event addresses will be made by prominent Angelenos, who formerly lived in that State. There will also be a short sea excursion on the tug Redondo and athletic sports and swimming races will make the day an enjoyable one. Notices have been sent to all members of the organization, requesting them to be on hand with well-filled lunch baskets. The Committee on Arrangements is composed of E. E. Overholtzer, Lloyd L. Miller, Mrs. Dr. G. B. Speer, Miss Nellie McCrea, Samuel Brown, W. H. Lowns and C. H. Haskins.

FIREMAN CONVALESCING.

Member of Department Who Fell Through Pole Hole In His Sleep Is Much Better.

O. W. Fitch, the young fireman who fell through the pole hole of Engine-house No. 1 on Aliso street, the night of May 7, when he was walking in his sleep, was reported last night by Dr. E. G. Goodrich, the attending physician, to have recovered almost completely.

Fitch is at Venice, convalescing. Efforts are being made to obtain for him a pension from the city. Fitch was on duty in the home of Company No. 1 when he arose in his sleep and started for the pole hole, missing the pole and falling to the hard pavement some twenty feet below.

He was picked up with a basal fracture of the skull and pronounced fatally injured, but he rallied nicely, although he bled from the ear for a week, and is now deemed almost completely recovered.

"He is the gamest fellow I ever saw," said Dr. Goodrich last night, "and even when he is talking to me, he tries to make the least of it all. But his face is paralyzed on one side, and that affects his sight so that I hardly think he will ever again work on the department."

TWO HURT BY FALLS.

Bohemian and Book-keeper Injured by Accidents Last Evening—Taken to the Receiving Hospital.

J. H. Barta, a Bohemian living at the Germania Hotel, was perhaps fatally injured last night at First and Vignes streets when he fell while jumping from a moving street car. He probably sustained a fracture of the skull.

E. J. Dutch of No. 116 East Tenth street, a book-keeper, while trying to board a moving car at Fifth and Main streets last night fell and sustained a painful abrasion of the knee and nose.

Both men were taken to the Receiving Hospital.

CHARGED WITH BRIBERY.

Man Arrested Last Night and Taken to County Jail on Accusation in Connection With the Busse Case.

Frank Morel was arrested last evening and taken to the County Jail on a bribery charge.

The case is connected with that of former Patrolman Busse and involves alleged bribery in connection with a house of prostitution.

FIRE VICTIM'S FUNERAL.

The body of Fred Ball, business man and chief of the fire department of Maricopa, who was killed by the fall of a live wire in the oil city on Tuesday, was brought to this city last night and placed in an open casket in the chapel of Orr and Booth's undertaking establishment. The local lodge of Elks, of which Ball was a member, will have charge of the funeral, which will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the chapel and in Evergreen Cemetery.

BALK AT INSPECTION.

Dairymen in Tulare County Object to Ordinance Proposed by Supervisors—Hearing Postponed.

VISALIA, June 21.—The proposal of the Supervisors of Tulare county to frame and enforce a strict ordinance providing for the inspection of the dairies of the county and an inspection of all dairy cattle for tuberculosis has met with a strong protest from a number of dairymen of the county. It is not likely, however, that this protest will be of any avail, though it has had the effect of postponing the final consideration of the matter.

The Supervisors spent yesterday and today discussing this proposition and hearing those in favor and opposed to an ordinance as indicated. Among the former was State Veterinarian Charles Keane. Some of the dairymen are opposed to inspection of any kind. Others declare that if their cattle are to be inspected, a similar law should be enforced against the stockmen of the county.

Several of the latter were on hand to protest against such an arrangement and were backed up by Dr. Keane, who stated that a project of such a nature would be impracticable and will not be tackled by his department as long as he is in charge of it. It was the contention of the stockmen that tuberculosis does not affect their range cattle, except in extreme instances and that they are always subjected to a rigid inspection at market points, anyhow. The Supervisors put over the matter until July 6.

LOOKING FOR BATTLE.

Force of Federals Reported Twelve Miles from Tia Juana and Engagement Expected Within a Few Hours.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, June 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Word was received here from the insurrecto camp in Tia Juana at 1 o'clock a.m. that a force of 600 Federals is supposed to be ten or twelve miles southeast of that town. A battle is looked for at Tia Juana at daybreak. The insurrecto force numbers 300.

BARRY APPOINTED.

SACRAMENTO, June 21.—The State Board of Control announced today the appointment of John H. Barry of San Francisco as assistant accountant to the board. Barry will receive a salary of $2700 a year.

EDITOR AXTELL'S TRIAL SET.

STOCKTON (Cal.) June 21.—Late this afternoon, S. B. Axtell, editor of the Lodi Sentinel, who on June 16 shot and killed Charles Sellars of Lodi, was arraigned before Justice A. C. Parker of this city and his preliminary trial set for June 30 at 10 o'clock.

NEW POSTAL BANKS DESIGNATED

WASHINGTON, June 21. — Postmaster General Hitchcock today named fifty postal savings depositories, making the number to date 800. Among the newly designated offices, which will receive deposits July 22, are: Redwood City, Santa Clara, Santa Maria, Cal., and Lewiston, Idaho.

Five negroes sentenced to be hanged yesterday for the murder of W. H. Archie, a plumber, who was robbed and killed near his home in Oklahoma City on the night of March 9, have been given a new lease of life. John Henry Prather was given a respite until July 7. Charles Hosey, "Bub" Johnson, Elijah Turner and James Holmes perfected appeals which acted as a stay.

For the first time in its ninety-three years of existence, both the valedictory and the salutatory honors at the New York institution for the deaf and dumb in New York City were awarded this year to students who not only are deaf mutes, but also blind. Miss Ella M. Hopkins is the valedictorian and Miss Catherine Pederson, the salutatorian.

Out of Merrie England.

SOUTHLAND'S BEAUTY TO HONOR CROWNING OF BRITAIN'S KING.

Daughters of Empire, Loyal Angeleno Subjects of His Gracoius Majesty, George V, to Blend Union Jack and Stars and Stripes Tonight in Gorgeous Coronation Ball, a Brilliant Miniature of Festal London.

WHILE Old Lunnon Town is seething in a turmoil of hundreds of thousands of the world's notables jostling one another at the coronation of good King George, the loyal subjects of His Majesty and their legion of friends in Los Angeles will tonight give a coronation ball and entertainment at the Assembly rooms at Sixteenth and Flower streets, which will be one of the most beautiful affairs that have been seen in Los Angeles in many moons.

It will be a stunning spectacle of the beauty and social elect of Los Angeles in typical dances of the British Empire and garbed in the gorgeous costumes of the early English periods.

The affair is to be given under the auspices of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire and will be the semi-official celebration in Los Angeles of the British coronation.

All day yesterday a force of workingmen under the tutelage of the officials of the Daughters of the Empire were busily engaged in decorating the beautiful rooms. Great masses of flags of almost every nation were brought into use. Wagon loads of asparagus plumosus and flowers were utilized and when the shades of evening were falling the big rooms presented a spectacle of marvelous beauty.

At 8:15 o'clock tonight the doors will be thrown open and the regent and vice-regents of the Daughters of the Empire, assisted by a number of well-known Los Angeles society folk, will receive the guests while the orchestra will be playing the national anthem of Old England, to be followed by "America."

Following the reception Mayor Alexander will propose a toast to King George of England and three real old British cheers. It will be drunk standing and will be the signal for the opening of the big dance floor.

Following a brief programme of dances to afford an opportunity for the guests to become acquainted the floor will again be cleared and the spectacular portion of the programme will be presented.

First will come a stately minuet, England's most cherished dance. It will be performed by eight charming young Los Angeles girls, chosen for their beauty and ability in the art of Terpsichore. The young ladies are Miss Lillius Ford, Miss Frances Vermilyea, Miss Cecelia Gillespie, Miss Marion Judah, Miss Edith Englehart, Miss Serilla Jones, Miss Mispah Yankie and Miss Florence Danforth. They have been under the training of Mrs. Brita Stoot for the last two weeks and are letter perfect in their pretty dance.

They will wear costumes of the early Victorian period, of a character to well set off the native attractions of the fair dancers themselves. The girls have devoted many days of hard work to mastering the intricacies of their dance.

Following the minuet will come the Scottist reel, in which four men in Highland costumes will dance to the wierd music of the bagpipes. The men who will perform this dance are professionals and are the only such to participate in the evening's entertainment.

One of the features of the evening will be th Irish jig, in which Miss Marie Vallely and Mrs. Mills will participate. Costumes of old Ireland will be worn and the graceful performance is expected to add the crowning touch to the light-toed recapitulation of things British.

With the conclusion of the special programme the floor will again be cleared and dancing will be the order of the evening until 11 o'clock, when a light supper will be served. Following this dancing will continue until the wee sma' hours of the morning.

Mrs. C. M. Praeger, chairman of the Entertainment Committee of the Daughters of the Empire has been especially active in preparing for the affair tonight and, with pardonable enthusiasm, she said yesterday that the coronation ball would be one of the notable events of the season in Los Angeles. The vice-regents, Mrs. Fred Winstanley, Mrs. A. M. Morgan, and Mrs. A. Harcourt Wilson have also been very active in the mass of detailed work necessary for the preparation of the affair.

NOT ANXIOUS TO FACE TRIAL.

Alleged Bank Embezzler Causing Trouble by Resisting Efforts to Take Him from Mexico Jail.

Difficulty concerning the extradition of Wilson B. Evans, alleged to have embezzled large sums of money from the Farmers' and Merchants National Bank several months ago, has been experienced by the Federal authorities. The latter report that Evans is making a hard fight to remain at Acapulco, where he has been held in jail while negotiations were pending.

United States Marshal Youngworth has received orders to bring Evans to Los Angeles as soon as matters can be arranged with the Mexican government. He expects that the cessation of hostilities across the border will expedite the affair.

HEAVY JOLTING FOR LISSNER IN THE LIGHT-RATE HEARING.

Councilmen and the Good Government Leaders Turn Against Boss and His Utilities Board, and There's Wriggling and Squirming Under Charges of Incompetency—Rates Themselves Lost Sight Of.

LISSNER qualified for the presidency of the "In-bad Club" yesterday afternoon when the Council began the light-rate hearing. So contumeliously did the Council and the other Good Government protestants on these rates treat the boss and his experts that Lissner closed the session with a retort in which he went so far as to shove Senator John D. Works, Dr. John R. Haynes, and others of that grade, members of the League of Justice, which Lissner organized, into the class of "irresponsibiles." Lissner didn't name 'em, however.

As a "hearing," the session proved a failure. The rates were lost sight of in the vortex of Good Government politics and the airing of the fued that exists between Lissner and Alan I. Warren, secretary of the League of Justice. Warren, backed by Charles E. Warner, an electrical engineer, is making the fight against Lissner and the Board of Public Utilities. It possesses all the animosity of political vendetta.

Warren went so far as to intimate that Lissner is disqualified from serving as a rate fixer because, as chairman of the Republican State Committee, he is receiving corporation campaign funds—a charge the boss flatly called untrue. Warren also charged that N. D. Darlington, another member, has been manager for the Rindge estate, which owns, he alleged, $355,000 of stock and bonds of the Edison Company. Warren argued that this might bias Darlington's mind.

The entire afternoon was passed in wrangling between Warren and Warner on one side, and Lissner and Leslie R. Hewitt, special counsel for the utilities department, on the other. At the close of the session. H. S. McCallum challenged Hewitt's legal right to draw pay as special counsel, and announced that he intended to test his contract of employment in the courts.

Before the proceedings fairly started Lissner asked if his telephone expert, Kempster B. Miller of Chicago, would be given audience. He said Miller is to leave the city tomorrow and will not return unless paid for it. The Council ignominiously filed Lissner's communication, though it passed a vote of thanks to Miller.

FOR SELF-PROTECTION.

After four hours, the Council discussed ways and means to protect itself against the politicians and the ranters and to proceed with the question of rates which hadn't been touched. It is to resume the hearings tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

In order to proceed then the Council had to vote an order that the Lissner board bring and file with the Council all its documents and figures used in the light rate-making so that the protestants might have an opportunity to look them over. This action is necessary because the Lissner board meets behind closed doors and permits the public to have only such information as its officials issue in written form. Lissner made no objection to this programme, though he did not offer this evidence without its demand by Alan I. Warren.

Warren and Warner presented the principal arguments against the light rates. In effect, they charged that the Lissner board had been too liberal with its methods of fixing plant values and had added, without the report of the experts as a basis, $1,000,000 to the Edison's company's valuation to cover "extraordinary expenses in the past." This they argued added $70,000 to the charge on the rate payers during the year.

They also criticised the items of valuation and expense reported by the Lissner board, particularly the allowance of $676,000 for operating the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company's electric department, valued at $2,700,000, while they allowed only $644,000 for the expenses of the Edison company with a plant value of $6,466,000.

INCONSISTENCIES.

Their arguments bristled with figures showing inconsistencies. Among other things that Warren asserted are these:

"They bring a gentleman named Hoxie from New York and a gentleman named Durand from Stanford University and they together, with Mr. Scattergood of Pasadena and Mr. Comstock of Los Angeles, fixed the rates, and I am informed that the only Los Angeles member of the corps of engineers refused to be responsible for the report, although it is stated by the Board of Public Utilities in their communication received by the Mayor on May 27, that they enclosed herewith a copy of the report of the engineers, referred to herein."

"Last year C. W. Koiner of Pasadena was employed by the board as an expert electrical engineer—the rates were reduced. Mr. Koiner is still in Pasadena. He is making the little steam plant of that progressive municipality pay 11 per cent. on its investment, and, Mr. President, and gentlemen, he does that on a 5-cent rate. Mr. Koiner believes in municipal ownership and operation of electric lighting plants. He believes that privately-controlled corporations are entitled to a fair return on their investments.

"I think it would interest rate payers to know why Mr. Koiner was not employed by the board this year, for I'm sure all who know him have confidence in his judgment and ability."

LISTEN, LISSNER.

When Warren demanded the documents from Lissner in open session of the Council the boss replied that he had the engineer's report, as filed with the Mayor.

"Listen, Mr. Lissner, and I will read you part of this report," said Warren, defiantly.

He read paragraphs relating to values and expense items, and all the figures were represented by "blank."

"Are you reading from our report?" shouted Lissner.

"This is the report which was sent to the Mayor, the head of our government, sixteen days after he asked for it," said Warren.

Scattergood declared no such report was ever sent.

"Well, we can settle that by asking the Mayor," replied Warren.

"I'll tell you in a minute," said the Mayor, who was an interested auditor.

He went to his office and brought back the report which showed the blanks. Lissner said nothing. Later it developed that the Mayor's secretary had gone to the utilities department for this report and it had been

LOCKED BOX YIELDS MYSTERY.

Woman, With Mania for Operations, Deposits Cash Sum and Many Bills for Medical Attention.

The mystery of what Mrs. Louise Taylor, an eccentric character who died in this city February 3, had locked up in a box at the Commercial National Bank was solved yesterday when Assistant Public Administrator Casselman and an attorney opened it. Jewels were found to the value of about $300, and many bills, some receipted, for attention from nurses and physicians. They ranged in amount from a few dollars up to $10,000. Mrs. Taylor, Public Administrator Bryson states, had a mania for medical attention, spending much of her time at hospitals and sanatoriums, preparing for operations or recovering from them.

Upon her death the keys to her bank box were taken to her home at Auburn, Me. Her creditors appealed to Bryson, who sent for the keys, suspecting the box to contain valuables. Mrs. Taylor is supposed to have had an income from a fortune in the East, and Bryson will at once communicate with her family there.

LECTURE ON THE ORIENT.

Prof. Blackledge will deliver a lecture this evening, at the Normandie-avenue Methodist Church, on the subject of Japan. He spent four years as teacher and missionary in the empire and can speak with authenticity.

THE MEASURE OF POPULARITY

enjoyed by a newspaper and the business getting powers of its advertising columns are invariably indicated by the number of "Want Ads" it publishes. The recognition of this fact by experienced advertisers, as well as by the thousands of people who profit by reading and using classified advertisements, is responsible for The Times regularly printing more "Liners" than all other Los Angeles papers combined.

People do not continue to patronize institutions that do not give them full value for their money, and it is by reason of the superior profitableness to patrons of its advertising columns that The Times is enabled month after month, year in and year out, to print more advertising than any other newspaper in the world.

If you are looking for living quarters or tenants, or if you desire to buy, sell or exchange a house, lot, farm, automobile, live stock, poultry, household furnishings, or any one of a variety of other things, or if you want to borrow or lend money, or procure help or a situation you will get the quickest and best results by reading and using Times "Liners."

THE TIMES IS NOT ONLY THE WORLD'S BIGGEST NEWSPAPER, BUT IT IS THE GREATEST WANT AD MEDIUM ON EARTH.

PUBLIC SERVICE: City Hall and Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Failure to file a rehearing petition in the Supreme Court in the power bond case ends this litigation in favor of the city; the City Attorney will ask immediate sale of the bonds.

By displaying his badge quickly Officer Gifford, working in plain clothes, saved himself Tuesday from being struck by an irate young woman who thought he was another masher coming to the aid of one with whom she had just had trouble.

Jennie E. Bender, wife of F. Ira Bender, indicted for complicity in the attempt to dynamite the Hall of Records, secured a divorce from him in Judge Monroe's court yesterday.

Judge Hutton, yesterday warned the unsuspecting against the operations of the Domestic Utilities Company. Many suits have been filed in the Superior Court against the company.

Judge Monroe yesterday allowed Susie Birk, wife of William Birk, a saloon man, alimony of $100 a month, and denied the husband's complaint for divorce on the ground of cruelty. The wife charged adultery, and Birk admitted it in his answer to her petition.

At the City Hall.

POWER BONDS BEYOND DOUBT.

NO REHEARING PETITION FILED WITH SUPREME COURT.

Municipality Is Now in Position to Go Ahead With Sale as Last Opportunity to Dispute Validity of Debt Is Passed—Bulky Brief of Power Interests Misses Fire.

The last doubt of the validity of the issue of $3,500,000 of power bonds by the city disappeared yesterday when the Clerk of the Supreme Court wired the City Attorney that no petition for a rehearing of the decision of May 31 had been filed. This means that the decision of the court upholding the bond issue and making new law for the State on municipal ownership has been passed without challenge by the great power interests. It does not mean, however, that challenge was not prepared.

Under the Constitution a decision is final thirty days after it has been made. The Supreme Court grants twenty days for filing petitions for rehearing. The twenty-day period ended Tuesday so the city is now safe from further question and the bonds are ready for the market.

City Attorney Shenk will probably ask the Council to take the preliminary steps for their sale by offering the proper resolutions next Tuesday.

The result is relief for the city officials. There was a fear that impediments might be added if the power interests filed a petition for a rehearing, amica curaé, as they intimated. But the period elapsed without such an application.

When the power bond case, brought by Percy H. Clark, was before Judge Monroe in the Superior Court, Edward Kuster attempted to intervene as a friend of the court, but Judge Monroe did not permit it. Three days after the decision of May 31 City Attorney Shenk was served with notice by J. W. McKinley and Kuster that a brief had been prepared for filing in the case, but Shenk called attention to the fact, he says, that the case had already been determined. He was informed later that the brief would be filed in the Supreme Court as a petition for rehearing, as friends of the court.

This brief, Shenk was informed, comprised 272 typewritted pages, representing the legal research of months by Judge McKinley and Kuster on the power question, as it affected the rights of private corporations. Its formidable size and the formidable character of its authors caused the municipal legal lights much worry. They prepared to resist the brief as a rehearing petition on the ground that the petitioners were not parties to the litigation and could not intervene. For two weeks Shenk and Leslie R. Hewitt, special counsel in power matters, have been prepared to meet a battle. It was the last opportunity in their judgment for the power interests to invade the field and dispute the municipal programme that is coincident to the completion of the Los Angeles aqueduct.

Shenk had a joke on McKinley and Kuster when they offered to file a brief in a case just decided. He rather enjoyed what he thought was catching the astute legal light of the Southern Pacific "asleep at the switch." Judge McKinley seems to have enjoyed the joke, too, for his threat to file the ponderous brief as a rehearing petition kept Shenk in a stew for a couple of weeks.

But all joking aside the city of Los Angeles is legally authorized by the highest tribunal to go ahead with its municipal aqueduct power project, that is to become such a help to the march to a city of a million people.

ROWAN'S RACE. SAVES LIQUOR PERMIT.

In a mad race to get a saloon, for which he held a license for eleven months, Robert A. Rowan beat out the Police Commissioner yesterday morning, when the new Alexandria bar on Spring street opened for the relief of the thirsty. Rowan paid $1000 to th city to hold the permit.

Rowan is not in the liquor business, but he is one of the owners of the Alexandria and took out the permit because the Police Commission, under the ordinance, is required to grant permits to individuals and not to corporations. Hence Rowan represents the Alexandria corporation. He took the permit to hold it, but a week ago the commission was asked to cite him before it to show cause why it should not be revoked as he had not used it.

The reason was manifest, but legal forms required a hearing in the judgment of the commission. The permit was for a room in the Alexandria annex. The building was not completed—is not yet. When Rowan got the citation he was "beating it" with work in the licensed room in order to have his permit renewed before June 26 when all permits expire unless previously renewed.

Crowding work at all points the new Alexandria was able to open yesterday morning a short while before the commission met. It opened with a wet cement sidewalk in front of the door, the interior full of workmen and scaffolding—but it opened.

Rowan explained all this to the commission yesterday, which laughed and told him to go ahead. His permit was renewed for another year.

The effort to have it cancelled came from other applicants who didn't want a permit held without use.

Chauffeur in New Role on the Street.

Pete Laird finds a newsboy trying to pull his own tooth and quickly yanks it out for him.

Heroic Methods.

WITH LARGE AUTOMOBILE PLIERS SMALL URCHIN'S DENTISTRY DONE.

MIKE SPERACK, a little newsboy who inhabits the corner of Fifth and Spring streets, at the Hotel Alexandria, walked up to a large automobile standing nearby, yesterday, and fumbled in the tool kit of the machine. The chauffeur, Pete Laird, was standing nearby, and watched the boy's actions closely. He saw the urchin finally find a large pair of pliers. The boy carefully laid down his bundle of papers, and inserting the pliers in his mouth, made a wry face and gave a wrench. A spasm of pain was apparent. Again he tried.

Laird walked up to the boy and asked him what he was doing.

"Aw, I got a bum snag in me mouth and I got ter get it yanked out. Ain't got money nuff to get it done," said the child.

"Here," said Laird, who is a large strong man, "let me have the pliers and I'll pull the tooth for you."

With little ados Laird took the pliers, and holding the urchin's head in his big arms, he tilted the little face backward and coolly fastened the pliers to the tooth. A short, sharp jerk, and the tooth was extracted.

There was never a whimper from little Mike Sperack. He hastened across the street to a public drinking fountain where he carefully washed the blood from his mouth.

Then he began to industriously cry his papers again.

Twenty-third-street Paving.

The city engineer has recommended that he be ordered to proceed with the paving of Twenty-third street, between Figueroa and Hoover streets. He says the Jefferson street storm sewer will have to go in this street but to wait for this will delay paving two years. He asks permission to disregard the sewer plans.

BITTER TALE OF CRUELTY TOLD.

ACCUSED DYNAMITER'S WIFE SECURES DIVORCE.

Mrs. Bender, Whose Unionite Husband Is Under Indictment for Attempting to Blow Up Hall of Records, Throws Light Upon His Character from Sad Experience.

In Judge Monroe's court yesterday February Ira Bender, one of the three unionites indicted by the Los Angeles grand jury for the attempted dynamiting of the Hall of Records, was the defendant in a divorce action instituted by Jennie E. Bender, who secured an interlocutory decree of divorce on the ground of adultery. It was a default case, nobody appearing in behalf of Bender.

J. B. Corbett, City Marshal of Watts, where the Benders lived at one time, testified in relation to the defendant's relations with other women, and another witness testified that on one occasion during the absence of Mrs. Bender from home, her husband entertained unknown women at their house in Watts.

The Benders were married in Los Angeles in 1904. The evidence was that almost continually the wife had been the victim of cruelty. Mrs. Bender said that within two weeks of the wedding, her husband gave up his job, that of bartender, and it was necessary for her to go back to her father because Bender would not support her. After her return to him she said she had to work in order to support them both. Later on they removed to Watts, where the wife became ill and was assisted by neighbors.

In August, 1910, Bender went to Venice, where he was seen with another woman, and the couple registered under the name of O. T. Johnson and wife. At that time when Bender was taken to task by his wife, he insisted that he had only gone to the beach city "on business connected with the union." In January last Mrs. Bender left him, unable to bear his treatment. Then he is asserted to have threatened to kill her if she did not return. She only did so, she said, because she had no one to defend her from the attacks of her husband, and she was afraid he would shoot her if she refused to obey him. On February 16, 1911, she left him finally, and has since earned her own living.

FRAUD PUNCTURED. INVESTMENT RESTORED.

One of the numerous fraud propositions that seem to flourish in Los Angeles was brought to book by Judge Hutton yesterday, who warned the public against concerns as the Domestic Utilities Company, in his opinion, had proved itself to be.

Within the past four months a score of complaints have been filed in the Superior Court against the corporation, which is doing business on North Broadway, between First and Second streets. The prayer in each instance was that certain notes and mortgages be canceled, given by those imposed upon, in return for certain agent's rights in what is known as the Vacuum Washing Machine.

The first one of these actions was brought by William G. and Minnie Record of San Pedro, asking that a note and mortgage for $1600, given by the plaintiffs to the Domestic Utilities Company, be canceled, on account of fraud connected with securing these evidences of indebtedness from them.

The Domestic Utilities Company did not appear to defend the suit. Record testified how he had been led into the investment by one of the smooth agents of the defendant corporation. He confessed that he had been made a fool of in the transaction, and sought the assistance of the court in recovering his property.

After hearing the uncontested testimony, Judge Hutton ordered the cancellation of the mortgage, given on lot No. 20, East San Pedro, and issued an order duces tecum for the production by the defendant of the note in question in order that it may also be canceled. There was no question of the fraud perpetrated upon the Records, and Judge Hutton lost no time in taking drastic action.

ROW OVER BODY. IS CAUSE OF LITIGATION.

The congregation of Beth Israel and Annie Cohen were made defendants in an action filed in the Superior Court yesterday, that reveal an unusual state of affairs. The plaintiffs in the suit are David and Bessie Cohen, father and mother, respectively, of I. A. Cohen, who died December 2, 1910, and was buried in Beth Israel Cemetery, December 4.

April 24, 1911, Annie Cohen, widow of I. A. Cohen, presented an alleged permit to the officers of the Beth Israel Cemetery, and requested permission to remove the body of her husband. Since that time she has made repeated efforts to secure the removal of the body. The plaintiffs state that this action on the part of Annie Cohen has caused them grievous mental suffering and they ask judgment for $5000 against her.

In Judge Densmore's court yesterday, the action brought by Annie Cohen to restrain the Beth Israel congregation from interfering in her attempt to remove the body of her husband from the cemetery, was dismissed on motion of the plaintiff's attorneys.

THEY BOTH LOSE. COURT HEARS MARITAL WOES.

William Birk, who conducts a saloon on Spring street, was made defendant in an action brought by Susie Birk for maintenance, and heard in Judge Monroe's court yesterday. Birk had filed a cross-complaint, asking for a divorce on the ground of cruelty. In the first instance, Mrs. Birk had asked for a divorce, but subsequently an action for maintenance was brought, and this was on hearing with her husband's complaint for a legal separation.

Judge Monroe denied Birk a divorce, and ordered that he pay his wife alimony of $100 a month. Mrs. Birk, however, did not get all that she asked. She alleged that she had a community interest in $30,000 worth of unimproved property at the northwest corner of First and Flower streets, and she desired an order confirming her right to all of it. The court would not allow this, and that matter will be taken up on June 29.

The allegations of Mrs. Birk circled about charges of adultery, committed by her husband with Mrs. Nettie Lake Monroe, between September and November, 1909, at Redondo Beach, Ocean Park, Venice and San Pedro. Birk did not challenge the contention, but declared that he was justified in his actions by the fact that nearly three years ago his wife was a wife in name only, and had given her consent to the acts complained of. Mrs. Monroe was in the courtroom, but she was not called as a witness. This claim on the part of Birk, however, could not be proven, as there was no corroborating testimony.

Birk testified that his wife had refused to cook for him, and that she had treated him cruelly, especially on a trip of the Los Angeles Yacht Club, together with evidence tending to show that for years there had been serious differences between them.

SEEKS NEW TRIAL. WAS ONCE IN JEOPARDY.

It is expected that the attempt of Dr. W. B. Price, found guilty of obtaining money under false pretenses, to obtain a new trial will be unusually strenuous. The conviction is the first after a series of prosecutions, and is in the nature of a test case. The motion for a new trial will be made in Judge Willis's court.

The ground of the motion is that Price has been in jeopardy once before. It will be recalled that some months ago, upon the calling of the case, a part of the jury was impaneled in Department Eleven, when further proceedings were stopped at the request of the prosecution on account of the non-attendance of witnesses. It is now alleged in Price's behalf that their client was by the partial securing of a jury placed in jeopardy. If the motion for a new trial is denied by Judge Willis, an appeal will be taken to the higher court and an effort made to get Price out of jail on bond.

COURTHOUSE NOTES. BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

DESIRE TO MORTGAGE. A petition was filed in the Superior Court yesterday by the Town Avenue African Methodist Episcopal Church for permission to mortgage the premises of the congregation for $8000. The trustees are A. W. Wilson, T. J. Hooper, T. F. Norris, John Saunders, N. H. Gordon and W. W. Tucker.

DAMAGE SUIT. On April 13 last Israel Ginsberg was struck by an automobile owned by The McCarthy Company, while crossing Temple street and Bunker Hill avenue, sustaining severe injuries. Ginsberg brought an action yesterday in the Superior Courts for the recovery of $10,150 damages.

PETER'S WAY. Judge McCormick yesterday granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Peter Farley, a hotel man of Dedham, Wis., his wife, May Farley, being plaintiff. During the course of the evidence, one of the witnesses testified that Farley had told her the only way to get along with a wife was to knock her down at intervals and make her tractable. Mrs. Farley had been married before, and divorced. The charge against her second husband was desertion, although she testified that she had deserted him on account of his bad treatment.

DECREE GRANTED. Jessie Bean was given a decree of divorce from Myron S. Bean by Judge McCormick yesterday on the ground of desertion. The wife testified that they were married in Kansas and about three years ago removed to Williams, Ariz. The plaintiff is now employed as stenographer by a firm of patent attorneys in this city.

NEW CITIZENS. In Judge Mahon's court yesterday the following persons were admitted to American citizenship after the usual examination conducted by Fred Jones, representing the Department of Naturalization.

Johnson Atkinson, Henry A. Brendel, Gerhardt Engelskinger, Elias J. Econamus, Philip N. Williams, Ralph S. Compton, Samuel Rosenthal, Max Rapperport, Zundel Katz and Joseph A. Myers.

THE WIFE WINS. Judge Arnot granted a decree of divorce to Stella M. Mobley, on her cross-complaint, from Ben H. Mobley. The husband must pay $20 a month for the support of the two children of the couple, who are to be kept at the David and Marguerite Home in Lordsburg.

BAD WOMAN DISPOSED OF. Judge Densmore made an order sending Genet Matthews to the True Love Home. She was a delinquent woman and the testimony was of the most unsavory character.

SENTENCE ON MONDAY. Arthur F. Carillo, charged with securing a motorcycle worth $85 from O. I. Kephart, by representing that he had money in the Pacific Savings Bank of this city, when he had nothing to his credit, pleaded guilty to the charge in Judge Willis's court, yesterday. His partner, Robert B. Young, had heretofore pleaded guilty. Both will be sentenced Monday.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY. Isaac H. Whitmore pleaded not guilty to embezzlement, and his trial was set for July 24. It is alleged that Whitmore converted $450, the property of Elizabeth E. Jones, to his own use.

SUIT ON CONTRACT. An action was brought in the Superior Court yesterday by E. E. Taylor against the Monrovia High School district, to recover $400 alleged to be due on a contract made January, 1906, to teach the High School in Monrovia for the term of one year at the rate of $100 a month. Taylor taught the school until the following March, when he alleges he was discharged without cause.

PRAYER TO ADOPT. A petition was filed in the Superior Court yesterday by Eugene and Phoebe Turner for leave to adopt George T. Schubert, who will hereafter be known as George Theodore Turner. The petition was granted by Jurge Rives.

INCORPORATION. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Hydrostan and Tile Company, capital stock $75,000, incorporators, M. H. Mertens, E. A. Murchie, E. C. Mertens, H. G. Bayless and Herbert McLean, subscribed $5000.

WILLS FILED. The will of G. W. Hendricks, bequeathing an estate of $5000, was filed for probate yesterday. It is all given to the wife, Lucy Hendricks.

Dura M. Adams left an estate of $9000, consisting of notes and mortgages. Under the provisions of her will it is to be divided, one-half to a daughter, Mary P. Abernathy; one-fourth to a son, Grove Adams, and one-fourth to a grand-daughter, Mamie E. Adams.

PRETTY GIRL WOULD SMASH THE MASHERS.

So Plain-Clothes Cop Who Comes to Rescue Her from Uninvited Attentions Has to Hurriedly Identify Himself to Escape Her Doughty Fist—Man Gets Jail Sentence.

When Miss Violet Eagan, No. 2714 Severance street, squared away and prepared to give Plain-clothes Man Gifford a right to the jaw under the impression that the latter was a masher, it took him but an instant to tear open his coat and display his police badge. Gifford then received her moral support while with the assistance of Officer Burgess, he overpowered L. H. Percival and placed him under arrest on the charge of having attempted to "mash" Miss Eagan and her two companions, Miss Mildred Haines, No. 1677 Harvard boulevard, and Miss Helen Gridley, No. 1622 Grammercy place. Miss Eagan told Gifford she was very glad she didn't him him and Gifford said he was too.

The young women were on their way to a Main-street theater Tuesday when they suddenly discovered that Percival was attempting to join their little crowd and was making liberal use of low-voiced endearing names.

Gifford and Burgess, who were patroling the street in civilian dress, saw them and knew something was wrong. Miss Eagan was the nearest and Gifford hurried up to her. Her blood had risen to the fighting point by that time, and when Gifford was seen she thought for a moment that the "enemy" had received reinforcements. Miss Haines and Miss Gridley fled into a near-by store. Not so Miss Eagan. She doubled a dainty fist and only a quick display of his badge saved Gifford.

Percival was placed under arrest and taken to the Central Police Station. Yesterday he was taken into Police Court and sent to jail for thirty days by Police Judge Frederickson, without the alternative of a fine. He admitted the charge and attempted to excuse himself by saying he had been drinking.

CHILD LABOR LAW. FIRST ALLEGED VIOLATION.

V. E. Starner, manager of the Artistic Hardware and Fixture Company, will be sentenced by Police Judge Frederickson this afternoon for having employed a boy under 15 years of age in his shop. Starner pleaded guilty to the charge yesterday. He declared he had understood the boy was 17 years old.

Donald Fields, 14 years old, living at No. 1501 North Hoover street, is the boy in question. It was alleged by J. P. Nolan, special agent of the State Bureau of Labor Statistics, that the lad was employed at a bench filing brass. He did not have a permit to work. Starner said he was told by the inspector that the boy did not have a permit, but that he would see if one could be obtained.

The child labor law, with the new amendments which recently went into effect, prohibits the employment of minors under 18, between the hours of 10 p.m. and 5 a.m., and the employment of any minor under 15, except in a few classes of work, unless a special permit has been issued by the judge of the juvenile court. It permits the employment of minors over 12 years of age during vacation periods if allowed by the officials of the boy's school. No minor under 16 years of age may be employed during school hours, unless he is an attendant at night school or can show that he is able to read and write.

ESCAPE, BUT— CASE MAY GO HIGHER.

The statute of limitations was held to be effective in the case against H. R. Callender and J. E. Connel by Police Judge Frederickson yesterday afternoon, and they were dismissed. Callender and Connel were charged with having excavated a tunnel from the Wright and Callender building to the Occidental Hotel. Connel is the contractor who did the work. The tunnel was completed more than a year ago, and a report of it was made to the Board of Public Works.

A few weeks ago when the prosecution was taken up, Callender and Connel contended that the statute of limitations placed the case beyond the reach of the courts, and Police Judge Frederickson accepted that view.

City Prosecutor Eddie, however, contends that the maintenance of the tunnel is an offense, and that they can be prosecuted on that charge. He will appeal to the higher court on that ground.

Inspector Patrick Doyle declared yesterday afternoon that if it comes to the last resort, he will secure men to refill the excavation.

JOY RIDERS' KNELL. POLICE JUDGE SOUNDS IT.

One young man was sent to jail yesterday afternoon for 100 days and two were remanded to jail to await sentence, this afternoon following their conviction on the charge of having stolen automobiles Saturday night to take joy rides. Police Judge Frederickson is giving the cases special attention in the hope of putting an effective damper upon this joy ride tendency.

James Thomas is the one who got the long term. He was allowed the alternative of $100 fine, but did not have the money. Thomas was said to have taken the automobile of W. O. Williams, No. 558 Normandie avenue. The machine was recovered near the Log Cabin in Santa Monica Canyon, Thomas having leaped from it. He was captured about twenty-four hours later.

J. C. De Vere and Ivan R. Harle were overtaken near the Log Cabin in the machine of Miss Ruth Martin

Grows Hair
PROVE IT!

The Great DANDERINE Never Fails to Produce the Desired Results.

IT enlivens and invigorates the hair glands and tissues of the scalp, resulting in a continuous and increasing growth of the hair.

Letters of praise are continually coming in from nearly all parts of the country stating that Danderine has renewed the growth of hair in cases that were considered absolutely hopeless.
A lady from Brooklyn writes: "After a short trial my hair stopped falling, and I now have a lovely head of hair, very heavy and over one and a quarter yards long."

Danderine stimulates the scalp, makes it healthy and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp invigorator known. It is a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp. Even a small bottle of it will put more genuine life in your hair than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. It shows results from the very start.

Now on sale at every drug and toilet store in the land; 3 sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

OH, NO, DOROTHY.

Dorothy Dix stops to inquire if man has lost the art of love-making. A glance at the society columns of The Times and the doings of the marriage license bureau indicates that they have not, especially in view of the fact that this is not leap year.

A SPLENDID IDEA.

Denver will celebrate the coming Fourth by a monster parade. At a fixed hour the celebration will cease while 100,000 persons unite in singing "America." What a setting that will be for Dr. Smith's immortal hymn! It is an example that might be followed in every American city.

THE SUMMER CAPITAL.

The Minneapolis boomers will not secure the presence of President Taft as an advertisement for that city as the summer capital of the country. The President has declared that he will spend all of the time he can spare away from Washington along the Massachusetts coast. If he left Beverly he would no doubt come to Los Angeles.

A USE FOR THE FOG.

The inventor of the new fog referred to in scientific circles says it can be used to obscure an enemy in battle. Here is a chance for some of the local baseball magnates to get busy. How handy a fog would be in the fourth inning when the home team is in the ruck and the other fellows are knocking the boards from the fences enclosing the field.

IN THE PAST TENSE.

Mrs. Augusta Stetson, the Christian Science leader, is out in a protest against the proposed action of the directors of the mother church in erecting a monument to the memory of Mrs. Eddy. She holds such a proceeding is indicative of a latest survival of belief in mortality; yet in her manifesto Mrs. Stetson several times inadvertently refers to Mrs. Eddy in the past tense.

A WOMAN'S MISTAKE.

A Los Angeles girl attempted suicide because she learned that her sweetheart was about to marry another lady. The lesson that love gives freedom to the beloved is learned with greater reluctance than almost any other living principle with which experience makes mankind aware. Love and freedom go hand in hand, and the fact that people cannot comprehend this brings them untold suffering. Our own never want to leave us, and the things that are not ours we cannot have and should not want.

THE REAL IN ART.

At last the world-old quarrel between realism and idealism in art seems to have been balanced in the voice of a French philosopher. Henri Bergson puts it this way. "Art is certainly only a more direct vision of reality. The purity of its perception implies a rupture with useful convention, amounting to that immateriality of life which has been called idealism. So one might say that realism is in the work when idealism is in the soul. It is by force of ideality alone that one regains contact with ideality."

OF INTEREST TO EMPEROR JOSEPH.

The withdrawal of President Diaz from Mexico is observed with more than ordinary interest by Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary. Maximilian, whose career as Emperor of Mexico was brought to a tragic end by shooting at Queretaro a generation ago, largely because of the military talent and prowess of Diaz, was the brother of Emperor Francis Joseph. Diaz was not personally responsible for the execution of Maximilian, but he approved of it. The Austrian Emperor and Diaz are very nearly of the same age.

THE AFFINITY BUSINESS.

The shadow of two affinities is said to have been thrown upon a clubman's life when his wife caused his arrest for striking her as she was remonstrating with him for taking a joy ride with another lady. The irresponsible mixture of vibrations, philosophies and motives which bring about entanglements of this kind reflect a set of persons who are running away with themselves. These people seek distraction rather than attraction, although they charge their conduct to an effort to find harmony. The healing for impurity of any kind lies in purity, and the cure for inharmony lies in peace. The single eye, steadfast purpose and the honest motive is the only hope for the life that is blighted by confusion.

A CITY'S POEMS.

The building department has issued permission to construct a twelve-story office building at Seventh and Spring streets that will cost $1,250,000. Throughout the heart of the city these splendid business blocks are rearing their stately heads. They are the poems of business. They are the monuments of the living. In them the life of a city is actualized. They give voice to the spirit of an age. In their offices the brains of a city map out its destiny. They are more than masonry and architecture. They are the great arteries through which flows a quick and wonderful life. We say that this is a city beautiful; and so it is; but it is likewise a city powerful, and that power shall not be spent until the world has joined in its vivid reflection.

It would have been the proper thing for Would-Run Wilson to bottle some of that around-the-circle enthusiasm for use later on in the campaign.

A PHENOMENAL ASSET.

Los Angeles has an asset such as is possessed by no other city in all of God's beautiful world. It is a necklace of jewels, resting upon the white neck of the sea, all the way from Palisades on the north to Playa del Rey on the south. The development of the Santa Monica bayside during the past year has been the phenomenon of this phenomenal southland. Its growth in substantial construction and population has been a marvel. The crowds thronging the strand and the promenade on Sundays and, in fact, on almost any day of the year, are amazing to eastern visitors.

Santa Monica, Ocean Park and Venice are its principal centers, but they are rapidly becoming one great seaside resort, soon to exceed all rivals. Twenty miles of beach sloping gradually to lavender-tinted mountains. Not a yard of beach from which bathers may not rock and swing into emerald cradles every day in the year. Not a foot of valley, of upland or of mountainside or summit whereon roses, and lilies, and all beautiful flowers may not grow and blossom and bloom in the open air every day from New Year's to Christmas. Not a spot of earth which may not be shaded with pine, or palm, maple or magnolia, olive or oleander, bay or banana tree. Not a day in the year when either an overcoat or a fan is really needed.

Nature's beauty has been supplemented and is still being supplemented by man's enterprise and skill. Millions multiplied by millions have been invested and are being invested in this fairyland. Electric railways, with continual service night and day, bring the beach cities within from thirty to fifty minutes of the center of Los Angeles. Perfect roads for autos stretch in every direction. Costly villas and pretty cottages and bungalows have been erected and are in process of erection on every street and avenue, and every building is supplied at moderate cost with every convenience and luxury of city life.

Five immense amusement centers, erected and equipped at a cost of millions, supply citizens and visitors with entertainment free of cost. When twilight heralds the approach of night tens of thousands of electric lights cast their gleams from lofty towers over sea and shore.

Every afternoon and evening as fine bands as can be heard anywhere in Europe or America discourse both classical and popular music. If you become surfeited with the martial strains of Wagner or the melodies of Mendelssohn you can walk along the beach to the next bandstand and steep your soul in the sweetness of "My Old Kentucky Home" or dance it to the music of "There's a Hot Time in the Old Town To-night."

"And the night shall be filled with music
And the cares that infest the day
Shall fold their tents like the Arabs
And silently steal away."

There is nothing equal to it or like it anywhere on earth. Monte Carlo is a side show, and two years hence Coney Island will be dwarfed. Then there are the people. Thousands of them stroll along the beach. Old age, and young maidenhood, and stalwart manhood, laughing, and chatting, and making love, and the little children—God bless them—are trundled in baby wagons or go tumbling over each other in the sand.

Prosaic reporters and the local and real-estate advertising columns of The Times will give some idea in detail of the immense improvements that are being made at Santa Monica and Ocean Park and Venice, but no pen can give an adequate description of the glories of the hour when the western sun, environed in fretwork clouds of color, sinks into the arms of the sapphire sea.

To speak soberly, the improvements that have been made at the beach during the last year exceed in value and number those which were made during the previous twenty years, and the work still progresses. And nothing of improvement in Los Angeles is diminished thereby. On the contrary, enterprise begets enterprise. The erection of skyscrapers in the city proceeds simultaneously with the building of great edifices in Santa Monica, and for every bungalow built at the beach two bungalows are constructed in the city.

A million people hereabouts in 1920? That real estate agent is disloyal to his profession who places it at less.

CONGRESSMAN BOOHER BOOHOOS.

Congressman Booher of Missouri, whose cognomen is lachrymose, but whose utterances are strenuous, and the inspiration of whose conduct is the motto of his State, "show me," has beguiled the tedium of Congressional proceedings with a speech which shines among the dull and dreary drivel of Democratic oratory even as a rotten mackerel glows in a dark night.

Mr. Booher began his remarks by boohooing Missouri into an attitude which vaunts his State pride at the cost of historical accuracy. He says: "It was the bravery and valor of Missourians that gave to this Union the Territories of New Mexico and Arizona. (It was always supposed that it was the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo that did that job.) He says: "It was the word and honor of Missourians that promised to the people of those Territories in 1846 a republican form of government." (Alas, no record of the promise appears in the archives.) He says: "In 1848 we guaranteed that these Territories should become States of the Union," etc. (Arizona was not created a Territory until February 1863.)

Congressman Booher believes in recalling every judge, whether State or Federal. He is in a state of militant hostility to judges anyhow. He says: "More crimes have been perpetrated against the liberty and lives of the people of this world by judges of courts than was ever perpetrated by the people themselves. Who condemned Charlotte Corday to the guillotine? (for the venial offense of knifing Marat before he could get out of his bath tub.) Was it the people? Oh, no, it was the judge of a court. Who sent Robert Emmet to the gallows? A court. Who sent the witches of Massachusetts to the stake? Was it the people? Oh, no, it was a judge every time. Who sent hundreds, aye thousands, to the guillotine during the French Revolution? Judges, of course. Who condemned the Savior and sent him to the cross? Was it not a judge?" It may be remarked here that the biblical account of the trial and crucifixion of the Savior is that the recall was successfully put in operation, that the court was overruled and the matter submitted to the people and the people voted "Crucify him, crucify him."

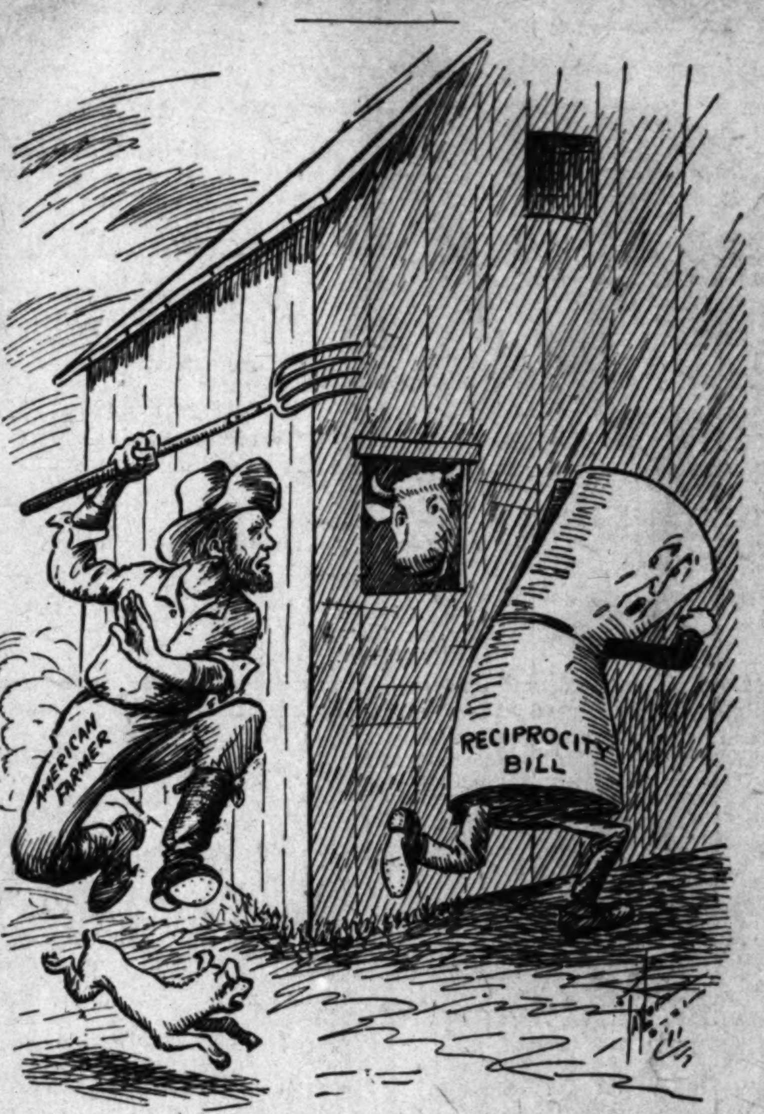
Mr. Booher says that the people call him "Judge," but he does not know why, for he candidly admits that he never was a judge of anything but a horse race.

Mr. Booher diverged from the line of his interesting speech on the beauties of the recall to dilate on the evils of Republicanism. He says that "when the first signs appeared in the heavens that Missouri was going Republican, the people began to desert her and since then she has been decreasing in population."

Mr. Booher says that he "absolutely believes in the people of this country, that he has worked with them in the harvest fields, that he has worked with them upon the highways (he does not state whether his work was mending roads or stopping stages,) that he has worked with them driving stock across the plains (whose stock?)

Mr. Booher is in favor of the recall and in favor of the admission of Arizona because Arizona favors the recall of judges. He commends his speech to the Republicans in Congress with the calm, courteous and conciliatory remark that he fears "it is like throwing pearls before swine."

The Intruder.



ARE WE DRAUGHT CRANKS?

Dr. William Evans declared before the City Club the other day that he hoped to see the day when the fresh-air fiends would choke the life out of the draught fiends. He told of the out-of-door and fresh-air schools in Chicago and stated that fresh, moving air was of more vital importance to existence than either good water or good food. And all of this in a room in which 300 women sat for two hours and the only fresh air admitted was through three or four transoms over the top of the windows.

It is one of the anomalies of Los Angeles that, with all our boasting of climate, with all our real devotion to our glorious out-of-door world, there isn't a place in the city where meals are regularly served in the open air. Our restaurants and our hotel dining-rooms, even the best of them, are indoors—very much indoors, most of them. They may have ventilating systems, but that is the best that can be said for them.

If we cannot afford ground space, with trees, flowers and vines, for a dining-room in our congested sections, why haven't we a roof-garden dining-room, or at least a top-floor dining-room with open windows and balconies where air and sunshine may get in and an occasional glimpse of the sky may be caught while we dine and listen.

As a matter of fact, Los Angeles people do not really live out of doors during the summer season as much as eastern people do. We don't have porch and garden parties as frequently; we do not use our porches and gardens for living as they do; I am afraid we don't even sleep out of doors as generally as they do in some of the eastern cities. It is to be feared that the "draught cranks" still predominate in our city.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

I read about the warlike guy who smiling goes to battle; and naught can still his joyous cry, and nothing him can rattle. But nobler than the man who wins renown with battle axes, is he who springs some funny grins while coughing up his taxes. The captain who, in time of wreck, is free from fear's emotion, who calmly walks his sinking deck, alone upon the ocean, deserves a wreath upon his tile; he's surely smooth as wax is; but O the man who wears a smile while coughing up his taxes! I've seen a brave policeman walk where vicious knaves were lying; and bullets barely missed his block, and bricks and knives were flying; I've seen the wild beast tamer fool with savage bears and yakses; but O the man who's calm and cool when coughing up his taxes! Let oak leaves on his brow be laid, let nothing be denied him! All other heroes wilt and fade when they are brought beside him! No greater shall be found while earth revolves upon its axis—this lofty soul of sterling worth, who smiles when paying taxes!

MEN AND THINGS ACROSS THE SEA.

Guinea pigs, whose chief use in the past has been for medical experiments, are to be used for mowing machines at Kent, England. The Kent Golf Club has turned loose upon its lawn a number of guinea pigs which at once attack all the worst weeds—the plantains first, then the dandelions and daisies. These broad-leaved plants, which no mowing machine will touch, are killed by the persistent cutting of the guinea pigs' teeth.

When they have finished the weeds, which are broad-leaved and succulent, they proceed to the grass. In a short time the lawn looks as if it had been cut by the closest machine. No harm is done to the grass nor to the animals themselves, as they appear to be healthier than under any other treatment.

The excavations under the Mosque of Omar at Jerusalem appear to have resulted in important finds of an historical character. A London statement which sounds authoritative says the object of the excavations was to discover the burial place of David and Solomon. In tunneling under the Hill of Ephel the expedition discovered a number of natural caves in which were human bodies lying on natural shelves of rock. These were clearly remains of Jebuzites who had been buried before Jerusalem was taken by King David, and were probably of the date of 3000 B.C. There were indications that the bodies had merely been laid on their rock slabs without any covering except a few stones. This was probably one of the earliest forms of burial discovered. In an adjoining cavern the excavators found Jebuzite pottery of the same period, which gave evidence of a very high state of civilization, quite equal to that of the Israelites of perhaps 2000 years later.

At a lower level the diggers came across rock-cut chambers, with regular niches, evidently intended for the reception of corpses. Investigation showed that these houses of the dead had, at a later period, been used by the Israelites as dwelling places, marks of fires and quantities of charcoal being found. Some Israelitish lamps were also found in the niches.

Those discoveries should prove of the highest scientific interest, as, although there has been long and diligent search, these are the first Jebuzite remains ever found in the Holy City. It is proposed to resume the work on August 1 next at the point where it was left at Easter.

King Alfonso of Spain and King George of England are the only occupants of thrones who play polo. The Kaiser likes to follow the hounds on horseback. Emperor Francis Joseph, in spite of his great age, still rides with grace and ease difficult horses and used formerly to hunt, but has given it up since the tragic death of his only son, a score of years ago. The Kings of Greece, of Sweden, of Norway, of Denmark, of Wurtemberg, of Saxony, of Servia, of Roumania and of Montenegro prefer walking to either riding or driving, and the same may be said of King Albert of Belgium. Victor Emmanuel III prefers to everything else the automobile, although he is a much better horseman than his father.

The ceremony of trooping the colors which was performed on the birthday of King George with an imposing pageant was invented by King George II's younger son, the Duke of Cumberland, whose cruelties after his victory of Culloden won for him the nickname of "The Butcher." He instituted the trooping of the colors for the purpose of discovering which of the officers had failed to recover from the effects of the drunkenness and orgies of the night before. As one of the features of the pageant requires each officer to march very slowly and separately directly to his post, the least irregularity of gait could be easily detected.

While the necessity for this test no longer exists, the parade continues in the form established by "The Butcher" Duke, and invariably takes place in connection with the official celebration of the birthday of the sovereign.

CHERRY-BLOSSOMS.

BY YONE NOGUCHI.

The cherry-blossom has its great popularity with us in Japan, unlike the plum-blossom, largely because we have no need to refer to any particular story or tradition (though stories and traditions of it abound,) but only to itself for our appreciation. With us appreciation of it is most natural, while often forced art in another place. And you can make on the spot, if you wish, a story or tradition, of heavenly thing or human being, to suit the cherry-blossom and also your own whim, and even imagine it to be partly your own creation. It is remarkable that any story or tradition, provided it is beautiful, will be found fit for it. I know some flowers of whom I can fancy an ugly thing; your imagination will soon be disarmed if you start with hostile intention toward the cherry-blossom. It seems to me that the biggest offense to the cherry-blossom is to write poetry on it. How many million poems have we written on it? It is really appalling to see what bad poems we could turn out; it is a fact that the poems on the cherry-blossom have never even once been good. I do not like to believe it to be from the reason that it is a very difficult subject to write on. Indeed, I incline to think that the flower itself is ever so pleased even with a bad poem. There is a flower like the plum-blossom, for instance, looking so critical and hard to please, whose severe appearance repels poor poetry; and we are almost afraid to write a line on the lotus, because it looks so holy. And the lone formal behavior of the iris makes our personal approach impossible. It is like the Japanese tea-master wrapped in cold silence. But the cherry-blossom is in temperament like love, generous enough like love to make a poet believe his work is good; but in truth he always fails, again as in love.

I often quarrel with my friend, who insists that the cherry-blossom is vain, like a pretentious woman; I always say to him that a proof that it is not will be seen in the fact that it never asks your imagination to value it for more than it is, as does the plum-blossom sometimes, and the morning glory quite often. If you think it is pretentious, it is only the flower's misfortune. Go into the street and ask any jinrikisha runner or even beggar whom you come across what he thinks about the cherry-blossom; you will be told by him exactly what you think about it, not less, not more. I am ready to say that there is only one occasion during a long run of 365 days that we, low and high, poor and rich, perfectly agree with one another; in the moment when we are looking up to the cherry-blossom. Beneath the cherry-blossom we return at once to our first simplicity. Without that archaic strength we should never be able to hold up our lives and worlds.

I have heard many people who could not understand why the plum-blossom must bloom at such an early season, when it even trembles on the naked branch, and why the maple leaves must turn red, like the showy kimono of a gay daughter in carnival, before they enter into wintry rest; but anybody's heart of hearts always awakens at once when he sees the cherry-blossom in bloom, indeed, the spring of his soul and the spring of the flower call to each other. We love it, too, because it is the Japanese way to agree in love. We agree often foolishly but innocently, before we ask why, when we hear a voice of a leader. Who was the leader of the movement for the general admiration of the cherry-blossom? It was the children, I believe, who brought it home from the countryside a thousand years ago when it was a nameless flower; and it was the poets of the Heian age who properly introduced it into our Japanese life. The poets were the leaders; and our spirit, which is of the crowd, made us follow after them. Is there any greater work for the poets than the bringing of a flower into our lives? It is natural with us that the cherry-blossom should spiritually evolve and gain an influence even to change the physical side of our life, particularly 200 years ago, when we had a popular saying that the Bushi or fighter was the man of men, and the cherry-blossom the flower of flowers. It is, indeed, an interesting psychological study to examine the real relation between the cherry-blossom and the Japanese. We danced, ate and more freely drank the sake wine all gold, under its falling petals. As we did last spring, so we will do again.

I do not care what history the cherry-blossom may have; what concerns me most here is its real beauty which is the more enhanced by a touch of sadness under the gray bosom of the sky with mists. What a lamentation of the flower when it is suddenly called to the ground by the evening temple bell or sudden rain! Why has she to haste when we all wish her to stay longer? I would like to think that we who come like the cherry-blossom shall go again like it. Our human lives are, indeed, beautiful like that flower, and its sigh under the night wind is ours. It is quite commonplace to say that the life of a flower is short. But it is most wonderful to observe what a gusty energy is put into that short life of the cherry-blossom; it blooms, true to say, without any care, straight from the right heart of the earth.

MASSACHUSETTS MATERNITY LAW.

Massachusetts has won new distinction as a pioneer in labor legislation by enacting the first American law prohibiting the industrial activity of women immediately before and after childbirth. This interesting measure, which goes into effect January 1, 1912 (ch. 229, approved March 31,) provides that "no woman shall be knowingly employed in laboring in a mercantile, manufacturing or mechanical establishment within two weeks before or four weeks after childbirth."

Several European countries have similar regulations, but, unlike Massachusetts, they provide "maternity insurance" for the out-of work period, and specifically require that upon demand the employer shall re-engage the mother at the end of the period.—[John B. Andrews in the Survey.

HOW TO COURT HER.

"When calling upon a young lady remember never to extend your call after 10 o'clock of an evening."

He who adheres strictly to this never outwears his welcome with the girl, or the folks in the house.

Those who disregard this friendly warning should not be surprised if she attempts to make excuses after a while, when he tells her that he will call upon such and such an evening again.

A girl appreciates the young man who can take her out to some affairs now and then, instead of compelling her to entertain him in the parlor. If they are out for a walk she can say: "Oh, dear, it is 10 o'clock. My boarding-house lady expects everyone to be in at that hour, for she locks up then."

The above remark ought to bring a young man to his senses, if anything will. If he wants to keep her forever by his side he should marry her, and take her to a dovecote of his own.—[Laura Jean Libbey in Philadelphia Telegraph.

The sixth Turnfest of the Pacific Coast combines with the Saengerfest, and will open Friday at 8 o'clock p.m. at the Turner Hall on South Main street, with a reception, prizes, singing and recitals.

Saturday, at the Auditorium, there will be a special exhibition of physical culture, and singing choruses by the united singing societies. Mayor Alexander will deliver the address of welcome on the occasion. Arrangements so far are complete and the general committees are well satisfied with their work, while the smaller subcommittees expect a successful Turnfest.

Guests are already arriving and, after Saturday night's concert, Sunday at Fiesta Park will be devoted to the gymnastic Turner exhibition drills and band concert.

Monday excursions to Mt. Lowe, and Monday evening an entertainment at gymnasium hall and grounds, Figueroa street. Sunday night a grand ball and distribution of prizes will be held at the Turner Hall on Main street.

The musical programme for Saturday evening at the Auditorium is given below: Overture, "Rienzi" (Wagner,) orchestra; "Consecration of Song" (Baldamus,) massed chorus and orchestra; baritone solo, Joseph Bischof; male chorus, "A Capella" (a) "Mother Love" (Voigt,) (b) "Parting" (Idemann;) male chorus, "A Capella," "Margaret" (Schoenefeld,) singing section of Turnverein Germania; baritone solo, Joseph Bischof; "Friedrich Barbossa" (Rolbertsky,) massed chorus and orchestra.

"The Gingerbread Man," Frederic Ranken and Baldwin Sloane's musical fantasy will come to the Grand next week.

The play is purely a fanciful creation, but having fun-making situations, grotesque and comical figures and witty lines, while it contains several of the most famous song hits of recent years.

Percy Bronson will be the Simon Simple of "The Gingerbread Man," Robert Leonard will play Wondrous Wise, with that robust comedian Roscoe Arbuckle as Carmeleta, a very fair Fairy Queen, with little Myrtle Dingwall as the Jack Horner of the piece.

Scenically it will prove out of the ordinary, the first scene being a street in Santa Claus land, while the second act shows the dividing line between the realms of King Sugar Plum and King Bunn.

Can Dick Ferris, actor, come back? He says yes, and to prove his contention he will reopen the Majestic Theater a week from next Sunday night, for one week only, in "The Man From Mexico."

Supporting Ferris will be Florence Stone, his beautiful wife, and a company. The organization is being booked for an extensive tour of the Coast, following the Majestic engagement.

Fred Karno's London Pantomine Company of twenty people will come to the Empress next week and "A Night In An English Music Hall" will again be seen. This act will be the especial feature of the new Sullivan and Considine bill, which comes to the Empress Monday afternoon.

The scene shows a stage upon a stage and a play within a play, two tiers of boxes and the auditorium of a continental music hall while the performance is going on.

It was in this act that Billy Reeves, the famous "jag" of the Follies of 1911, was first introduced to the New York public, and since that time the highly humorous antics of the "jag" in a box have played an important part in more than one big metropolitan production.

Important on the new bill will also be Sadie Sherman, "The American Maid," who will be seen in her recent New York success, "Phototypes."

Events in Local Society

Mrs. Rolland Folmer Bower,

formerly Miss Harriett Whisner, whose wedding will interest both local and eastern society.

MISS HARRIETT WHISNER was an interesting bride of last evening. Her wedding to Rolland Folmer Bower of Hagerstown, Md., a pretentious affair, was solemnized at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Whisner, of No. 2711 Normandie avenue. The bridal costume was heavy white satin made with court train, draped with white silk marquisette and Duchesse lace. Lily of the valley and orchids formed the bouquet. A beautiful diamond necklace, the gift of the groom's mother, was the only ornament worn. Mrs. H. J. Adams, in yellow satin, lace trimmed, assisted as matron. Mr. Adams was best man. Little Lillian and Alice Adams and Helen Whisner carried baskets of roses which they scattered along the paths of the bridal party. Rev. Mr. Bower performed the ceremony before a beautiful altar of white and yellow blossoms. The bride was educated at Miss Barstown's school in Kansas City. Mr. Bower is a Cornell graduate. Supper was served following the ceremony, when Mr. Bower and his bride left for their future home in Maryland.

At the Country Club.

A luncheon yesterday at the Los Angeles Country Club was presided over graciously by Mrs. William T. Bishop of West Adams street. She entertained complimentary to her niece, Miss Elizabeth Bishop, formerly of Cincinnati, who has come to this city to make her future home. Miss Alice Grierson, daughter of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Charles Grierson of Fort Ethan Allen, was present as special guest. Others who responded to invitations were Miss Katherine Melius, Miss Juliet Borden, Miss Elizabeth Hicks, Miss Echo Allen, Miss Louise Burke, Miss Emma Conroy, Miss Kate Van Nuys, Miss Mildred Burnett, Miss Sally McFarland, Miss Sally Bonner, Miss Alice Elliott, Miss Gertrude King, Miss Helen Newlin, Miss Jane Rollins, Miss Angelita Phillips, Mrs. Edward Bosbyshell, Mrs. Walter Leeds, Mrs. Leo Chandler, and Mrs. W. S. Hook, Jr. The table was decorated with a large basket of American beauties and My Maryland roses, bows and streamers of ribbon in the American beauty and My Maryland tints.

Dancing Party.

Mrs. Wesley Clark and her daughter, Miss Lucille, were hostesses at a summer dancing party last evening, given at their residence, No. 141 Westmoreland place, as a welcome home to Miss Sarah Clark, who returned recently from college.

Married Sunday.

Miss Eva L. Miller and Charles Eustace Archer, both of Norwalk, were married Sunday morning at the residence of T. R. Archer, of No. 2912 South Flower street. The service was in charge of Rev. B. C. Cory. Mr. and Mrs. Archer will reside at their country home, at Norwalk.

Miss McManus, Hostess.

Among pleasant affairs of the week was the afternoon party given by Miss Alice McManus, of No. 930 South Union avenue. The guests enjoyed a dainty luncheon from a table aglow with lavender sweet peas. There were covers for Miss Irene Misner, Miss Muriel Brew, Miss Genie Brew, Miss Gertrude Conway, Miss Louise Taylor, Miss Florence Smith, Miss Celeste Walsh, Miss Amelia Grunig, Miss Mary O'Sullivan, Miss Alice Couts, Miss Gundolupe Andrade, Miss Pearl Andrade, Miss Virginia Andrade and Miss Anna McManus.

Wedding Announcement.

Mrs. M. J. MacPherson, of No. 1383 West Thirty-sixth street, announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Lena May, to J. Frederick Brunette, which took place Saturday. On account of the illness of the bride's mother, the wedding was marked by extreme simplicity. Rev. J. A. Geissinger was the officiating clergyman.

To Give Banquet.

The Hollywood Hotel will be the scene tomorrow evening of a banquet by the members of the graduating class of the Hollywood High School and members of the alumni. Covers will be laid for fifty, and one entire section of the large dining-room will be set aside for the tables. Following the banquet, a dance will be given in the foyer of the hotel. It is expected to be one of the most brilliant affairs of the season in Hollywood.

At Home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Adams Tate, the latter formerly Miss Thresa Stuthard, have returned from their honeymoon trip, which included a visit at Del Monte and San Francisco. Mrs. Tate is at home to friends at No. 740 Carondolet street.

Go North.

Mrs. Ora Aikin, formerly of Glendale, and her daughter will make their future home in Oakland.

Farewell Courtesy.

Dr. M. Parmelee, the retiring manager of the Harvard Military School, and wife, with Prof. W. S. Weeks, gave a farewell party to the members of the faculty and their wives, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce F. Johnson, Glendale. The parlors were artistically decorated with carnations and roses, with the fireplace banked in ferns. The dining-room was festooned in the national colors. The table had as a centerpiece a basket of red carnations. The place cards were tied to baskets filled with red, white and blue candies. The favors were little fans in the shape of fire crackers. A delicious repast was served. The music-room, was decorated with carnations, and a delightful musical programme rendered, consisting of selections on the piano by Miss Ida M. Selby, and Profs. W. S. Weeks, W. M. Green, and L. H. Wilcox. Arthur Grip played the violin. On the receiving end with Dr. and Mrs. Parmelee and Prof. Weeks, were Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, and Mrs. George Forsythe of Butte. The guests invited were, Prof. and Mrs. Frank M. Boren, Prof. and Mrs. W. E. Green, Lieut. and Mrs. E. A. Merwin, Miss Grace B. Evans, Prof. Homer M. Fletcher, L. H. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. Grip, and Mrs. Forsythe.

Dr. and Mrs. Parmelee left last Friday evening for an extended visit through this State, Washington, Canada, and Michigan. After visiting their parents, they will leave Michigan the middle of August for California, where Dr. Parmelee will assume his duties in Whittier as superintendent of the city schools.

Coming Affair.

Miss Jean Valentine of No. 916 South Alvarado street was hostess yesterday afternoon at a pleasant affair given complimentary to about sixty of her young friends. The game played was five hundred.

At Arrowhead.

Guests who are registered at Hotel Arrowhead include: C. J. Tracy, Pasadena; Charles W. Clark and wife, San Diego; Louis Rich, D. A. Hamburger, August Marquis, Jacques Marquis, Los Angeles; L. P. A Cottage Couch Cover.

An inexpensive and durable couch cover for use in the country or beach cottage may be made by purchasing two three-yard lengths of burlap in harmoniously contrasting colors, cutting them in strips about twelve inches in width and sewing them together, then following the seam with a catch-stitch. The ends may be either fringed or simply hemmed and catch-stitched.

Fashion Echoes.

There are many novelties in shoes for the afternoon, which are very striking. All black patent leather shoes are surrounded with a narrow band of red, green, violet or gray kid, and the wide ribbon fastening the shoes and the silk stockings are of the same color as this band.

Parasols with shirred chiffon covers are shown in a large variety, printed chiffon being used over white and colored foundations. Sometimes the chiffon is shirred over the upper part of the cover only, and sometimes the shirred portion is used at the lower edge of the border.

Hand-tucked blouses of sheer linen with jabots trimmed with Valenciennes lace are much worn.

Many little plisses, jabots and frills show touches of black velvet in the form of tiny buttons.

Scarfs of satin or supple, changeable taffeta, are used on both afternoon and evening dresses.

As a decorative agent in trimming a tailored suit, there is nothing so effective as black and white silk.

Flower hats are still popular.

Two shades of blue, one very much lighter, are used on linen tailored suits.

Little bonnets of crin or silver lace with ruffles of fine lace falling over the hair are very dainty and attractive.

The "mitten" stocking is a pretty fad. It is of black net, and is worn over a silk stocking of a contrasting color.

Shoemakers' heels are used on street shoes and boots, while the Louis XV heels are reserved for evening shoes.

The very newest form of watch is that which is placed within a pendant. Still smaller is a dainty watch set in a ring.

A deep sailor collar of white net chiffon or mousseline appears on many of the smartest mourning gowns of the season.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY SYDNEY FORD.

The Young Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church, who benefited by the afternoon tea served at Barker's after the lecture by the cooking expert there, intend to use the money cleared toward the furnishing of a room in the David and Margaret Home at Lordsburg, an institution for the care of children which is conducted under the auspices of this society.

Besides looking after this home, the young women of the society support a girl at the Spanish Industrial School here, another in the school at Yuma, Arizona, and lend valuable aid to the local Japanese home, and the Methodist Hospital.

On Monday the women of St. James Methodist Church served the tea and had the profit, yesterday the Westlake Presbyterian Church women had charge and today the young women of the First Congregational Church will serve. Tomorrow the W.C.T.U. will benefit, and on Saturday the McKinley Industrial Home will come in for a share of favors.

Every day but two is taken by various churches and philanthropic organizations, for the next fortnight, during which Mrs. Haffner continues her afternoon lectures and demonstrates with her choice viands. Among them are the Plymouth Congregational, the Hollywood Christian and Baptist churches, the Bethany and Grand View Presbyterian, the Kings' Daughters Day Nursery, the Church of the Messiah, the Wilshire boulevard and South Main street Christian churches.

The menu served by the First Methodist young women included sandwiches, olives, cake, strawberry preserves, wafers and coffee—all of which were made before the eyes of the audience by the priestess of good living and wholesome cooking.

Miss Carrie Ellwood, treasurer of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church.

The Eternal Feminine.

"I don't know," said the hesitating woman in a doubting tone as she sat at my side at the club luncheon, "I'm half afraid this club life for women is robbing them of domesticity—they get more interested in clubs than in their homes, their children, and—you know, my husbands says—"

Right there I interrupted her with a nudge and directed her attention to two women at the head of the table, who were deep in confidential chat over something. They had been at it for some time and we had been slyly watching them and wondering what plans they were concocting for furthering woman suffrage, club politics and civic affairs. Just at that moment their heads were close together and I discovered, by pantomime as it were, what all this earnest conversation was about.

For at that instant one of them showed the other what was in her hand—a cunning little baby shoe—the kind made of chamois skin you know, that mothers make themselves, with dainty silk feather-stitching to join the seams.

That was what it was all about—those two mothers had been billing and cooing about their babies at home, and planning patterns for tiny shoes—between courses, before the lecture from an eminent medical authority about the milk baby should drink, and what precautions to use to keep it pure and free from germs.

The woman at my side subsided in her criticisms, concerning the divorcing of women from home interests. It's mighty hard to smother the eternal feminine, one trait of which is mother instinct.

Suspiciously Silent.

The weekly organ of E. G. Lewis, founder of the Woman's League, an exposure of whose business schemes has recently filled colums of the daily press, is suspiciously silent in its current issue concerning this young disciple of high finance, whereas heretofore its front page has bristled with long lyrics about his triumphal progress through California, as recorded by some of our local contemporaries and by long telegrams from Lewis himself.

The pity is that honest, trusting women have taken stock in this man whom they set up as a little god, but whose clay feet now stick out so conspicuously. I heard him introduced at a public meeting here by one of the league officers, as "the greatest man in the world today." He is—in one sense.

They're in Luck.

The trained nurse, while her vocation calls for hard and trying work, some times has a recompense that is a reward for sleepless nights and peevish patients. Two Los Angeles graduates from the California Hospital Training School for Nurses have just received such reward in the shape of foreign travel. One of them, Miss Elizabeth Barbour, recently returned from a delightful trip with a patient to Honolulu and Japan, and another, Miss Ida M. Ambrose, is now in Germany with a patient, who has taken her little child over there to a noted oculist for treatment. Both young women are graduates of the class of '04.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

Annual Encampment at Coronado Next Week—Large Local Delegation Will Go by Steamer on Sunday.

The eighth annual encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans will be held in Coronado on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The commander-in-chief, J. R. H. Jacoby, of Seattle, and staff, together with delegates from all northern points, will come south on the special steamer Harvard. The Los Angeles delegation, consisting of about 100 veterans and ladies, will meet the steamer on Sunday at San Pedro, leaving the Salt Lake station at 11:30 a.m.

On Monday afternoon a side trip will be made to Tia Juana; on Wednesday afternoon an automobile ride; on Wednesday evening a banquet will be held at Hotel del Coronado.

Battle Stories of The Civil War.

The War Day by Day Fifty Years Ago

LXXVII.

June 22, 1861—Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston, Long Distinguished in the U. S. Army, Was on His Way Across Country from California to Texas to Unsheath His Sword for the Confederacy.

[Copyright, 1911, By Associated Literary Press.]

FIFTY years ago today Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston, recently commander of the military district in California, was on his way across the continent from the Pacific Coast to Texas to offer his sword to the Confederate government.

His course of action, though but the same as that of many other officers, is notable because of his own prominence, both in the United States army and later as a general of the Confederacy. It was that of a man of high ideals, the true "officer and gentleman," who had wrestled hard to reconcile his military duty with that he believed he owed his State.

Born and bred in the South, Gen. Johnston shared the strong southern opinions of the time regarding slavery and State's rights, and considered that his primary allegiance was to the State of Texas, which he had made his by adoption.

When, therefore, there came to San Francisco the news that Texas had seceded from the Union and had joined the Confederacy he felt that he could no longer hold his commission under the United States and at once wrote his resignation.

He still hoped, however, that war might be averted, and it was not until he learned both of the acceptance of his resignation and of the firing on Sumter, news that took more than a month to come to him, that he prepared to leave California and join the Confederate army.

As Department Commander.

Gen. Johnston had taken command of the Department of California about the middle of January, when the secession movement was already well under way, and the months during which he held position saw its rapid development.

Although the majority of Californians were hostile to secession, there were many southerners in the State, and with the large element of restless and revolutionary men on the Coast, it was quite possible that, if they imagined they could have the assistance, or even the tacit approval of the military commander, they would make an effort to take the State out of the Union and set up a Pacific republic.

But Gen. Johnston was not a man to tamper with. One friend of his was asked to sound him as to his willingness to co-operate in such an attempt, but when the time came to ask the question he dared not do it, knowing too well what would be his reception.

"He told me of his own accord," said this friend, "that as long as he held his commission he would maintain the authority of the United States to the last extremity, and we knew he would do it."

Informed by Republicans of the plot, Gen. Johnston quietly proceeded to remove several thousand stands of arms from the arsenal at Benicia, where they were exposed to capture, and place them in Alcatraz, the island fortress commanding San Francisco Bay, which was virtually impregnable. He then notified the Governor, John G. Downey, that these arms were at the disposal of the State militia to suppress any outbreak or uprising, and took other measures to insure peace.

His resignation he had sent April 10 by pony express to Washington, where it did not arrive until May—for the railroad, like the telegraph, had not yet penetrated to the Pacific—but, because he feared the news of it might produce harmful results in California, he kept his action and purpose a profound secret until relieved in his command.

Gen. E. V. Sumner had sailed secretly from New York April 1, with orders to supersede Johnston, and arrived at San Francisco on the 24th. The following day Gen. Johnston, very thankful to see his successor, turned over to him the department intact, and a day or two later set out for Los Angeles.

Opportunities Declined.

At Los Angeles, where he had relatives and friends, and where he had hoped to retire in peace, Gen. Johnston remained for more than a month, until the news that war had begun persuaded him that he was needed in the South.

"If you sympathize with either side," he said to those who asked him for advice, "and feel the call of duty to take part in a sectional war, go home and fight there if necessary. Here there should be peace."

In making his own choice, no small renunciation was involved. The senior of the officers not too old or feeble for active service, with a clear record and many friends, Gen. Johnston on the Union side might have attained the highest rank in the war.

Gen. Sumner, who succeeded him, urged him to reconsider and recall his resignation. "Gen. Scott," he said, "bade me tell you that he wished you for active service, and that you should be only second to himself."

A letter of April 18 from Washington bore to Gen. Johnston assurances of the utmost confidence on the part of the Secretary of War, with the promise of the most important command and trust on his arrival at the capital, and also the appointment of his son to West Point.

Still later, Montgomery Blair, the Postmaster-General, feeling that injury had been done to Gen. Johnston by the manner he had been superseded in California, told President Lincoln of the facts and obtained a major-general's commission for him. By that time he had already started for Texas, and it was too late.

Starting Out For Texas.

By the first of June Gen. Johnston's position in Los Angeles became one of great difficulty and even of danger. War had begun in earnest, and any soldier who should now try to reach the South was liable to capture.

As the Federal forces had full command of the sea the water route was closed to him; by land his way lay across the desert of Arizona, beset with perils and hardships that might well deter even such a veteran campaigner as himself.

Indeed, it was even doubtful whether he would be permitted to attempt the journey, for soldiers had been sent to Los Angeles to watch his every movement, and he was virtually a prisoner in the district he had lately commanded. Note was taken of all his acts, and at any moment the hand of the military power might seize him.

Happily for his purpose, there were other Texans in Southern California who wished to return to their native State, and with great satisfaction he learned of the formation of a band of such men pledged to make the attempt, some thirty in all.

To disarm the suspicions of the Federal authorities the date of departure was given out as June 25, but at daybreak on June 16, Gen. Johnston set out from Los Angeles for Warner's ranch, about 100 miles distant, which had been made the place of rendezvous. Here he arrived June 22, fifty years ago today.

For part of the way a friendly rancher had picketed the road with his vaqueros, who should warn the general of the appearance of Federal soldiers, but the soldiers, having no knowledge of his departure, did not follow.

Gen. Johnston's outfit consisted of a strong, light covered ambulance, drawn by two mules, in which he carried all his provisions and camp equipage; a saddle horse, which he rode, and a pack mule, laden with a quantity of barley for forage.

His Previous Record.

Gen. Johnston was now 58 years old, but so hale and strong that he seemed at least a dozen years younger. The better part of his life he had passed in the army, and now he knew no other calling.

In 1886, at te age of 23, he had been graduated from West Point. There his room-mate had been Leonidas Polk, soon to become his colleague in the war in Kentucky and Tenessee. In the same class was Robert Anderson whom Sumter had since made famous, and two classes later came Jefferson Davis.

The year 1832 saw Johnston a lieutenant in the Black Hawk War. In 1834 he resigned from the army, and two years later he was enrolled under the lone star flag of the Texan republic, holding in turn the rank of adjutant-general, brigadier and Secre- of War. In the last-named office he did much for the young republic, but he felt his efforts hampered by President Sam Houston and in 1840 he resigned.

Six years of more or less success as a planter found him in 1846 with Gen. Zachary Taylor's expedition to Mexico, and as inspector-general of volunteers, he was present at the battle of Monterey, renewing the friendship with Jefferson Davis begun at West Point and continued in the Black Hawk War.

A new essay at planting was followed by a return to the United States army in 1849, this time as paymaster to the posts on the Texas frontier, where he was obliged to make a journey of 730 miles six times a year over wild and uninhabited country.

In the spring of 1855 he was made colonel of the Second United States Cavalry, with Robert E. Lee as his lieutenant colonel, William J. Hardee and George H. Thomas as his majors, and seven future Confederate generals,, including E. Kirby Smith and John B. Hood, together with about as many Federals as captains and lieutenants. It was probable that this regiment furnished a greater proportion of general officers in the Civil War than any other.

After a year in Texas he was appointed in 1857 to head the expedition against the Mormons of Utah, a duty that called him to face snow and cold more dreadful than hostile bullets, and as commander of the military department of Utah he remained until 1860.

Postal Cards Out by Thousands for Catching Conversions to Cause of Enfranchisement of Women.

The way in which the base commercialism of the age puts art to the uses of a practical people was demonstrated yesterday when the Political Equality League of California ordered 50,000 postal cards printed in bronze and bearing the striking poster modeled by Julia Bracken Wendt.

These cards will be used as an invitation to the general public to commit itself to the cause of women's suffrage by mailing notice of such conversion to the Political Equality League.

This week the doctors are getting theirs, and next month the turn of the lawyers will come. When the California lawyers are exhausted the business men will be taken on.

The preachers surrendered in large numbers at the first onslaught, and many of them will preach on the subject next Sunday. Some of the others will express themselves quite differently next Monday morning, when the Ministerial Union will hold a special session to hear the arguments against suffrage. At the meeting when suffrage was first discussed, practically all of the time was devoted to its favorable consideration.

A weekly meeting has been too much of a strain on the time and energy of the Votes for Women Club. Feeling that the same amount of effort can be centered in a more practical work during the summer, the ladies of this club have decided only to hold special meetings from time to time at Blanchard Hall, and to do more precinct work in the way of getting the voters registered. They say that they themselves are sufficiently converted to the cause, and that they now desire to get after the real voter They will, however, hold another public meeting next Monday night when Father Joseph Gleason of Pomona will speak.

Mrs. A. S. Wells, the woman police officer, will speak in favor of the "cause" at Choral Hall Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. E. Norine Law, a member of the Legislative Committee of the National Purity Federation, will also address this meeting. Her subject will be "The Necessity of More Carefully Safeguarding Our Girls." Charles Hurty, secretary of the Indiana State Board of Health, will address the audience at this time on questions of social science.

Ishdahl will leave today with his wife, who is an American woman, native of Cambridge, Mass., for a month's stay at Coronado.

FIRE BOAT SAVES WHARF.

Blazing Engine Sets Trestle in Flames at San Pedro and Great Quantity of Lumber Threatened.

A fire which spread from a burning locomotive to the trestle on the Miner fill in the outer harbor at San Pedro yesterday morning and threatened to destroy the valuable wharf and thousands of dollars' worth of lumber piled on it, was extinguished by the tug Falcon under lease to the city as a fire boat.

About 5 o'clock a Southern Pacific switch engine which was on the Outer Harbor Dock Company's wharf, caught fire from oil which had escaped from an overturned can. In a few minutes the flames spread from the burning woodwork of the switch engine to the trestle beneath the truck.

A stiff wind fanned the flames which were gaining rapid headway when the Falcon, which was in the outer harbor, steamed to the scene and played two powerful streams of water on the burning wharf as well as the blazing engine. The latter sustained a damage of $300. The loss on the trestle was $200.

Without the assistance of the tug, it would have been impossible from the shore to have saved the valuable new wharf, owing to the direction of the wind.

The city has two fire boats at San Pedro, the Falcon and the Warrior, one of which at least is always on hand for just such contingencies.

TIME IS NEARLY UP.

A week from tomorrow, according to the Collector of Internal Revenue, will be the last day upon which dealers needing special tax stamps from the department may obtain them without a penalty. These stamps must be obtained by all persons who sell liquor, oleomargerine or any other product of similar nature upon which Uncle Sam exacts a like tax. The penalty for delinquency is 50 per cent. additional upon the amount due. In aggravated cases, where negligence or refusal to pay can be proved, the penalty is to be doubled. June 30 is also the last day for payment of taxes on incomes, due from corporations. The receipts at the Federal office from this source have been running between $15,000 and $20,000 a day all this week.

Phoenix Officials Converse With Los Angeles.

New Farmers and Merchants Bank Is Opened.

Costly Schoolhouse to Be Built in Florence.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 20.—Yesterday in Los Angeles and Phoenix, at the rooms of the commercial organizations of both cities, were gathered groups of business men, making the first trial of a through telephone wire between the two cities. Here, Mayor Christy talked with Mayor Alexander of Los Angeles. Dr. Foss, of the local Medical Society gave Dr. Barlow of Los Angeles, information that while the therometer stood at 102, the sensible temperature registered only 65. From the Board of Trade of Phoenix to President Slauson of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, went the following message:

"This is only a starter for the conversation that will be continued on your beaches by thousands of Arizonans, who will bring their pocketbooks and whose money will talk as well as themselves. In return, we want you to come over this fall to the Arizona Territorial Fair, where you will see people as good as anywhere and products that are better than most, with the added attraction of witnessing the finish of the world-famous Los Angeles-Phoenix roadrace. We want to express our appreciation of the liberal spirit manifested by your body with reference to Arizona as a back country and to thank you for courtesies extended our branch within your building. Keep on the good work, for it will all conduce to the greater glory of both cities."

NEW BANK OPENS.

The new Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Phoenix has opened for business, being the sixth bank within the city. Its capital is mainly from Oklahoma, and its officers, late from Oklahoma City, include F. S. Westfall, president, and J. B. Westfall, cashier.

In the adjustment of the affairs of the late Bank of Florence, Judge Kent has rendered judgment in favor of Adolph W. Lautz, receiver, against two citizens of Florence for $4000 and $2000 each, though in the possession of the receiver were notes respectively for $4500 and $7000. An astonishing statement was made and substantiated that T. E. Egan, former cashier of the bank, had retained $4500 as his commission for making the two loans. Judgment was given also against Egan and two sureties on a note given by the cashier to a patron in default of cash that was due.

A modern eight-room school building, costing about $25,000, is to be erected this fall at Florence, to replace a building which has been in use for about twenty years.

Ground has been broken for the basement of the Phoenix Federal building, on the eastern half of what is locally known as the Y.M.C.A. block. The construction upon the walls is to begin not later than September 1, and the whole building is to be finished and occupied by September 1, 1912.

CAN'T PA YTHEIR BILLS.

Citizens of Wickenburg, headed by a justice of the peace of the precinct, have filed with the County Supervisors a petition for disincorporation. Since the county was voted dry at the last local option election, the licenses and taxes upon saloons have been cut off and it is alleged that the municipality no longer has revenues sufficient to pay costs.

Elizabeth Barclay Horne, now a resident of Los Angeles, has been granted a divorce from Joseph Horne, with costs assessed upon the latter. The couple were married only about a year ago, the bride coming from Scotland. A few months ago, Horne sued his partner in the nursery business, John Armstrong, for alienation of his wife's affections. He lost his suit, and thereafter Judge Kent issued a divorce to the wife.

POINTS TO MURDER.

Mexican Is Arrested on Suspicion of Having Fired Shot Thought at First to Have Been Suicidal.

Though a suicide certificate had been signed, the police department has reopened the investigation of the circumstances surrounding the death of Antonio Alderete in his room at No. 1318 San Fernando street. Yesterday afternoon Blasa Armoro was arrested by Officers Phillips and Kelcher of the East Side Police Station. A charge of suspicion of murder has been made against him.

The investigation was reopened when the patrolman viewed the body of Alderee at J. D. Button's undertaking estaablishment and discovered that there were no powder marks around the bullet hole in the head. The pistol had been found in the man's room, and the evidence pointed toward suicide.

If Armoro did kill Alderete, it is the theory of the police that he did so in a quarrel over a woman, Catalina Reyes. Armoro, the patrolmen who ended Alderete's life was fired. The arrested him declare, was in the house at the time the shot which ended Alderete's life was fired. The trio are Mexicans.

Near Doctors Threatened with Litigation, Hurry to Offer Settlement Out of Court for One Victim.

Continuing their investigation into the methods of the quacks and criminal malpractitioners lately operating in this city, the agents of the State Board of Medical Examiners have secured what they consider to be important additional evidence.

The investigators are now centering their efforts on the apprehension of the get-rich-quick "specialists," who make a practice of fleecing their victims through the performance of fake operations. The case of Robert Grant alleged to have been victimized to the extent of $200 by a company on South Spring street "specialists," is being settled out of court. This case was exposed by Special Agent C. A. Taggart of the board, and Grant was referred to City Prosecutor Eddie.

Eddie says the case was never called to his personal attention, but lawyers for the "specialists" have made overtures to Grant to effect a settlement without litigation.

MATTER IS COMPLICATED.

Interesting Question Raised When Twice-Married Man with Combined Family Signs School Petition.

Opponents of the annexation of the Huntington Park Union High School district to Los Angeles for school purposes received a rude jolt recently when they accused a resident of signing the petition twice before it was presented to the Board of Supervisors. This revealed an interesting matrimonial tangle.

The man, whose name was not obtainable, was married, had a number of children, lost his wife, married again, and achieved a second family. He signed the petition in the proud assurance that he was doing the best he could by his combined family.

His second wife, who had been a widow, with children of her own, of whom she was legally the guardian, signed the petition for the benefit of her first family. The solution of the problem may call for an opinion from the District Attorney.

Dubious.

CLAIMS REVISED CODE AMBIGUOUS.

SCHOOL ANNEXATION PROBLEM PRESENTS POINTS.

District Attorney's Office Called on to Elucidate Issues Raised in Huntington Park—County Superintendent Propounds Several Questions Not Made Clear in Law.

Six points in the Huntington Park school annexation proposition were regarded as so dubious yesterday by the County Superintendent that he submitted them to Deputy Dist.-Atty. Hanna for elucidation. Hanna expects to hand him an opinion today.

Under the State law an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the heads of families must be secured in a district to insure annexation to another for school purposes. The County Superintendent wants to know how the number of heads of families is now to be arrived at. Under the old system, this was determined by the school census. The last Legislature did away with that, now apportioning funds on an average daily attendance basis. The question is: How many fathers with children of school age are there in Huntington Park, and therefore, how many names signed to the petition given to the Supervisors Monday have a right to be there?

More than that, does the new law mean that only fathers are heads of families, or do all married men qualify? Then, under section 1722 of the revised code, which Keppel claims is ambiguous, may not any mere householder, married or unmarried, sign a petition?

Under another clause of the revised code it is made the duty of the County Superintendent alone to verify the names on the petitions. The Supervisors delegated this duty to their clerk. Keppel wants to know about it. Also may persons appear and sign a petition after it has once been placed before the Supervisors? And again may signers on an original pro-annexation petition sign an anti-annexation document and withdraw from the first? Many Huntington Park residents have done this.

Keppel states that he favors annexation with Los Angeles for school purposes, because the work will not lose its effectiveness, and the cost by taxation to the Huntington Park people will be much decreased. Moreover, the large campus of the school, (twenty-two acres in extent,) will give opportunity for further development of courses in agriculture. Keppel says that the percentage of negroes and Mexicans is as large in the Huntington Park Union High district, which includes Vernon, as in the city proper, and that the fear of the anti-annexationists that colored persons will flood the school, is unfounded.

Clerk McPherron stated yesterday at the Supervisor's office that although his count of the names on the petition, with deduction for withdrawals, is not yet complete, the probability is that an insufficient number has been secured to carry the annexation project. The hearing will be held Monday before the Supervisors.

GROWERS WANT MORE LIGHT.

SEEK DEFINITE WORD FROM FEDERAL COMMISSION.

Letter Received from Dr. Wiley in Which He Defines Mature and Immature Fruit—Efforts Now Being Made to Determine Right Proportion of Sugar Required.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

PORTERVILLE, June 21.—Orange growers of this district are all at sea over the late rulings of the Federal Pure Food Commission. In spite of repeated letters to Dr. Wiley, the chief of the commission, the growers have been unable as yet to secure from him a definite ruling on the question of what constitutes in interstate commerce an orange which will be considered fit to be shipped.

When the ruling regarding sweated and heat-colored oranges was originally promulgated, that oranges so treated would be considered adulterated within the meaning of the pure-food regulations, Dr. Wiley stated that oranges of certain kinds from certain localities were mature while still of a green color and that if such oranges colored in transit from the groves to the market they would not be rejected under the law. It was taken for granted that the early navels of the Central California district came within this exception by reason of their high proportion of sugar.

Letters of inquiry weresent to Dr. Wiley, asking upon what basis the commission will judge a ripe orange. A reply was received today at the headquarters of the exchange, which is very illuminating to the anxious growers. The letter states that green oranges will be considered immatured and that mature oranges will be considered ripe. The letter then concludes with a detailed quotation of "General Order No. 131," in which the statement is made that green oranges colored by any process of heat or sweating will be considered adulterated under the provisions of the pure-food law.

Efforts are now being made by the growers of the early oranges to secure from Dr. Wiley some basis of sugar content upon which to decide the maturity of the oranges sent out from this district early in the season. It is pointed out to the commission that oranges which hang on the trees through the entire season contain about 12 per cent. of sugar. It is suggested to the commission that a ruling stating that a percentage of 8, 9 or 10 per cent. of sugar constitutes a ripe orange will be the only fair method of deciding, and this decision, given in advance of shipping, will protect the grower against the possibility of oranges being shipped to the East, only to be rejected when they arrive in market.

ORANGE GROWERS ELECT.

At a meeting of the orange growers of the Zante district, held yesterday, the new officers of the Zante Citrus Association were elected for the coming year as follows: V. D. Knupp, president; W. L. Hemphill, vice-president; G. S. Langford, secretary and manager; E. L. Scott, treasurer.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the packing-house company, following the association meeting, the same officers were elected to care for the packing of the fruit for the coming year. On the directorate of the two companies, in addition to the officers named, are C. S. Carr, W. H. Grant, J. H. Vosburg and William Duncan. W. H. Grant will act as delegate at large.

In the absence of any specific ruling from the pure-food department, the Zante people have voted to discontinue for the present the marketing of very early oranges for the coming season.

H. E. Peery, a banker and milling man of Ogden, Utah, today purchased the V. D. Knupp Valencia grove on Sunnyside avenue, one of the show places of the Sunnyside district. Mr. and Mrs. Peery will begin the erection of a magnificent bungalow on the scenic drive overlooking their property and will make their winter home here.

The Knupp orchard consists of thirty acres, mostly in fully-matured navels. It is said that ownership of the property changed hands on a basis of $1500 per acre, as the valuation of the orchard.

ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS.

Officers of the Plano packing-house division of the Porterville Citrus Association were elected yesterday afternoon at a well-attended meeting of the Plano growers, as follows:

Peter Ting, president; C. E. Lewis, vice-president; William Ross, secretary and manager; E. L. Scott, treasurer.

On the directorate, in addition to the officers named, are W. Ross, Harvey Frame and George Ford.

Late reports from the orange district are to the effect that the June drop is practically over and that there are very few of the little oranges which remain on the trees or which show the characteristic yellow tinge which denotes they are about to fall off.

It is stated that not in the past ten years has there been such a small orange drop at this season as has been the case this year. The fruit is setting and sizing well and the prospects are very bright for a huge crop this fall.

Neptune Calls.

BOYS SOON OFF FOR CATALINA.

FIRST RELAY OF YOUNGSTERS SAIL ON SATURDAY.

Tremendous Enthusiasm Among All the Contestants of Southern California, Who Have Won or Are Winning the Golden Opportunity to Camp in Paradise of Pacific.

Saturday morning of this week, June 24, the cry, "All aboard for Catalina," will resound at the entrance of The Times office, No. 521 South Spring street, and the outward march of forty-three joyous youngsters toward the depot will inaugurate the wonderful relay outing which this paper has planned for its working boys at The Times Camp, far out in the Pacific Ocean.

As the occupation of the now ready-and-waiting camp in the lovely vale of Avalon draws excitingly near, the boys' department at The Times office fairly bubbles over with anticipations of the future. Subscription-getters are qualifying so fast that Outing Manager Lee's head swims, as he makes up the successive four-day lists.

No phase of the boys' plans are more interesting than those which have to do with sport. Great "doings" in the line of baseball, swimming, rowing and other sturdy outdoor pleasures are eagerly discussed by the various contingents which will fill the big camp the summer long.

One might well wonder what will become of juvenile athletic records, when those young bloods get after them subsequent to the absorption of a meal or two hot off The Times Camp menu and some long breaths of Catalina ozone, just wafted off the biggest of the seven seas!

Superintendent of Construction J. B. Snyder, has put the finishing touches on the splendidly situated camp, preparatory to the assumption of command by Camp Superintendent Charles L. Schufeldt; Mrs. Anna Galloway, the matron, is completing her plans for mothering her immense migratory family; Chef Lawrence (a mighty important man, let it be remembered!) is framing up the bountiful menus and Mr. Greeley, manager of the famous Santa Catalina Island stage line, is having his sleekest teams rubbed down for the first haul of The Times boys from the wharf to the camp.

The immense enthusiasm of the boys of Southern California over The Times Catalina Camp is vital and wholesome; because those who make good in subscription-getting realize that in accepting the outing they are not becoming charity subjects. They have worked and have won, and while the reward of their labors is generous, still they have come by it manfully and will have no restrictions save reasonable camp discipline in their enjoyment of it.

The Times has already given its assurance to parents that the big camp will be absolutely sanitary, well disciplined and stocked sumptously with grub, that the boys will be looked after ever hour of the day by careful, boy-loving guardians and ministered to, if need be, by a competent matron. Let these facts be here once more insisted upon.

Special drinking water from the mainland will be supplied, and big shipments, which will be continuous throughout the summer, of the best eatables the markets afford, have already started on their way to what will be the merriest spot on the Magic Isle—The Times Camp.

One more word to boys-at-large about subscription-getting. Don't think it's too late now to start the work, if you haven't yet entered. The offer of a free vacation at Catalina is open until September 1, to any boy within sixty-five miles of Los Angeles, who secures six subscriptions to The Times for one month and thereafter until stopped. Jump in now and qualify for an outing that will be absolutely unique.

The wide field which is being covered by the boys who are keen for a Times outing is illustrated by the make-up of the pioneer party which is to sail for the Island, Saturday. While sixteen will be from Los Angeles, the rest are divided as follows: Nine from Fullerton, seven from Pasadena, three from Santa Ana, two from El Monte, two from Alhambra, two from Colegrove, one from Norwalk and one from Sierra Madre.

They'll Be Happy.

JOYS OF CAMP AWAIT YOUTHS.

COOKS AND PROVISIONS ARRIVE ON THE ISLAND.

Manager of the Freeholders' Improvement Association Extends to "The Times" Boys a Cordial Welcome—Arrangements Made to Drive the Visitors in Coaches.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

AVALON, June 21.—Located in one of the most picturesque spots on the island The Times Camp is awaiting the arrival of the Los Angeles boys who are expected here on the Cabrillo, Saturday. Everything is in readiness. Cooks, and those who have charge of the plans, arrived yesterday, prepared to remain on the island. All today announced their intention to give the boys who visit the camp "the time of their life."

G. Alfred Mayland, general manager of the Freeholders' Improvement Association, today said: "The association extends to the Times boys a most cordial welcome. For those who will be here on the Fourth we are planning for the best entertainment which has ever been given to any visitors. For those boys who are not so fortunate, we are also planning other amusements for them to take place weekly. I am hoping to meet many of them personally. I think it can be arranged to get up little side trips, also boating and bathing stunts. Anyway, we will say, The Times boys will have a full run of the island. It is twenty-two miles long and eight miles wide and by them can be used as one vast playground."

Arrangements have been made to drive the boys to the camp on their arrival here Saturday. Three stage coaches, decorated with flags and bunting, will carry them back to their quarters, a distance of half a mile. From the wharf to the pavilion, Porter's Catalina Marine Band, which will also be on board the steamer that day, will head the procession.

A few finishing touches will be put on the camp itself today. Beds and bedding are being well aired. There will be no possibility of any of the young lads taking cold. Accidents will be guarded against by those in charge of the camp.

Eleven large sleeping tents have been erected in the camp. Near the entrance is the tent which will be occupied by the matron and her staff. Military style was used for convenience, and the commissary looms up big at the end of a row of sleeping tents. Several wagonloads of provisions have been hauled from Avalon to fill the commissary to the satisfaction of those in charge.

ATTACK THE INDICTMENTS.

Attorneys For Trio of Alleged Dynamiters Plead Technicalities and Case Goes Over Again.

Employing their customary tactics, the attorneys representing B. H. Conners, A. B. Maple and F. Ira Bender, the union laborites indicted by the grand jury for the alleged attempt to destroy the Hall of Records, last September, threatened in Judge Willis's department of the Criminal Court yesterday morning, to subpoena every member of the grand jury should Deputy District Attorney Horton file counter affidavits against their motion and accompanying affidavits, asking that the indictments against the defendants be dropped. The brief session of court was given over to a discussion of the grounds on which the motion of the defendants was filed, and tomorrow was set for hearing arguments on the setting aside of the indictments.

The Deputy District Attorney will go into court prepared to prove that the indictments against the laborites were returned in the regular manner, and after the defendants had been informed of their rights as to testifying. It is the contention of the attorneys for the defendants that Conners, Maple and Bender were not informed of their rights as provided in section No. 1324 of the Penal Code. Horton declares that section No. 907, covering these points, was read, and that the defendants were aware of their position prior to the returning of the indictments.

BOWLED OUT?

The last chapter in the Hill-street bowling contest was written yesterday, when the owners of the Cosmopolitan Bowling Alley folded up their alleys and quietly put them away. Beneath the bowling alley the Salyer-Baumister Music House, Sing Fat's big emporium and Butler's moving-picture show were trying to do business. The overhead noise was such that for eleven days Butler's show was closed down and Sing Fat brought suit to have the bowling alley restrained. No injunction was granted, but, for reasons of their own, the bowling people surrendered their lease.

The Maricopa Fire.

There was considerable excitement among local oil men Tuesday when the first news of the fire that threatened the town of Maricopa was received. There are hundreds of Los Angeles people interested in Maricopa and the surrounding oil fields, and they were afraid the blaze would get beyond control and do great damage to oil properties. The fire was confined to the town.

Leif Ericson Made an Impression on Americans in 1000 A.D.

Though Christopher Columbus gets credit for discovering America in 1492—there was no doubt at the time but what Leif Ericson beat Christopher to it in 1000 A. D. According to Norwegian historical records and the remains of an old grape arbor in Labrador, Leif and a party of jolly fellows, while spending their summer vacations cruising the Atlantic, accidentally bumped on the shores of New England and, finding the culture of grapes frugiferous, stayed a whole year before returning to tell their relatives, who have been coming here ever since.

A Thot or Two About Our Scandinavian Citizens—

The coming Scandinavian Summer Festival of June 25th at Eastlake Park brings the Swedish, Danish and Norwegian Citizen forcibly to our attention. What kind of a Citizen does a Scandinavian make?

---the late Governor Johnson of Minnesota was a Scandinavian.

---and Minnesota, by the way, is truly the Scandinavian Colony of America, where they have an endowment fund of over $1,000,000 for Scandinavian emigrants.

---and also, Minnesota did not have to pay taxes last year with a $1,300,000 surplus in her treasury, the first instance of this kind in the United States, tho Mora county in Sweden has not been taxed for over 50 years.

---and what is true of Minnesota is true of the Scandinavian's industry, sobriety and progressiveness everywhere.

The Scandinavian makes a reliable American Citizen—just as reliable and up to the minute as Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are honest and up to the minute. You can count on the Scandinavian "delivering the goods"—you can count on Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes—and if either fail to live up to their promises you will find Hart Schaffner & Marx backing them up, just as you will find the Scandinavian back of his.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes are the best clothes to get into—800,000 men are in them and will tell you so—why not get a summer suit today? If you have one get another—have a suit for a change.

Graft Inquiry.

FIREMAN REILLY, AFTER HE'S FIRED, COMES BACK WITH MORE CHARGES.

Lays Before District Attorney Accusations Involving Tribute from Money Shark to Hawley, and Connecting Woman's Name With That of Fire Chief—Dismissal May Be Investigated—Many Things for Grand Jury.

THE graft disclosure gained another victim yesterday, when Fire Chief Eley dismissed peremptorily E. T. Reilly, an extra fireman, who was an officer of the Firemen's Relief Association.

Reilly presented several charges against C. O. Hawley, ousted Fire Commissioner, and in interviews with newspaper men criticised Chief Eley, among other things asserting that Eley had asked the relief association officials to "stand up" for Hawley.

After the interview was printed, Chief Eley obtained an affidavit from the newspaper man who got it, and on the strength of this he dismissed Reilly. When the dismissal was served on Reilly yesterday afternoon, he remarked: "This is what I get for being the goat."

The ground for dismissal is insubordination, neglect of duty and conduct subversive of the discipline of the force. It is stated by the Chief that Reilly reported yesterday that he was due at the office of Howard Robertson, Deputy City Attorney, for service on pension matters, but Robertson says he had no such engagement.

Following the receipt of his dismissal Reilly made additional charges of a most serious nature. He went to the District Attorney's office with accusations against Hawley and Fire Chief Eley. If a basis is found for them by his detectives, the District Attorney will present these charges to the grand jury for action.

MORE GRAFT, HE SAYS.

Concerning ex-Fire Commissioner Hawley, Reilly made a new $1000 graft report. The cash, according to Reilly, was paid by a money shark to Hawley for lending encouragement to the members of the fire department to continue the practice of having their monthly pay vouchers cashed there.

Reilly stated that the money shark himself told of the payment of $1000 to Hawley. The statement, according to Reilly, was made to a former city official in the Majestic saloon several weeks ago. The ex-city official is at present out of town. Upon his return he will be interrogated by Detective Browne.

Reilly told attaches of the District Attorney that Chief Eley has been too friendly with a certain woman for some time.

Reilly further charged Eley with showing favoritism among the members of the fire department in his selections for emergency appointments. Two such, asserted by Reilly as thoroughly incompetent, and to have failed the civil service examinations for advancement, were Charles Pollman of Engine Company No. 3 and Clinton Chamberlain of Engine Company No. 4.

In discussing his charges against his former superiors, Reilly stated last night that he will repeat them if summoned before the grand jury. He also stated that corroboration to the most minute details will be forthcoming.

INVESTIGATE DISMISSAL?

According to Reilly his dismissal has been expected since he appeared before the grand jury last Monday to tell of the receipt of $150 by Hawley from the members of the fire department for lobbying certain legislation through the Council for the benefit of the Firemen's Relief Association. Reilly told the District Attorney's officers that Chief Eley himself did not escape the clutches of George Arnold, the money shark, but once borrowed $100 from Arnold to pay a bill that he owed Driver Ramirez of Engine Company No. 3. The transaction, he stated, took place since Eley became Chief.

As a result of Reilly's dismissal Deputy District Attorney Horton, who has been in charge of the grand jury inquiry of municipal grafting announced yesterday that he will report the matter to the grand jury today. "The discharge of men who are called upon to testify before the grand jury is a bad precedent to establish," said Horton, "and if the jurors express a desire to investigate we will go to the bottom."

CHIEF ELEY DENIES.
BRANDS REILLY AS FALSIFIER.

To all Reilly's allegations, Chief Eley gave a broad and profound denial last night. In pointed language he stated that Reilly was prevaricating when he informed the District Attorney's office that Eley was unduly friendly with a woman other than his wife. Eley branded the balance of Reilly's statements as false, vicious and framed to do him (Eley) injury.

"It was necessary to remove Mr. Reilly by reason of his misleading and untruthful statements in certain newspapers regarding me, both personally and as chief of the fire department, in order to maintain discipline and the proper conduct of the department," said Chief Eley. "When a man tells an untruth as to one thing he will tell untruths as to other matters, relying upon his imagination for substance. Mr. Reilly knows as well as do Mr. Powell and Mr. Carmichael—and they will say so—that I was not present at that supposed Christmas-morning consultation or any meeting at all with them or either of them or Mr. Hawley in regard to the Firemen's Relief Association or any other matter whatsoever. On Christmas day, except when in my official duty I was called to fires, I was with my family, enjoying the holiday at my home.

"I had no other course to pursue than to remove Mr. Reilly and at the same time maintain discipline in the fire department, protection to the people of Los Angeles and their property, and the respect of the men of my command; all of these men being, as I believe, efficient, competent and intelligent. I shall go to the very bottom and show no quarter. My duty is to protect life and proyerty. I am a servant of the people of Los Angeles and they are welcome at all times at fire headquarters.

"I have conducted the fire department clean and I will keep it clean. I rose from the ranks to the head, and I will ask the people of Los Angeles and my superiors to judge as to my efficiency and competency."

POLICE INQUIRY NEXT.
GRAND JURY'S WORK TODAY.

Persistent reports were heard about town last night that Police Commissioner Topham may resign today. It is understood his friends and political manipulators close to the Good Government administration have been urging Topham to withdraw. Topham asserts he will not resign.

The inquiry into the police department, which includes the airing of numerous and serious charges of grafting and political corruption filed with the District Attorney's office against Topham, will be taken up by the grand jury this morning. The investigation of the fire department and the serious charges of graft against ex-Fire Commissioner Hawley, was completed yesterday afternoon. The jury then adjourned until today.

Yesterday afternoon Hawley was on the stand for over an houh, and severely grilled by deputy District-attorneys. At the conclusion of the day's quizzing the deputies announced themselves pleased with the progress of the inquiry and the corroborative evidence of mal-administration brought out.

The following members of the fire department appeared before the grand jury yesterday: Chief Eley, John Powell, Capt. McDonald, E. T. McGann, and T. M. Carmichael.

HIGH-UP GRAFT?
CONTRACTS AND HORSES.

It became known yesterday that a member of the City Council has turned valuable information over to Chief Detective Browne in reference to the alleged receipt of wholesale rakeoffs by city officials close to the Mayor. The rakeoffs, according to the District-Attorney's informant, involve a contractor of prominence.

An attache of the street assessment department named Branch reported to the District-Attorney yesterday that he is in the possession of information showing that certain members of the City Supply Committee received a margin from the purchase of horses for the street department. The horses, according to Branch, weighed in the neighborhood of 800 pounds each, while the city ordinances, according to Deputy Dist.-Atty. Keech, state specifically that all horses purchased for street work must weigh at least 1200 pounds. It is contended by Branch that the city paid exorbitant prices.

STILL PROTECTED?
REPORTS ABOUT JOINTS.

Reports were made to the District Attorney's office yesterday that a Tenderloin resort is conducted by Yvonne White near Sunset boulevard and San Fernando street, in open violation of the statutes, and under police protection. According to the District Attorney's deputies the place has never closed its doors since the graft inquiry was begun, despite frequent warnings.

The place has been open for months, officers say. It is one of the joints that existed several years ago. Reports were also made to Chief Detective Browne that an immoral resort is conducted by May Larson at Third street and Central avenue. It has been in operation under police protection for years, according to the report. The Purity Squad members have sought evidence to arrest the proprietress on several occasions, but each time their coming was tipped off.

Yvonne White, according to the District Attorney's office, endeavored some time ago to corrupt a member of the Purity Squad, but failed. According to the report on file she offered $200 to a member of the squad if he would furnish protection for the joint.

JOHNSON WANTS MONEY.
HE'S REFERRED TO DR. JONES.

Frank L. Johnson, formerly a saloon-keeper, whose permit for a saloon at No. 118 West Third street last March brought Dr. John W. Jones to the light as a grafter, made a scene at the Mayor's office yesterday morning when he demanded of Police Commissioners Topham and Wellborn that "his money be restored to him."

Johnson left a card at the office bearing the name of "Frank L. Johannsen, District Attorney's office," though he gave his name on the application for a saloon permit with John Ford differently.

When the two commissioners attempted to leave the office, he accosted them and asked that his money be returned. He said he had "put up" and that he knew where the money went and he wanted it returned. Wellborn laughed, and told him to see Topham. Topham, who was with Wellborn, told Johnson to see Dr. Jones.

At the time the Johnson and Ford permit was pending it developed that Johnson had agreed to pay Jones $2000 for procuring the permit. But the testimony at the trial showed that this money was never paid to any one. Johnson was not specific as to what money he wanted returned, but it is supposed he meant the money he had put up in the saloon business which was lost when the permit was revoked because of the disclosure that there had been an agreement to pay Jones for his alleged influence with the commission, which, then, was composed of five memebrs.

Johnson did not make any demand on the Mayor.

of No. 2924 West Eighth street. Both stoutly maintained that neither had driven the machine, but had been invited to take a ride by another boy whom they did not know well and who escaped before the machine was overhauled.

Must Stay Now.

It was impressed upon the memory of W. A. Whippert yesterday by Police Judge Rose that when a prisoner is given a suspended sentence with the understandidng that he leave town immediately, it is meant that he go away and stay away. Whippert was released under those conditions January 19. He was found on Main street yesterday by Plainsclothes Officers Gifford and Burgess and arrested. Police Judge Rose sent him to jail for six months for having returned to the city.

WIFE-DEGRADATION CHARGE.

F. L. Miller, charged with putting his wife into a disorderly house, was arraigned yesterday before Justice Summerfield and his examination was set for Monday. In default of $5000 bond, he was sent to the County Jail.

THE THEATERS.

next Monday night, the company will tomorrow, commence dress and scenic rehearsals of the play.

The two weeks of "Merely Mary Ann" has given the members plenty of time in which to rehearse and Stage Director Bernard now has the production in such shape that it could open tonight if necessary.

James Montgomery's new play, "Jimmy Jr.," which will be given its premiere production at the Burbank Theater next Sunday afternoon, is a sort of reverse English on the two principal characters in "The Lion and the Mouse"—in fact, the original version, never staged, entitled "A Chip of the Old Block," was written by Seymour Obermer, after seeing Richard Bennett play the part of Jefferson Ryder in the Klein drama. In that play Jefferson is more or less of an impotent youth, whose personality is overshadowed by his masterful father. In "Jimmy Jr." the son is the leading spirit and the father has to take the back seat. Both John Burkett Ryder and James Craig are millionaires mixed up in politics, and both have become involved in rather shady transactions, but there the similarity between the two plays ends. "The Lion and the Mouse" was one of the original muck-rake dramas, while "Jimmy Jr." is for entertainment purposes only. There is no villain, and the aim of the authors has been to make every character lovable. Even James Craig, the millionaire, has a great many likeable traits, and although it is hard to get an audience to love a rich man, Montgomery and Obermer have come pretty close to doing that very thing. Richard Bennett, for whom the play was originally written, will appear in the title part, which is said to fit him better than any other characterization he has had in years. The rehearsals have been conducted under the personal supervision of Montgomery himself, who is also busy finishing up his other new comedy, "Ready Money," which will be staged soon at the Belasco.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Suggestion to Barbers in the U.S.A.

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) June 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Cleanliness is absolutely necessary for a barber and I must say, to my surprise, I find any number, in fact, the majority that are claiming to be first-class barbers, will chew tobacco, and as a result stink out of their mouth. I also find that lots of them never clean their teeth, and while shaving are conversing with their clients, and, therefore, showing their teeth all the time. Furthermore, some barbers have the idea that they can go around for a week at a time without shaving themselves. All those things are offensive to any man of good health, and if he can learn, he will try and shave himself. Once he starts and finds out he can do it, he is a dead one for the barber business except for his hair cut, about once a month. Unionism also serves to kill this eventually. The writer has already come in on the train to certain towns on a Saturday night after an all-day's trip, too late to get in the barber shop and found it closed the next day, all day also, it being Sunday. Any number of people get shaved every day and if a man of that kind can get shaved every day, except Sunday, it surely is very unsatisfactory. On Sunday, too, the day when every man usually tries to put up the best appearance of the week. This day is very apt to drive a man to shave himself. He surely is a good customer to lose.

The argument put up by barbers is a poor one, they claim that they don't like to enhale the smell of whisky, and they chew for their protection. Isn't it true that they should rather stand for that than breath tobacco juice into the mouth of a healthy man.

L. M. P.

From Flora de Vonn.

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In Sunday's Times, "Mrs. J. L." charges the Kansas women, who vote at school elections, with being responsible for conditions concerning, which they have neither voice nor vote. As an illustration, suppose the women of California were empowered to vote at school elections only, would it be fair to hold them responsible for conditions in the State insane asylums?

Such an assumption would be asinine.

Municipal suffrage is granted to women in those towns which have a certain specified number of inhabitants—and the fact is that but comparatively few Kansas towns have women electors; as the words "municipal suffrage" denote, the women have no vote concerning county or State affairs and are in no way responsible for conditions outside the cities.

"Mrs. J. L." writes of the State law concerning the "indigent insane," knowing well that all State and county laws are made by men, and men only.

If she reasoned about men as she does about women, she would advocate the disfranchisement of California men because Kansas men do not manage their affairs to suit her—but whoever heard of a logical anti-suffragist?

If negro women can select a Mayor with whom "Mrs. J. L." finds no fault, why does she not insist that the men of a certain Northern California city abdicate their privilege of selecting a Mayor and allow the negro women to choose the next Mayor—for a faultless Mayor is something our neighboring city has not had for quite a spell.

HEAVY JOLT FOR LISSNER.

given to him without noting the omitted figures, being a duplicate copy.

Lissner squirmed when Warren recited how demands from the Mayor for information had been ignored. It took the Lissner board ten days in one case and sixteen in another to make replies and these had been vague. Lissner said the board depends on its experts, and that the light reports in answer to the Mayor were "framed up" by E. F. Scattergood.

WHITE WITH ANGER.

Warren mercilessly read from Lissner's interviews and his communications to show that he was unfriendly to local control of public utilities and that he was not in sympathy with the work of the board of which he is the head. Finally he hurled this at the little boss, who sat white with anger:

"Others who have learned to be conciliatory to big business corporations may wish to convey the idea that those who have not yet learned the trick—those irresponsible, self-seeking agitators, (not politicians, gentlemen) and other persons of small caliber, anxious to get into the lime-light, are criticising the report of the Board of Public Utilities for the purpose of causing internal dissension in the ranks of good government. Why, gentlemen, we persons of small caliber are working for the ranks of good government and not for the captains of the despoilers and debauchers of the people. We are criticising the report of the Board of Public Utilities. We believe it is open to most serious criticism, and we wish to drag out into the limelight, not ourselves, but the large calibered, fourteen-inch guns, comprising the quite distinguished triumvirate of Cientificos, known locally as The Board of Public Utilities."

HE'S MORE HUMANE.

Warner's presentation was less volatile and more humane toward Lissner, though he came in later for a clash with the boss and wound it up with a defiance of Lissner, because of his opposition to local home government, opposition to the straw vote and his injustice in fixing the light rates.

Lissner's request that Expert Miller be heard today by the Council informally brought out all the pent-up feeling of the Council. Lissner's letter, with characteristic pugnacity, announced that Miller would not return for the telephone rate hearing two weeks hence, without being compensated.

"How much will this informal talk cost us?" asked Councilman Williams, sarcastically.

Lissner choked back a hot reply, and said it would cost nothing.

Williams disputed the right of the Council to hold a one-sided talk, and Counsel Hewitt said it would not be legal as a part of the rate fixing. Other Councilmen relieved their feelings toward Lissner and his experts.

"This expert cannot do us any more good by his talk than by his report which we have," said Betkouski. "He has been pretty well paid, and is at liberty to go home so far as I am concerned."

Williams moved that Lissner's communication be filed—the most contemptuous way to treat a communication.

Stewart told his colleague that it was not a question of the expert being well paid, but whether the Council knew it all anyhow.

Andrews asked if the expert was likely to advise lower rates. Answering his own question, "Uncle Jerry" said he would not and therefore he was of no service and might as well depart in peace.

Whiffen said reiteration of Miller's findings was superfluous, but he believed the Council ought to be more polite than to file the communication.

LOOKS SERIOUS TO HIM.

"I view a meeting with Miller very seriously," remarked O'Brien, "as he said at the City Club that the rates are really too low, I am afraid if he has another chance he will insist that the companies get more."

Williams pressed his motion, and it was carried, all voting for it except Stewart and Washburn.

Other protesting arguments were made by R. G. Loucks, speaking for the Federated Improvement Association, and R. G. Hentig, speaking as a taxpayer. Loucks demanded the Pasadena rate—5 cents—and Hentig demanded the Duluth rate—4 cents.

After they got through, the wrangle between Lissner and Warren and Warner was resumed and ended in Lissner making a defense of himself and the board and repeating his charges as to "irresponsibles." He classed the League of Justice, which includes Senator Works, whom Lissner sent to the Senate because of an "impelling moral duty," as one of the persons of "little consequence." This is what the boss said after his epidermis had been flayed for hours:

"It was stated that because I happen to be chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, I am in an equivocal position and should not be a member of the Board of Public Utilities. The reason why is not given. Insinuations are made, however, about campaign funds. Gentlemen, I think in justice both to you and myself, I should say I have had considerable to do with campaigns—political campaigns along good government lines. I was active, in fact, I managede, the campaigns that resulted in the election of the present city administration and also the State administration. But never in any political work with which I have been associated have I permitted knowingly one cent to be taken from any utility corporation or any special interest. We could have had any amount of that sort of money, but always consistently and positively declined it. The insinuation is absolutely uncalled for; and I state that these strictures are not made in good faith, but are made by what I denominated 'irresponsible persons' for political reasons, and for no other purpose whatever.

"Certainly we don't feel responsible to the League of Justice or to any other so-called organization which consists very largely of a few individuals of small consequence. Our responsibility in this matter is to the Mayor and the City Council from whom we received our appointments."

VERSUS IRRELEVANCY.

The Council, left alone, discussed the harrowing scenes of the afternoon, and authorized President Lusk to interfere in any future session and prevent irrelevant or personal remarks. The Council wants to find out whether the rates recommended are reasonable or unreasonable, but it got no light on this subject yesterday. It is determined the politics of the question must be discussed somewhere else in the future. Warren and Warner have been close to the Mayor in his opposition to the Lissner rates, and it is supposed they are presenting his opposition along with their own, though perhaps they went further than he intended. The Mayor sat silent through the entire session.

THE SCHOLARSHIPS.

The Eleventh Annual Scholarship of The Los Angeles Times will open on Monday, June 26, and continue throughout vacation until the time for reopening the public schools.

For ten years The Times Scholarship Contests have been annual summer features in Los Angeles, and so successful have they become that they are looked forward to each year with an ever-increasing interest.

The Scholarship Contests are peculiar to The Times. They have been conducted by The Times' own staff from year to year, and along lines that have been satisfactory, always, to the schools, to the students and to The Times.

This year's contest will be larger and more productive of results than ever before. It will be conducted, it is true, as a part of The Times Greater Contest, yet it will be a separate and distinct department in which the points scored will have application, and be credited, only to the students enrolled for these particular prizes.

The greater contest runs into a very large amount of money and from purely a financial standpoint the prizes are much greater than in the Scholarship Contest. But the scholarships are of vastly more value to those attaining them, in the effect upon their after lives, and in the benefit to the community in general.

Every student in Southern California and the Pacific Southwest is eligible to enter The Times Scholarship Contest.

Have you just finished High School, and do you desire a course in a business college?

Are you musically inclined, and would you be benefited by professional instructions, either vocal or instrumental?

Do you wish to learn a useful vocation by taking a course in a technical school?

Do you wish to study law or one of the sciences or professions?

Do you want a better education than you are able to obtain with the means at present at your disposal?

If so, The Times' Eleventh Annual Scholarship Contest offers you these opportunities. You have but to secure subscriptions for The Times and your choice of a scholarship at the finish will be in accordance with your relative rank in the roll of contestants.

This is the opportunity of a lifetime, and the ambitious young man or woman who is seeking betterment of his or her career and condition will find it a comparatively easy task to achieve a victory in a contest of this character.

Those who are really ambitious for their futures naturally have the determination and grit to work energetically and faithfully, when they are working for something that makes for their mental and moral advancement.

The long list of students who have during the past ten years secured and utilized these scholarships, which have laid the foundation for their present success, is an ample demonstration of the uplifting and creditable nature of this annual undertaking.

Already a number of students have enrolled their names for this year's contest, and The Times is receiving inquiries daily.

Contestants who determine to enter are requested to send in their nomination blanks as soon as possible, in order that their subscription supplies and books may be prepared for them to start promptly on Monday, June 26.

Very little more is necessary to say in regard to this contest, as its nature and scope are so well known to the public. It may be noted, however, that the number of contestants this season promises to exceed that of past years, and as a consequence the number and value of the scholarships to be awarded will be increased.

Fill out the nomination blank and send to the Scholarship Editor today.

The list of scholarships to be awarded as prizes will be announced in a few days.

CUT INTO THREE DIVISIONS.

Less Units to Compose the Postoffice After July 1. With Direct Head For Each.

Postmaster Harrison yesterday received notice from Washington that hereafter the office will be split into three divisions, instead of the five units composing it heretofore. The change will go into effect July 1, and is expected, according to Harrison, to unify the departments and work for general effectiveness.

The three departments will be known as the executive division, the division of finance and the division of mails. The division of finance will be under the direct supervision of Assistant Postmaster Dishman, who will have immediate charge of the cashier's office, stamp and subagency department, operations of the money order under the direct supervision of the auditors and examiners of stations.

Julius Janssen will become superintendent of mails, with Harry A. Shelton, Luther O. Sheets and Martin F. Griffith as his assistants. They will have charge of all movements of mails. Harrison himself will supervise the work of the executive division, as well as that in the whole department.

AN EXPLOSIVE GLUE POT.

May Have Contained Gasoline—Carpenter Who Lights Burner Is Scorched by the Flames.

The police are investigating the exploding of a glue pot in the City Jail carpenter-shop. James Paxton, a carpenter serving a sentence of 180 days was burned about the face and arms, yesterday afternoon as a result of the accident. He declared that he detected the odor of gasoline, just before the flames burst into his face and enfolded his arms.

It is believed that some person in the jail, either jokingly, or with malicious intent, placed gasoline in the water with which the glue is diluted.

Paxton lighted the burner beneath the glue pot to prepare it for the use of some of the carpenters. As he bent over the melting mass to pour in some water, the explosion took place without warning, but fortunately none of the molten glue struck his face, although his hair was burned off, and the flesh seared. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment.

Belmont School
FOR BOYS
BELMONT, CAL.
(Twenty-five Miles South of San Francisco.)

The school is trying to do for the moral and physical, not less than for the intellectual, welfare of each boy what a thoughtful parent most wishes to have done. Contributing to this end are the location of the school, removed from the temptations and distractions of town or city; the fineness of the climate, the excellence of its buildings and other equipment, and the beauty and extent of its grounds, with the wide range of foothills surrounding them. We are glad to have our patrons and graduates consulted. For catalogue, booklet and further specific information, address the head master, W. T. REID, A. M. (Harvard.) Fall term opens Aug. 14.

COMMONWEALTH HOME BUILDERS is growing so fast—has made such a pronounced success—has so much actual building business on hand right now that there isn't a shadow of a doubt of an impending rise in the price of this stock.

COMMONWEALTH HOME BUILDERS are busy building. An investment here makes money for you through real estate transactions, building transactions, as well as interest moneys collected by COMMONWEALTH HOME BUILDERS.

The Keystone of Our Success Is Co-operation

Co-operation has done more to build up the world's success than any other one force. Co-operation between governments—co-operation between large financial interests—co-operation between States, towns, societies—all of these are recognized facts. Co-operation has worked wonders and we will prove that it will again work wonders when applied to individuals. You and your friend and your neighbor and your neighbor's friend are invited to co-operate here in the COMMONWEALTH HOME BUILDERS. How else do you suppose that COMMONWEALTH HOME BUILDERS have grown from 100 to 700 shareholders in two months. It is co-operation and interest and work of all of our shareholders that has brought this out.

We have an interesting booklet that sets out the plans and workings of COMMONWEALTH HOME-BUILDERS. We want you to know all about it. We want you to be in possession of these facts.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

There has been an awakening through Imperial and Coachella, an awakening coming from the bump that local produce dealers are beginning to refuse trashy fruit, rotten cantaloupes and the offall of eastern shipments. It took less than three days of this system of refusal to bring the southern packers to their senses and yesterday saw the best cantaloupes on the market that have been received this year. The average was far better, there was no sickly mushy consignment of melons and these being cut out, prices at once advanced. The higher prices were rather startling in their suddenness and caught some of the little dealers without very many crates of fruit on hand. The best cantaloupes sold up to $1.75 while pony crates were worth $1.25, the highest figure the melons have brought in several weeks, ever since the dumping began. Other fruits were not greatly changed and were plentiful all through the list. Buying was sufficiently heavy to pretty well clean up the market on cherries, peaches and plums. Figs were down in value, two tier boxes selling at $1.25 for the best and down. Some very fine local figs are beginning to put in their appearance.

The price of eggs was boosted 1½ cents on case count and candled. Case count are now quoted at 22½ cents. The demand for Kansas eggs was good and they sold at 25 cents on extra select stock for storage purposes. Petalumas also moved freely and one dealer had the temerity to ask 27 cents for them, getting as highest bid 24½ cents. Petaluma are selling at about 25 cents.

There were no changes in the butter market. The demand for the commodity was normal and there were no changes in the quotations. Receipts for the day were 17,725 pounds.

Oregon daisy cheese was the only active variety on the market. Prices on all cheese remained unchanged. Receipts were 5601 pounds.

Potato arrivals were 807 sacks. The Chinese growers are distributing their stock so slowly are holding back so heartily and the demand locally is so good that prices instead of taking the expected decline, advanced yesterday morning, $2.75 being a wholesale quotation on good new stock. Jobbing spuds sold as high as $2.45 f.o.b. here.

The first northern yellow danver onions are on the market and they are selling at $2.75 per hundred. As yet they are inferior stock when compared with the beautiful white onions, the silverskins, Bermudas and white wax which are obtainable. Only 24 sacks were reported in yesterday.

Nut prices all underwent slight changes. Almonds were quoted 17 to 18, walnuts 18 to 20, Brazils 14 to 15, filberts 15, and so on through the list. Popcorn was quoted at $4.75 to $5.00 per hundredweight.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE.

Mexican Petroleum Common and Edison Electric Common Active and Bullish on the Market

Mexican Petroleum common, after having lost quite a little on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, made a recovery yesterday, and closed at 36.12½. The stock was particularly active in the forenoon. The next in interest was the Edison Electric common, which sold at 67 and closed at that figure.

Consolidated Midway was more or less in the background, and closed at the same price as the day before. One thousand shares of Columbia sold at 1.10. It was a poor day on the local exchange from start to finish.

SAN FRANCISCO EXCHANGE.

All Comstock Issues Are Weaker, and There Are no Changes of Moment in Southern Nevadas.

[Special Service to The Times by B. F. Taylor, 113 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—There were no changes in the southern Nevada stocks of particular consequence. Mizpah Extension was somewhat weaker, offered at 70 at the close; it sold up to 78 this week. Booth lost a point and Combination Fraction 2 points. Nevada Hills was up 2½; Round Mountain and Silver Peak unchanged. Rawhide Coalition was weaker by one point.

Mineral Hills, which closed 3@4 last night, sold today at 5. There has been considerable selling in Mineral Hills lately by an eastern party who is closing up an estate, and who are holders of quite a bunch of this stock.

The Comstocks were weak, especially Mexican, which closed with a net loss of 35 points. Ophir was off 2½; Con. Va. 7½, Union 5. There was no news from Virginia City to account for the weakness, for so far as reports go the North End properties are in good shape.

The Yellow Jacket mill ran full time all the past week on Jacket dump ore, and 949 tons were dumped in the mill bins. In the Jacket shaft and incline repair work was done, and new water boxes were placed in the shaft. The water in the mine now stands 22 feet 4 inches below the 1400 station of the incline. Crown Point shipped 65 tons of ore from the shaft to the Glory Hole during the week, and on the 1400 level broke down considerable ore in stope No. 1, which was left in the stope. The east crosscut from south drift No. 1 was advanced 11 feet and is now out 238 feet, the face being in porphyry and stringers of quartz. Belcher continued to reopen the north compartment of the joint incline shaft on the 1400, making 13 feet in the heavy ore. Cutting out is in progress on the west side of the north lateral drift at a point 330 feet south of the north line, preparatory to starting a raise.

Following is the official report of last week's operations at the Ward shaft on the Comstock: Surface—Repairing the bulkhead beside the boiler room. 2000 level. In the Gold Hill drainage drift have been putting in concrete bulkhead. 2250 level—Have taken down the channel beams for the pump column bearers at this point. 2450 level—In the northeast drainage drift we put in a diamond drill hole ahead for 32 feet, and put in one set of timbers. 2475 level—We have done some work on pumps Nos. 4 and 5.

In this market letter yesterday we said Tonopah Mining was earning sufficient money to continue its dividends at the rate of one dollar per share per year, and carry over a balance of half a million dollars; we should have said dividend at the rate of $1,600,000 a year, instead of $1,000,000.

Logan & Bryan's copper letter:

"The market today continued very quiet, the flucutations being very small and of no importance. Amalgamated and Steel, the two leading stocks in New York, showed a flucutation of only ¼ a point and the local coppers were equally quiet."

BY GREY OLIVER.

San Francisco, 6; Vernon, 5.

With the prospect of getting some new clothes next Sunday the Tigers finally fell upon Miller tooth and nail yesterday and tried to claw out one of their grand-stand victories and they surely would have done it had not Mohler had the sense to chase Miller to the stable just about the time the Vernons were to knock his block off. It is such hind thought that saves ball games.

It was almost a near-tragedy, for after the Tigers had pounced on poor Miller he suddenly ducked out from under and left them hanging. Before they could do any great amount of damage Henley rushed in and rode them around the ring and made them behave themselves.

The Tigers had been fighting along as best they could for six rounds and had not made enough runs to bless themselves with. Suddenly, and without warning, Carlisle, who had been an easy out on three previous trips to the plate, tore off a double to right field. Then Kane and Patterson hit to right and Brashear and Stinson to left and three runs dashed across the plate.

At this critical time, with three runs in, one man on third base and no one out, Miller beat it to the Seal cellar and Henley waded in to take a chance. About the first thing he did was to make a wild pitch that put Stinson on second. Then Hosp popped to McArdle and Burrell smashed out a long foul to Powell and this sacrifice hit scored Brashear from third with the fourth run.

Here Henley began to get the gravy and from that time on until the end of the game he made the Tigers lick his hands. These four runs did no good, for the total was just one shy of what the Seals had. The Tigers got their first one in the first inning when, with two out, Patterson doubled to right and scored on Brashear's single to right. There was a terrific amount of noise in the eighth when Miller was being ground to pieces, but the performance stopped abruptly after Henley got busy.

STEWART IN WRONG.

Pretty little Stewart started off as if he intended to win another game, but stopped short in the second round from a lot of pokes on the nose and Carlisle's boot of a smack to center field. Tennant hit to left, Melchoir sacrificed. Powell drew a pass and Madden followed with a drive to center that scored Tennant. On the throw-in of the ball Powell was caught off second base and touched out near third. Schmidt cracked the pill to center and when Carlisle juggled it a moment Madden scored.

Mohler drew a pass in the fourth, stole second, ran to third on Brown's bad throw and easily scored on Tennant's triple to left-center. Tennant tallied when Melchoir beat out an infield hit toward right field.

Nothing else happened in the run line until the seventh, when there was some more bad business. With one out, Madden was passed, ran to second on Schmidt's spank to center and scored when Miller hit to center. Shaw forced Miller at second on a grounder to Patterson and Stewart filled the bases with a pass to McArdle. He forced in Schmidt with what proved to be the winning run by hitting Mohler with the ball.

There was nothing startling in the

[Associated Press Night Report.]

MILWAUKEE, June 21.—Walter Donnelly of Cincinnati, driving a Cino car at the automobile races at State Fair Park this afternoon, died this evening of injuries received when his car ran into a fence. Donnelly's skull was fractured when he was thrown against a post.

Donnelly was driving in the fifty-mile race and was making the turn at the three-quarter post of the fortieth mile when a tire came off the rear right weel causing the machine to skid.

There were about a dozen machines in the race and a great cloud of dust was raised at a point near the home stretch.

FORMALLY AWARDED.

CHICAGO, June 20.—The Cleveland Country Club, with a score of 19 down, won the Tom Morris memorial golf trophy in the competition of Friday, according to official announcement made today.

Good Boy.

HOW HE BUILT HIS MOTOR BOAT.

Then Raced Her Against the Best in the South.

Sixteen-Year-Old Boy Beats Veteran Skippers.

Garbutt's Son Inherits His Father's Proficiency.

BY FRANK GARBUTT.

Dad and I wanted a new tender for our yacht Skidbladnir. One that was strong and seaworthy and would stand lots of rough usage. We often make long fishing and hunting trips in our little boat and we wanted a fair amount of speed as well. Twenty feet was the longest we could swing in the davits so that put a limit on our length.

We thought it would be great fun to build the boat at home, where we could watch it grow, rather than have it built at San Pedro. We talked and planned and made a few drawings and whittled out a number of models. We argued and disputed every point. Finally with all the details settled we commenced to buy lumber and fastenings and the boat began to grow.

It was more fun to watch it grow that it ever will be to use it. There is lots of joy in seeing your ideas take definite shape, and every night we would sit out in the barn with the boat before our eyes and discuss the various features and how to improve it.

Then before it was completed we entered it in the Santa Catalina free-for-all. That made it more interesting still. Everyone asked us what the boat would do, and what it was going to be like, and because we didn't know and so could not tell, a newspaper man called her the "Mystery," and Mystery she has been ever since.

She was a mystery to us too—why it took so long to build her, how she got so heavy, and why she went so slow. There were lots of other mysterious things about her, and all of the riddles are not solved yet.

HER FIRST RIDE.

She was hauled to Wilmington on a big hay wagon, and took her first dip into the water the evening of June 2.

June 11, at 5:30 a.m., she started in her first race. I had to go to school every day and we really had very little time to tune her up and learn what to do. It is not much satisfaction to start in a race not knowing your boat or engine either. We did not know how much gasoline to carry, and so as not to be left helpless out at sea, we took what proved to be twice too much.

We arrived at the line twenty seconds after the gun was fired and got off an eighth of a mile in the rear of

NAGLE IS SOLD TO BOSTON SOX.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Walter Nagle, the tall California twirler of the Pittsburgh Baseball Club, has been sold to the Boston American League Club. The first intimation Nagle had of the matter was when he received a letter from President Barney Dreyfuss telling him of the sale and ordering him to turn over all of his Pittsburgh equipment and report to the Boston team.

Why Nagle was sold is not known, but the opinion was expressed tonight that it was done to reduce expenses. Nagle, when given a chance to show, has done good work for the Pittsburgh team.

No reason was given Nagle for disposing of him. The purchase price has not been made public. Waivers were recently asked but the Boston Americans refused to waive.

Champions Play Fine Tennis in Early Matches.

Pacific Coast Championships Are at Stake.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA CRUZ (Cal.) June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The third day of the tourneyy for the championship of the Pacific States was devoted chiefly to clearing up the doubles and the special singles events for women.

Few of the first-class players met and consequently few important matches were played, although the men's doubles and mixed doubles attracted the largest number of spectators so far in attendance.

The most interesting event of the day was the appearance of Miss May Sutton and Melville H. Long, who have come to defend their championship titles.

Miss Sutton and Long are both playing extremely well and each won with were interested today. ease all the matches in which they

The most spectacular match was between R. W. Whitney of San Francisco and Ward Dawson of Los Angeles. Dawson played very fine tennis and the game appeared to be well balanced and good in all directions. Whitney did by far the more brilliant work, but his splendid drives were too often followed by errors and the result was a win for Dawson by a score of 6-1, 6-4.

The only other match in men's singles was between W. Mace and W. G. Knowlton. Mace won quite easily and lived up to his reputation as an exceptionally sound player.

The men's singles event has now been brought to the semi-finals, where McLoughlin will meet Mace, and Foley will meet Dawson.

In the men's doubles for the Casa del Rey trophies McLoughlin and Wickham Havens won a good match from Nourse and Dewing and Long and Foley won from Otis and Finkenstat.

In the women's doubles Miss Sutton and Miss Browne won easily from Miss Kirby and Miss Upham. Eight ladies entered the special singles event for women and the first round was completed today.

The most important contest of the day was the final match of the women's singles and was played by Mrs. Niemeyer of San Francisco and Miss Mary Browne of Los Angeles. This match settled the question as to who should be entitled to challenge Miss May Sutton for the championship title.

The first set was won by Miss Browne in comparatively easy fashion, but in the second set, after the score stood 4-1 against her, Mrs. Niemeyer fought her way to even terms and finally won the set.

Miss Browne played a remarkably hard, spectacular game and gained the applause of the spectators by a high quality of tennis, but Mrs. Niemeyer, playing a steady come-back game and making a determined fight for every point, gradually demoralized her opponent.

In the third set Miss Browne recovered her confidence, playing with more freedom, and forced the score to 6-4 in her favor and won the match 6-3, 5-7, 6-4. Through this victory Miss Browne becomes the first tournament winner of the meeting and will play Miss May Sutton for the championship.

The juniors have arrived in force and tomorrow will largely be assigned to their singles and doubles events.

PACKARD FIGHTS THE MUD DRIFTS; FAR AHEAD OF GARLAND'S PARTY.

HERMAN Janss, in the Packard roadster, after two days spent in fighting a heavy rainstorm in the mountains near Denver, Col., is now well on his way toward the East, with every prospect of reaching Chicago several days ahead of his schedule. He is still at least two days ahead of William May Garland and party and last night was on the highway leading into Denver.

One of the hardest trips of the entire journey from this city to Denver came between Granger and Larimie, Wyo. In the hills near Cumberland the heavy rains and mud made the going almost impossible. The grades were severe and at one place a grade of twenty-five per cent. proved a stiff climb which the Packard won.

Until late in the night Janss remained at the wheel and reached Laramie at midnight. After a short rest he continued the fight and the following day shot out into the rain and headed away for Denver determined to remain in the lead of Garland, who is far behind in the friendly race to Moosehead Lake, Me.

When a wire was received from Janss yesterday that he had passed Laramie and was almost into Denver, the friends who are watching the two cars as they move across the continent were more than pleased to note the remarkable run the Packard is making. The car has averaged 300 miles a day up to Granger, where the fierce storm made the tour so severe.

Instead of 300 miles a day, the Packard made 100 miles in two days. The enjoyment which came to Janss last night could be gleaned from his telegram when he remarked that he is satisfied that when Garland reached the alkali country he will realize how far the Packard is ahead of him in the long race.

There is nothing wrong with the car. The Packard engine is working perfectly and the roadster is in shape for another fast run. At this clip the Packard will reach New York almost a week ahead of even the fast schedule which Janss laid out for himself when he started to beat Garland and his big car.

AUTO TROPHIES HERE FOR LAKESIDE WINNERS.

Those handsome trophies for The Times tour winners are here. They are finished in bronze and a touring car is raised in bas-relief on the face of each.

These sixteen emblems were made in the East and are costly and unique. They are of special design and represent a tour which was laid out over one of the longest courses in Southern California. They are to be distributed among the winners as soon as they are engraved.

The winners are asked to indicate the amount of engraving desired. The Times will also have the name of the car and of the driver included on the name-plate of the trophy.

FIRST BIG RUN OF YELLOWTAIL CAUSES EXCITEMENT AT REDONDO

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

REDONDO BEACH, June 21.—The first yellowtail run of the season commenced this morning at Wharf No. 3 and during the day about twenty-five of the big fish were landed while many more were hooked only to escape.

The excitement on the wharf among the fishermen started when Mrs. W. J. Miller of Los Angeles screamed "Yellowtail!" and after thirty minutes' fight with the fish landed a twenty-six pounder, the first one of that size this year. Mrs. Miller landed the big fish alone and indignantly refused the assistance of her husband and others about the wharf who witnessed the gamey fight put up by the fish.

During the day Mr. Miller, a traveling man of Los Angeles, landed six more, the largest of which was twenty-nine pounds. The others averaged twenty pounds. Both Mr. and Mrs. Miller used twelve-strand tuna lines and live sardines as bait.

Each time the whir of the reel was heard as a big fish tugged at some line, excitement on the wharf was intense and everyone else dropped lines and poles to see the landing of the yellowtail. Each fisherman showed as keen interest in some other fellow's fish as the one he landed.

At the fishing tackle stands all were kept busy selling poles and bait. Two large boat loads of sardines were brought into Wharf No. 1 for bait.

Great schools of sardines are about each of the three wharves and for this reason a continued run of yellowtail is predicted by the wise ones. A large number of halibut were caught on Wharf 3 this morning as well, but interest in these was small when the yellowtail commenced running.

SMITH'S SINGLE SCORES VICTORY.

Criger Holds Senators to Three Bingles.

Mahoney Has Bad Day in the Outfield.

Sacramento Discouraged at Team's Showing.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] 'Twas the same old story in the same old way. Costly errors and inability to hit chalked up another defeat on the Senator's slate, and the only thing in the way of variety which was offered today, was the passing of eight featureless innings before Los Angeles was able to profit by Sacramento's shortcomings and send across the two runs which gave the visitors their second victory of the series by the shut-out score of 2 to 0.

Four times during the first seven innings the Angels had sent men to third and had only been prevented from putting the game on ice by the good fortune of the Senators in pulling out of tight holes. But in the ninth the inevitable could not be stalled off. For the Dillonites were getting hungry—and for that matter Chris Mahoney was evidently beginning to have a similar feeling.

Delmas opened the ninth by grounding to Thornton. Akin drove out an easy fly to right field, which Mahoney proceeded to muff in a manner even more rank than that in which he had maltreated Bernard's drive to the same territory in the opening frame. With Akin safe on first, Dillon drove up a pop fly between short and third, which either Shinn or Lerchen should have captured, but which was registered at a hit when they spoiled each others chances by both going after it.

SMITH WINS IT.

Hughie Smith approached the plate with a do or die expression and with Akin on second, and Dillon on first the Angels' doughty little catcher drove out a single to center scoring Akin. Thomas let Van Buren's slow throw to the plate go through him and Dillon went to third, Smith going to second. Criger drove out a long sacrifice fly to Van Buren which the Deacon failed to get away in time to prevent Dillon from scoring. Howard ended the agony by grounding out to Thornton, but the deed had been done, and Sacramento stood no better chance of scoring in the last half of the ninth than they had for eight innings before.

Three hits was the extent of the Senators batting activities for the day. Criger had been a puzzle to the locals from start to finish, and Thornton, Mahoney and Thomas were the only locals who could find him for safe hits. And yet Criger had not shown any amazing signs of strength. He had issued four passes and fanned only three, but he had eight men behind him who could hit and field and that was all that allowed him to get away with a victory over Fitzgerald.

Cobb May Become Actor.

DETROIT (Mich.) June 21.—Tyrus Cobb, centerfielder of the Detroit American League baseball club, says that he was seriously considering an offer to go on the stage next winter in a revision of "The College Widow." Several prominent theatrical men and Outfielder Jimmy Callahan of the Chicago Americans are said to be interested in the venture. Instead of the "widow" being the heroine, the play will be revised, it is said, to place the champion batsman in the leading role and a baseball instead of a football game will figure in the plot.

MAGGART COMES BACK.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Harl Maggart, repentant and willing to turn out for morning practice, sponged the record of misdeeds off his slate today when he came back into the Oakland ranks and in the first inning batted a home run and scored a team mate.

Later in the game Maggart scored again, his efforts really contributing three runs to the eight chalked up for Oakland against the one tally registered by Portland.

Not satisfied by his batting contribution, Maggart, in the seventh made three put-outs, preventing Portland from making a hit in that inning.

Portland scored its lone run in the first inning.

STOCKTON GAMES.

ONLY ONE VOTE NEEDED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, June 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Thomas F. Graham of the Pacific Coast League has wired the managers of all Coast league clubs relative to the playings of Sunday morning games in Stockton, when the Sacramento team is at home.

Sacramento, Oakland and San Francisco have replied favorbly and all that is now necessary is to have one other club vote in favor of it. The schedule will have to be changed, giving Sacramento seven games at home instead of six, but this matter can easily be arranged. McCredie, Hen Berry and Hap Hogan are still to be heard from and it is almost a cetainty that Stockton will be put in the Coast League.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND, June 21.—The Japanese ball team from Keio University were defeated here today by the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club by an eleven to three score. The Nipponese were rattled from the start and played everything but good ball.

Sugase, their pitcher, was batted often and effectively and his teammates booted the ball repeatedly. Koima, their crack batter, struck out three times, but the last time up he knocked his customary three-bagger. This accounted for one of the visitors' scores, and fumbling by Multnomah caused the other two. Score

FLYNN MAY FIGHT AT PHILADELPHIA.

Morris Willing to Go Six Rounds in East.

Fireman Refuses to Collect Ufer's Big Forfeit.

Looks Like Big Battle Will Yet Be Held.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, June 21.—If satisfactory arrangements can be made between Philadelphia promoters and Frank B. Ufer, manager of Carl Morris, the Morris-Flynn fight will go to that city.

Ufer telephoned Jim Flynn here today saying he would leave for Philadelphia probably tomorrow to meet promoters who have been angling for the battle since the Governor of Oklahoma barred it from that State.

Should the fight go to Philadelphia it will be a six-round affair without a referee's decision. Both Flynn and Morris are satisfied with this arrangement.

Flynn today refused to accept Ufer's forfeit of $1500 which he posted to guarantee that the fight would take place on July 4.

"He is too good a sport for me to take the money," said Flynn.

WELSH AND BALDWIN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—Freddie Welsh and Mattie Baldwin have practically finished their training for the twenty-round match that takes place Friday night.

Baldwin is entirely finished, but Welsh with the eccentricities that apparently marked all of his work in the gymnasium as well as his diet, is bound to prolong the exercising. It was originally stated that the Welshman would box right up to the day of the bout and even work on the day of the match. Such a strenuous programme, however, appears to be just a trifle more than the vegetable eating light weight can stand and reports from his quarters tonight were to the effect that he would wind up tomorrow.

The betting on the match is peculiar. Judging from the price Baldwin isn't given a look-in as far as winning is concerned, for he is held to 10 to 4 1-2 and no backing worth the mention.

There is also money at 10 to 9 that Welsh will win the decision, but on the other hand 10 to 8 is offered that Welsh will not be able to stop the Bostonian inside of the twenty rounds. If betting is any criterion the public figures that while Welsh should win the decision, he will be unable to knock out Baldwin in the distance they are to go.

The dickering has already started for a Papke-Klaus match later in the year. Jimmy Coffroth cabled Papke today in Paris asking if he would be willing to meet Klaus here in August and if so to name his terms.

Coffroth would like to stage the match about August 18, at the time of the Eagles' convention.

BOXING NOTES.

Harry Baker is anxious to come here and fight Joe Rivers, and Kirkwood is also asking the same chance. It is more than probable that Manager McCarey of the local club will give one of the boys an opportunity, and preferably Kirkwood.

Joe Soto, an old and well-known lightweight pug of former days, declares that he would box anyone McCarey could get for him at 122 pounds and would bet $500 of his own money on the fight. This sounds like the real stuff.

Another aspirant for local honors is Willie Canole who was matched with Charley Rogers in the prelim for the Wolgast-Burns fight. Canole beat Rogers twice some months ago. He says that if he cannot get an opportunity here, he will move on to Kansas City.

Kid Dalton and Paul Kohler have been selected as the semi-final for the Kline-Kilbane bout on July 15. The weight is to be 135 pounds. Kohler is in the Kilbane stable and is reported from the East as a very good boy.

An effort is being made by Secretary Hancock of the local club to get a match for little Jimmy Austin, but the only boy in sight near his size is Battling Chico, the Mexican. It was proposed to offer a purse of $150 for the two boys, but Chico now wants $100 for his end, win or lose. Why he should think he is worth a guarantee is hard to see, and the result will proabbly be that he will not be asked to fight here for some weeks, if at all. Hancock does not see how Chico is worth $100.

A Dalton-Rogers match should be a real live one and these two will probably be brought together soon. Rogers would like 137 pounds, but Dalton wants his fights at 135 pounds.

For the information of some of the bugs who did not get the returns of Young Al Kaufman's fight at Taft last Saturday night, they are informed that Kaufman got the decision from Kenneth in twenty rounds.

Frankie Sullivan says that if Kid Snyder will fight Billy Capelle and beat him, that there will be a good chance for a match between Sullivan and Snyder.

VENICE TENNIS ENTRIES.

is a record breaker but any of the so-called veteran players are not on the list. Tom Bundy has found that he is too busy to break away for the tourney so he will not be a contestant for the Montgomery Cup, which he has won twice and only needs to capture again to make himself permanent owner of it. However, he is to play an exhibition match Saturday.

Bell, Sinsabaugh, Braly and other oldtimers also are among the missing. Their absence will give the less skilled fellows a chance to get in and make a more powerful scramble for the prizes. Gerald Young, who gave Maurice McLoughlin a hard run for first honors at Del Monte last year, looks like the winner in the men's singles. Many promising racqueters will break into the limelight for the first time.

The junior singles will be the opening event. The men's singles also are to be started this morning and this afternoon it is expected that the first matches in the ladies' special singles will be run off.

Drawings for today's events were made last night and resulted as follows:

Junior singles—H. Huber to play CeCormick; D. Zimmerman drew a bye; J. Grady and Kenneth Newell, Harry Batcheller drew a bye, Eugene Warren and Harry Webster, Marshall Ketchum and John Horrell, Paul Revaile drew a bye, Earl V. Barker drew a bye.

Men's singles—L. E. Johnson drew a bye, Ernest Vennick drew a bye, Wallace Robb to play J. C. Wilson, E. V. Weller drew a bye, E. B. Harnett and E. P. Myers, Harry Belden and Ralph Noble, Ed Dietrich and E. P. Galusha, Thornton Kinney and H. Waldeck, John Horrell and E. B. Barker, Marshall Ketchum and Gerald Young, H. F. Weller and Kenneth Newell, J. W. Lawrence and C. Barker, F. W. Salisbury and C. Marx, John Holmes drew a bye, H. A. Bingham drew a bye, P. Realle drew a bye.

Ladies' special singles: Mrs. Stickrod drew a bye, Miss Katherine Gray to play Miss McCall, Misses Anna H. Dillon, Elizabeth Cullen, Nora Harnett, Lilly Lingcard, Ellen Batcheller and Mrs. Widdowson drew byes.

Finals in all the classes are to be played Saturday. Men's doubles and mixed doubles are to begin tomorrow. Drawings for these events will be made tonight. The team entries follow:

Men's doubles — Webster and Batcheller, Morphy and Ketchum, Galusha and Belden, Robb and partner, Weller and Weller, Deitrich and partner, Zimmerman and Waldeck, Lawrence and partner, Newell and Horrell, Chapin and partner, Salisbury and Myers, King and partner, Barker and Barker, Noble and partner, Johnson and McCormick, Young and partner, J. C. Wilson and Percey.

Mixed doubles—Galusha and Miss Anna H. Dillon, Morphy and Mrs. Bruce, Ketchum and Miss Alice Ryan, Batcheller and Miss Ellen Batcheller, Johnson and Miss Elizabeth Cullen, R. A. Wynne and Miss Helen Burford, Weller and partner.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Edward Stack, pitcher for the Philadelphia Nationals, entered the East Fifty-first-street police station here before daybreak this morning and informed Lieut. McMullen that a gold watch fob, worth $200 and greatly valued for the sake of association, had been stolen from him at the Grand Central Subway station. The fob was in the shape of a lion's head with diamond eyes and was presented to him by Jim Jeffries was just the opposite of these two heavyweights and represented the opposite kind of mixer. Jim would rather crawl into a closed carriage than an open one any time and his unpopularity was largely due to the fact that he shied at the limelight worse than a prairie pony at a calliope.

There is a happy medium, however, between the Corbett and Jack Johnson type and Jim Jeffries, and fortunately the majority of pugilists belong in it.

The promoters of the Langford-Caponi fight tried hard to make the Winnipeg ring followers stand for the combination, but the evening before the battle was scheduled one of the sport scribes brought forth a line-up of the two men that was laughable. He said that in view of the fact that Langford hadn't trained and that he was hog fat and that Caponi had done a world of road stunts the battle would probably last a round. However, Caponi would have to show better footwork than in some of his former battles or he would cash in before the first minute was over. The fact was that Sam had figured on pleasing the public, as he tried to.

Packy McFarland uncorked a dissertation on fighting the other day that shows the little fellow to be a fairly good student of the game on top of the fact that he is one of the greatest boxers the world has ever seen.

Packy says that there are but four effective punches known to pugilism and that unless a fighter has acquired them he is lacking in a full artillery equipment. The shifts and fantastic moves are generally superfluous. They only tend to tire out the fighter and bring no results. Of course there will be a lot of men who will oppose the Chicago stockyards lad in this argument and point to men who reached the top and alleged at least that their success was due to a shift or a feint.

Packy classes the wallop about as follows: "The straight jab, the left hook, the right cross and the uppercut."

McFarland says that one can count the fighters upon four fingers who are past masters at using the four wallops and he heads the list with Jack Johnson and Sam Langford.

The straight left, McFarland says, does the greatest amount of damage with the least amount of effort on the part of the fighter. He is sure right there. The straight left also does more to discourage a fighter than any other punch.

Packy says that the hook used by Johnson and the uppercut as handled by Langford when he resorts to it are very effective wallops. As to blocking, of which many say McFarland is the greatest exponent that ever lived, he thinks it is effective only when the fighter backs it up with aggressiveness.

McFarland at least has an inside knowledge of the ring game that few fighters have and his expression on the important factors in a champion's punching repertoire will create a lot of talk.

LATONIA RESULTS.

PRINCE GAL WINS STAKES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LATONIA, June 21.—Prince Gal won the Merchants' Stakes at Latonia today from a good field of horses. After allowing Winter Green to set the early pace, Prince Gal assumed the lead in the stretch and stalling off Hazel Burke's determined rush in the final sixteenth won by half a length. Winter Green was two lengths back.

Five furlongs: Kitty K won, Damson second, Gagna third; time, 1:01.

Five furlongs: The Manager won, Wheel Wright second, Presumption third; time, 0:59 3-5.

Mile and sixteenth: Mockler won, Lackrose second, Rompie third; time, 1:46.

The Merchants' Stakes, mile: Prince Gal won, Hazelburke second, Winter Green third; time, 1:38 3-5.

Mile and an eighth: John Louis won, Leamance second, Polls third; time, 1:50 4-5. This broke track record of 1:51 1-5.

Mile and three sixteenths: Zienap won, Hamis second, Short Order third; time, 1:59 2-5.

PHOENIX ROAD RACE MEETING.

Dealers to Gather Today When Bullard Calls the Roll of Entrants for the Big Event.

There is to be a meeting of the dealers who are interested in the Los Angeles-Phoenix road race at 2 o'clock today in the Hollenbeck Hotel. George Purdy Bullard will preside and at that time a map of the course, showing all of the points to be touched, the distance, the towns and cities where the prizes are offered and the good and bad roads will be shown.

There is a prospect that at least twenty-five cars will be started in this contest. Dr. H. H. Stone, referee of the big road race, is here and is expected at the meeting this afternoon. A. W. Ballard, a wealthy resident of Phoenix, is also here with his Kissel Kar. At the meeting today the rules of the contest will be adopted and the entry fee will be announced, together with the date for opening and closing the entry list.

FORTY PINK IMMORTALS.

NO. 11—C. C. PARKER.

C. C. PARKER was discoursing learnedly upon the modern drama to a member of the Ebell Club. With his charactertstic enthusiasm he was checking off point after point upon his fingers, and desultory shoppers in the store stopped to listen to the little lecture. In his earnestness his voice had risen rather above conversational pitch and could be heard by all.

"Now George Bernard Shaw," he said, "has expressed more clearly than any other writer—more clearly even than most of us are willing to admit—the spirit of this age, stripping conventions of their hypocritical masks, designating motives by their proper classifications and—"

"Pompitty pomp, pompitty pomp, pomp pompitty pomp," came the sound of a bugle floating in through the open door.

"Er—as I was saying—the—ah—oh, yes. Shaw probably has not been equaled for candor and unerring instinct for frankness since Wagner knocked out three home runs in one game with the Tigers in 1907—I beg your pardon—I mean since—"

"Pompitty pomp, pompitty pomp, pomp pompitty pomp," and the bugle was much closer.

"I don't mean Wagner, I mean Devlin—no, no. I mean Oscar Wilde. With all his fondness for paradox we must admit that Wilde—"

"Pompitty pomp, pompitty pomp, pomp pompitty pomp," and the bugle was right outside and everyone could see it was being blown by a man in baseball costume.

"Will you please excuse me a moment," stammered C. C. Parker and going to the back of the store he confided to his chief clerk.

"I nearly forgot I promised to take my boy to the ball game today," he said. "That lady wants something new in modern drama. You might tell her that I have been called out on important business, and may not be back for some time."

Charles Cullom Parker bears the distinction of being the highest browed baseball fan in Los Angeles. He can discuss Hegel and Schopenhauer with anyone who wants to discuss them, and he can tell you who pitched the winning game in the world's championship series in 1887.

During the last State election campaign a friend of Parker's in San Diego wrote him a letter of introduction to A. G. Spalding, the candidate for Senator, who was then in Los Angeles, and asked Parker to call and meet him. Parker was on the other side of the political fence, but he decided he could not do less than call, so he dropped around at the Alexandria and met Spalding. After the usual greetings there was a slight pause, and Parker said:

"Mr. Spalding—I haven't seen you since 1878 when you were pitching for Chicago. You were a mighty good ball player, but as a Senator for the State of California, I can't see you with a pair of binoculars."

Showing that Mr. Parker possesses that same quality of frankness which he so admires in George Bernard Shaw.

C. C. Parker is a Missourian from Illinois. If it weren't for the "Cullom" part of his name, and a little record in the vital statistics of the town of Washington, near Chicago, it couldn't be proved, for at an early age he went—or was taken—to Sedalia, Missouri, and lived there so long he began to think he was born there. Sedalia is a regular place, to be found on nearly every map of Missouri, and the fact that it is a good American town is proved by Parker's adherence to the great national game of baseball, in spite of the fact that he never played the game.

"The nearest thing I ever came to playing baseball," says Mr. Parker, "was when the two rival teams of the metropolis of Sedalia arranged a match and decided that I should be umpire. I had seen umpires try to stand between these two teams before and I had no desire to imitate them, so I refused absolutely. They picked another umpire, but when the day of the game came they unanimously ousted him and said I simply had to take the job. Finally I consented with the sole provision that at the first objection to one of my decisions I would walk off the field.

"I said 'walk off the field' because I knew if I stayed I would probably be carried off. You see, I knew the teams. They were out for blood and they didn't care much whose.

"The game started. Whenever the batter didn't strike at a ball and I called a strike he and his team would start to walk out towards me and I would call game on them and start off the field the opposite direction. They would return to the benches grumbling. If I called a ball the whole set of fielders would start in toward me and I would call game again and start off the other direction. It was more like an old-fashioned game of pullaway than anything else.

"Well, it ran along like that and the game was tied at the end of the ninth inning, and I longed for home and mother. I can't think of anything so undesirable as the position of umpire of a ten-inning game, with both sides out, as I remarked before, for blood. The only thing that saved my life was the fact that the game was won by a clean homer over the fence and there was no chance for a dispute. Never before had I umpired and I vowed then and there—never again!"

GOSSIP ALONG GASOLINE ROW

BY BERT C. SMITH.

W. E. Bush is ready to start things going for the big automobile tour to Bakersfield, that will leave here July 2. At least fifty cars are expected.

Leon Shettler attended the ball game yesterday. He has the habit and enjoyed himself every minute. He is boosting for the Vernon team and still thinks Vernon has a chance. He believes it strong enough to attend every game. That's why he cannot be present this afternoon when the Phoenix racers talk about the contest.

P. A. Renton is home after his successful trip through the East. He is more inclined than ever to boost the game and will start in 1912 on larger lines than ever before. He is one of the top notchers who says little, but who works his head off all the time.

The run from Mojave to Los Angeles, is one of the interesting spins that can be made just now in a motor car. Take the road out of Mojave and keep to the left. If you turn to the right, well Robert Stanton can tell you all about that. You will see the Owens River Aqueduct camp.

William Hughson of Hughson & Merton, came to town yesterday and was met at the train by a delegation of autoists. He is one of the live wires of San Francisco and while he is here, Roger Stearns, the Ford man, will show him the town.

Volney S. Beardsley is selling Columbus electrics as fast as he can receive them from the factory. The Warren-Detroit, Firestone-Columbus chief has come into his own in grand style and is so busy he cannot take the time to chat with his friends. He is on the jump every minute.

Charles H. Thompson, the Jackson man, is in Fresno. He spent Tuesday in Bakersfield and then drove his Jackson roadster to the raisin center, where he has two prospects.

George Pelton of Pasadena, has purchased a Baker electric coupe, one of the handsome new-style cars which the Stoddard-Dayton Motor Car Company has recently received. Mrs. E. P. Johnson, Jr., of this city also has purchased a Baker.

Bill Nevin has sold three of those handsome thirty-five-horse-power Fiat touring cars. He is doing the biggest business of the season and things are coming his way. He is the real thing when it comes to disposing of high-priced cars.

W. E. Drury, the Bakersfield road race man, is preparing a warm reception for the automobile men who expect to take part in the big Fourth of July event. This is to be a hummer, if Drury's plans mature and the chances are that they will.

Fred Flint, the Stoddard-Dayton man, is watching that race between the Packard and the Pierce-Arrow. He is not boosting for either machine, but is wondering which will win, William May Garland or Herman Janss.

Angus Crites, the man who is pounding the Bakersfield roads into shape in preparation for the big road race July Fourth, piloted the National out of the oil center Tuesday on the run back to Los Angeles.

C. Fred Grundy has returned from the Thomas and Cole factories. He has some interesting stories to tell about the new 1912 lines and both cars are to be finished as they never were before.

HANDBALL ARTISTS UNDERGO SHAKE-UP.

Handball at the Los Angeles Athletic Club is slated for a big boost as a result of the division of the court artists into four classes, with an individual prize for each division. Heretofore many players have stayed out of the game because they realized they had no chance to capture the Garbutt championship cup, which has been monopolized by Gordo Whelan for several years.

Under the new arrangement, the players will be divided into championship, A, B, and C classes, according to their ability. The Garbutt cup will remain the championship trophy. Les Henry has donated a cup for Class A, R. S. Taylor has given a trophy for Class B, and Elt Brown has come through with a cup for the Class C players.

In the three latter classes any player winning the trophy challenge matches, will become the permanent owner of it. After winning a match he may ignore challenges for a month, but after that period of time, has elapsed will be required to take on the first challenger in point of time.

Playful, Isn't He.

POLAR BEAR RIPS HIS SHIRT OFF.

That Is, Albers' Linen, at the Empress Theater.

Playful Cuff in the Ribs Does the Trick.

Trainer Cheerfully Says He Didn't Mean To.

BY HARRY CARR.

Albers, the bear man, "got it" last night at the Empress Theater from the big wrestling polar. It was so quick that I scarcely realized; but my friend Ap-pe-kunny had a better means of knowing what the swoop of a bear's paw will do. He hunted them years ago on the plains with the Blackfeet Indians.

When the curtain went down, Ap-pe-kunny nudged me in the ribs. "He got it," whispered the old bear hunter. "It nearly rippbd his shirt off; and I don't know how much hide went with it. I'm afraid he was hurt."

We went around behind to see. There was a smell of bears on the stage and we could see evil little pig eyes peeking at us from behind the bars of the cages. The big polars were shuffling and grumbling.

Albers stood in the wings ruefully surveying the linen ribbons that had once been a shirt. "He didn't mean to do it; if he had meant to do it I wouldn't be here," said Albers cheerfully. And he gathered the tatters over a chest like a barrel.

This bear man makes me think of Homer Davenport's description of Jim Jeffries; that "he was meant to be the gardener of the Yellowstone or the ferryman of Grand Canyon and a playmate of bears." If Kipling should ever meet this man who bullies the bears, he would make him immortal.

Very few men have ever made the impression upon me that this rosy-cheeked, stolid, blue-eyed, thin-lipped Dutchman did, last night. Usually animal trainers are pitiful, they are so obviously afraid. Especially the women. I have never seen a woman trainer who did not seem frightened to the bottom of her soul.

This Dutchman goes in and kicks ten big polar bears up and shoves them contemptuously around as though they were lazy dogs.

"Some day," said Ap-pe-kunny, "he will really get it. Of all animals that have teeth, polar bears are the worst—with one exception—the grizzly."

"No, don't expect the grizzly," corrected Albers, wiping the beads of perspiration from his forhead. "I tried to keep some grizzlies in with my polars one season. Before the end of the season the grizzlies were all dead. A polar can kill the biggest grizzly that ever walked."

Albers perked his thumb over toward the cages. "All devils," he said. "Of all wild animals the polar is the most vicious. Next comes the leopard.

"Lions? Lions are easy. They have women lion tamers. All these wild lions you see in shows are raised in the animal business. There hasn't been a wild lion in this country for fifty years. They are all born in captivity and reared in the show business in Germany. Most of them that get over here have been used eight or ten years in the cage shows abroad.

"They are easy to work; they roar and people like that." Albers grinned. "I used to have a lion that would stand up on his hind legs and claw at my shirt and bite at my face and roar to shake the roof, and people would get terribly frightened and scream. When the curtain went down the lion would follow me to my dressing-room like an old dog and lie down in a corner until we got ready for the next act.

"You can tell when you have gone about the limit with a lion; but these white devils sneak up behind you and swush! One day that devil over there jumped me when my back was turned. Before they could get him off, the flesh of my back and legs was hanging in torn ribbons. One of the attendants rushed in and hit him just behind the head, at the base of the brain, with a ten-pound sledge hammer. It didn't hurt him much. He was dead to the world for an hour or two; then he was all right again, as though it had been a love pat.

"The trouble with them is they are very stupid. It takes years to drive the simplest thing through their brains. Even then, they don't know much. I can wrestle with that big bear because he likes me; but if I happened to get the wrong bear some day—good-by.

"The one that eats from my lips; that's a female. She looks very affectionate, but if I should put my hands on her she would kill me so—that quick. They are terrible animals. This cage would be full of dead bears if an attendant didn't sleep right by the cages to separate them. They don't fight like other bears—with their paws. They make a sudden rush and grab by the stomach; then shake like a dog with a rat.

"Afraid?" Albers looked Ap-pe-kunny over with a puzzled look. "Yes. No. I don't know. I don't think anything about it. Ever since I was a little boy at Hagenbeck's in Hamburg I have been with wild animals. I never forget they are wild because the man who gets the idea that any wild animal can be tamed gets killed, but I am never afraid of them."

"Isn't it bad to turn your back on them the way you do?" (Albers drops his trainer's whip and works, lifting barrels around, as though the bears were toothless old domestic cats.)

The German looked quizzically at the bear hunter. "How can I keep my back all the while away from ten bears? In the London Hippodrome I used to work seventy-five. Anyhow, what good would that little whip do? A polar bear has a fur rug on his back and under the rug about three inches of fat He couldn't feel the whip. When I have to punish them I take a two-by-four scantling. But you can't beat the fight out of them."

"What if you put another bear in the cage?" asked Ap-pe-kunny.

"If it was a polar, there would be a hell of a fight" said Alber candidly. "If it was a brown or black bear, he would be dead before he got to the middle of the cage. Do you see that big fellow over there—swaying his neck around like a derrick in a wind? He killed a full-grown lion in London."

"They will soon be gone," added the bear trainer. "We are getting them now from Norway when they come in off the ice; but they cost $1000 apiece. They don't breed in captivity and they will soon be extinct."

"Then what will you do?" we asked him.

"I don't care; next year tigers for me. They yell and make more commotion."

Before we left, I asked Alber the question that I have never seen any other animal tamer take without a shudder; I asked him if he didn't expect to be killed some day in an animal cage? He looked up in surprise. "Why, no," he said, "I don't expect to be killed. The animal tamer who is killed has only himself to blame; he forgets that streak of wild that sticks there in the dullest and oldest ones.

"Those and the women are in danger. All women are in constant danger. No woman has any business in an animal cage. The animals know she hasn't the strength to hurt them."

Vernon Gets Suits.

The Vernon team received its new road uniforms, yesterday, from Chicago, and these dresses will be worn for the first time at the game next Sunday afternoon. The cloth is gray with dark blue stripes, and makes a very neat appearance.

Virginia Ainsworth,

Turners' Big Show.

TWO HUNDRED GERMAN GYMNASTS TO STIR UP SAWDUST AT FIESTA.

TWO hundred clever gymnasts are to be seen in action at Fiesta Park, Sunday, when the competitions of the sixth annual turnfest of the Pacific circuit of the North American Gymnastic Union are to be held. From early morning until sunset there will be "something doing" on Fiesta field.

The morning programme is to begin at 9 o'clock. The principal events will be stunts on gymnasium apparatus and field competitions. The contestants will strive for individual prizes as well as for prizes for their respective teams. The "gym" events will include exercises on the horizontal and parallel bars and two stunts on the "horse." Each performer will be judged by a corp of officials and will be marked with regard to a fixed standard. The team making the highest score will be declared the winner and the best individual gymnast will be handsomely rewarded. Thirteen teams from various places in the Pacific States are to compete.

The field events will include the 100-yard dash, sixteen-pound shot put, pole vault, high jump and running three jumps. Wrestling and fencing bouts also will be held.

Sunday afternoon will be devoted principally to team competitions in original drills. These exercises will give unlimited scope for striking effects. Mission Turn Verein of San Francisco is to "spring" a cane drill. Children and women are to take part in the afternoon programme, performing various drills and gymnastic dances.

The show that is to be given at the Auditorium, Saturday night, will include singing by massed choruses and striking physical culture stunts.

The San Francisco, Denver, Stockton, Portland and Oakland delegations are expected to arrive here today and the others are due tomorrow. The Seattle team is already here. The turnfest will open tomorrow night at Turner Hall. The names of the competing teams and the members of them, which have sent in their entries, follow: the procession. This did not bother me so much as the fact that when I opened her up, the forward cylinder began to miss, and all of the carbureters needed adjustment. This required ten or fifteen minutes.

Sacramento: Frank Hachman, George Zinkgraf, Alfred Lentz, Frank Schuler, Carl Schenk, Andrew Lascarie, Herb Writhe, Louis Stober, Andrew Reshka, Frank Reshka.

HAD MOTOR BOAT BUILT.

My father was steering by the compass as the weather was a little thick and I gave all of my time to the engine. The White Flyer was a little ahead, the Iroquois next, and the Campbell almost out of sight. The Eclipse and Klattawa had disappeared in the distance and were about a mile and a half ahead by the time we were running properly.

When our little Gray motor began to hum and the revolution counter went up to a thousand, my spirits went up too. We walked past the Iroquois and the White Flyer and ten minutes later were wav'ng bood-by to Mr. Fellows. He told us afterwards that he could hardly keep his hands off the throttle. We climbed up on the Eclipse and just as we caught her, she stopped for a minute or two and cut in again a quarter of a mile behind.

WHO LAUGHS LAST.

For a time we could not tell we were gaining on the Klattawa. A stern chase is a long chase, but after a while she began to look bigger, and foot by foot we ate up the distance and at 6:30 o'clock, about two-thirds of the way to the island, we passed through her wake and took the lead.

Mr. Fulton and his men would look at us, and disappear under the hood, then they would look at us again and dodge back to their engine. Every time they looked at us their faces got a little longer. I know I grinned, I couldn't help it, they looked so serious. The Klattawa was a pretty sight, dropping into the long swell, her red bow cutting the water like a knife. Mr. Fulton said we looked pretty, too, but I don't believe we looked good to him then.

The race was in our pocket, I thought. Mr. Fellows was four miles astern and little did I guess that our good-by was only au revoir.

Suddenly our engine sputtered and stopped. I commenced to get dizzy, and swashing around in the bottom of the boat was seven or eight gallons of eighty degree gasoline.

We tore the canvas cover off the boat, but the deadly fumes had already made us sick. The over to the gasoline tank would not open. We had to tear it loose. We would work by turns as fast as we were able, but thirty-five precious minutes elapsed before we got to going again, and every boat had gone on and left us.

Klattawa passed the island at 7:15, the Campbell at 7:27, the Iroquois, at 7:30, the Eclipse at 7:42, turning back for engine trouble soon after. We passed at 7:53, thirty-eight minutes behind the leader, and twenty-six minutes behind Mr. Fellows. We were beaten by twenty-five minutes.

HOW IT ENDED.

We never saw the leaders again although we had a very pretty race home with the Eclipse, which passed us off Avalon, while we were stopped, putting gasoline in the tank. We beat her about three minutes, Mr. Wood coming in still later.

At the finish our engine was shooting like a gatling-gun and I was nearly deaf with the continuous roar. It was splendid sport coasting down the long swells back of Catalina. We could see the Eclipse yaw almost broadside, too, as she ran before it, and there was some danger also. I would not like to be in a boat with a dead engine. There is no telling where the wind and current would land you before you were picked up, if you ever were. But in a race you don't worry about that; all you think of is how to go faster.

We hated to lose the race awful bad, but the best boat won. Mr. Fellows was better prepared than we were, and he handled his engine best of all. I hope we will race him again on July 1, and if we do, I'll try hard to have the best boat that day. I hope the finish will be as close as the last one. Mr. Fellows only beat Mr. Fulton seventeen seconds, in seventy-five miles. I know my engine will go the distance, and if we don't win, it will be our fault.

So far the "Mystery" has exceeded our expectations; she is fast for her size and weight; she is strong and able and is good little sea boat. It is a pretty sight to see her drive into a head sea with the spray falling all over her.

Some day I am going to build a thirty-footer that will go for:- miles an hour. It will not be a racing freak either, but a boat that will be safe in any weather.

JENKINS REGISTERS BIG BOWLING SCORE.

The Venice bowling team of the Southern California League ran up a big score against the Brenwood team at Venice last night. R. Jenkins finished with an average of 225 2-3, only one pin short of the league record he hung up the night before. The Venice score follows:

TWO DOLLAR CUT IN WIRE PRICES.

STEEL CORPORATION SUBSIDIARY MAKES STATEMENT.

Orders Aggregating Thirty Thousand Tons a Day as Against Twenty-four Last Month Make Shares of the Great Concern Firm on the Stock Exchange.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 21.—Extreme dullness and narrowness were the dominant features of today's stock market. The undertone was generally steady except at the opening and in the final hour, when prices manifested a tendency to sag, but operations were so light and professional as to render the net result practically negligible. The total output was only about 193,000 shares, which almost established a low record for any recent full day. One of the negative events of the day was the declaration of the regular semi-annual dividend of Lehigh Valley common, despite some recent forebodings. The stock recovered part of the decline of the past few days, and Reading, which has no small interest in Lehigh Valley, stiffened perceptibly. In the steel industry the event of the day was a cut of $2.00 per ton in the price of wire by one of the subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation. Steel shares were firm on the statement of that corporation's chief executive that orders thus far this month have aggregated from 28,000 to 30,000 tons per day on an average, as against 24,000 tons in the preceding month. In the group of public utilities American Telephone made very slight recovery from its abrupt decline of the previous day. The bond market followed the course of stocks, with here and there a reactionary trend. Issues of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Company were sold at marked declines following the publication of the proposed terms of reorganization. Total sales, par value, $2,277,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Special Service to The Times by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members N. Y. Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, June 21.—The porcupines were the most active of the curb issues today although the total transactions in these made only a moderate showing. The rest of the market was very dull. Inspiration sold 9¼. The balance of the copper list was inclined to sag.

The Boston coppers were dull with a strong undertone with few selling orders in sight. Sentiment as to coppers in Boston in bullish but there seems to be no initiative to start the movement which seems certain to come shortly.

THE COPPER INDUSTRY.

[Special Service to The Times by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members of the New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth st., Los Angeles.]

The Ohio concentrator has been treating for several weeks past an average of 1500 tons of ore a day in the one unit which is equipped and operating, or half of the entire plant. Some changes are being made in this portion of the mill by the addition of rolls, of which one set has already been installed, and also by the equipment of the slime plant with Deister tables. It is expected that by the addition of this machinery a considerable increase in extraction will be made and that the saving will be brought up to at least 65 per cent. The improvements now being made should be completed in about two weeks' time. The machinery which is to be installed in the second unit of the concentrator is still in the process of construction, and nothing as yet has been done toward the actual equipping of this part of the plant. The tonnage of 1500 a day, which has been going to the mill, is not as heavy as it has been in the past, as the concentrator has been found to operate better when not crowded. However, this figure has since been increased and at present often reaches 1800 tons a day. The original capacity of each unit was slightly over 1100 tons, which shows a considerable increase over the normal rating. With the completing of the improvements now being made in the concentrator, it is believed that not only will a higher extraction be possible, but also the tonnage handled considerably increased. The grade of the ore treated is around 1.2 per cent. copper, which is slightly lower than for several months. The reason for this decrease in grade, it is stated, is that the ore has been coming from a different section of the mine which is not so rich, and also, to a lesser extent, to some of the overburden finding its way into the material. The extraction on this grade of ore has been around 61 per cent. and probably is at this figure at the present time. On the above grade of ore and extraction, gross production would be in the neighborhood of [illegible] pounds of copper per month, which figure was obtained in April.

Ohio's cost of production has risen somewhat within the past few months, owing to the decrease in tonnage and grade of ore treated, this figure now being close to 10 cents per pound. About 300 men are now at work at the Ohio mine and concentrator, disregarding the construction crew at the mill.

Old Dominion is laying down its copper in New York for 8¾ cents. They are selling a million gallons of water a day to adjoining mines. It is very closely held and one of the cheapest producers.

The Nevada Consolidated is making changes at the Steptoe plant which should work for lower milling and smelting costs. We understand that May costs were the lowest in the company's history—under 6 cents.

Our Ely correspondent reports: The first of the new basic type converters now being installed at the plant of the Steptoe Valley Smelting and Mining Company at McGill will be blown in next month. It is claimed that the new converters, of which there are three, are the largest in the world. They are 22x19 feet in size, and the largest size thus far attempted in this style of converter is 25x10 feet. The combined capacity of the three new converters will be considerably greater than that of the four stands of barrel-type converters at present in use. The three reverberatory furnaces at the Steptoe plant, which were recently built over for the use of oil fuel, are now being enlarged, as it has been found practicable to handle a much larger charge with oil fuel than could be done with coal. It is thought that the smelting capacity per furnace will be so much increased by the changes and additions that it will not be necessary to change the remaining two of the present battery of five. In other words, it is expected that the three enlarged furnaces, fired with oil, will do the work of five old-style reverberatories fired with coal.

North Butte can earn its present dividends of $1.20 per share per annum on 12-cent copper, and we are informed that there has been no thought of a reduction. Considering the fact that copper is now 12¾ cents, there is all the more reason for the payment of the regular rate, although the evident fear of a possible reduction has caused some selling of the stock. Last year North Butte earned $560,000, or $144,000 over its dividend requirements, and we understand that the reduction in production costs has more than offset any lower price received for copper so far this year. The company has a surplus of about $1,600,000. We have repeatedly given the facts of the great improvement in underground North Butte, and it has been this improvement that is responsible for the large buying of the stock from 27 up.

During the first four months in 1911 the El Rayo property treated 18,130 tons of ore and made net profits of $119,500. The company operates three other properties, all located in Northern Mexico. The company is on a 9 per cent. dividend basis, and at its present price of 5¾ returns 17 per cent. on the investment.

Consult Me Free

I Shall be glad to tell you your ailment, its cause and cure.

The Leading Specialist

I HAVE SUCH INDISPUTABLE evidence to lay before you that no thinking person will doubt my ability to overcome any diseases except those which are beyond the hope of human aid. I speak not only of acute ailments, but of all diseases arising from nervous troubles, overwork, dissipation. Many unsuccessful people who had attributed their failure in life to misfortune or lack of opportunities have come forth from my treatment vigorous and ambitious, equipped and able to fight their battle and win success in the world. Perhaps you recognize your own weakness. I will supply the strength, courage, will power and energy necessary to success. I do this by no occult powers, but by cutting into healthy condition the various organs of the body and restoring to the system the vital, rich blood, the nerve energy which is lacking.

My treatment is as wholesome as it is powerful. It is as permanent as it is certain.

I make no charge for consultation. If you are ill or debilitated from any cause, you are welcome to my best thought and attention.

YOU CAN PAY AS ABLE WHEN BENEFITTED OR WHEN CURED.

WHAT BETTER PROOF or more sincere assurance can I offer than that I am willing to wait for my fee until I effect a cure? Could I afford to make such an offer if I was not absolutely certain of curing every case I take? And I do cure every case I treat. In my twenty-five years' practice as a specialist I have never failed to restore perfect health. Such invariable success justly entitles me to the title of leading specialist.

I will gladly give my advice Free to the afflicted, whether they later become my patients or not. Come in for a private talk with me. Don't delay. The worst cases are those in which treatment was too long neglected. If you cannot call, write for self-examination blank.

Hours 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Daily. Sundays, 10 to 1 only.

Crop Damage Zone Is Said to Extend Into North Dakota, but Conflicting Reports Cause Many Changes of Front and Leave the Close Nervous in Chicago.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 21.—With the crop damage zone said to be reaching into North Dakota, wheat today bounded higher than at any recent time. Conflicting reports, however, as to the spread of injury caused many rapid changes of front, so that the close was nervous. Latest figures were ¼ to 5-8@¾ over last night, but averaging ⅛ under the top level reached today. On the other hand, corn and oats held strong throughout, the former finishing 1 to 1 5-8 up and the latter at 1 5-8 to 1 7-8 advance. Hog products gained 7½ to 17½ net. Some localities in Minnesota as well as in North Dakota reported the outlook as being excellent. Most of the damage reports came from South Dakota. One expert in that State wired an assertion of the crop having been practically destroyed in the last 12 hours in Grant, Day and Brown counties. The bears received considerable help, too, from the unresponsiveness of foreign markets. All the session business here was on a big scale. September fluctuated between 89⅜ and 91, closing 5-8@¾ net higher at 90⅜@90 5-8. When the day ended, corn was still climbing after having attained the steepest point so far this season. September ranged from 58¼ to 59⅝ and closed at 59 5-8@59¾, a net advance of 1⅝@1 3-8. Cash grades were firm. No. 2 yellow finished at 56¾@57. Oats showed more strength and wildness than any other grain, prices going to the topmost figures yet reached on the crop. Upper and lower levels touched by the September option were 43¼ and 41 5-8, with the last sales 1⅝@1 7-8 up at 43 1-8@43¼. Provisions rose with grain. When the crowd dispersed, pork had become more expensive by 12½ to 37½; lard, 7½ to 10@12½, and ribs, 12½@15 to 20.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour—Firm; No. 2 rye, 75@90; feed or mixing barley, 56@1.07; Timothy seed, 8.00@11.00; clover, 15.75; mess pork, per barrels, 15.87½@16.00; lard, per 100 lbs., 8.27½; short ribs, sides, (loose,) 7.62½@8.37½; short clear sides, (boxed,) 8.12½@8.75.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Cotton buyers here from Berlin for the purpose of buying cotton for German spinners advise us that both German and Lancashire mills are under contract for delivery of their full production up to the end of October and that stocks of both cotton and cotton goods are down to rock bottom. This means that 3,400,000 bales will be required between now and the end of September the finished product of which already been sold. The visible of today is 1,500,000 bales, about 400,000 bales will come into sight between now and September first, while the largest amount ever marketed during September was 1,300,000, or a possible available of 3,200,000 bewteen now and October. It is impossible for the visible supply to be reduced below 500,000 bales, which would leave only 2,700,000 bales to fill this demand for 3,400,000 bales. As to the new crop, the market has declined on reports of rains in Texas, which the government does not confirm. So far this month, according to the records, two stations in Texas have had one inch of rain; eight stations have had from half to one inch; seventeen stations have had from a trace to half inch and twenty-one stations have not had a drop. There are forty-eight stations officially reported daily. The rainfall since March 1st is far below the normal over the entire belt and a drouth in July or August would therefore be a disaster in any part of the cotton belt.

Logan & Bryan's letter says:

"A goodly portion of the cotton trade have convinced themselves that there has been no drouth and that there won't be one and that the boll weevil won't bite and the frost won't check developments. Those who have actually seen the cotton crop in the Southwest tell us that the plant is from six to eight inches high and has no fruit of any character. The people who have not seen it figure the plant from knee high to waist high and that blooms and squares are plentiful. The government weather which is supposed to account for every drop of rain that falls at the forty-eight stations in Texas only shows a few scattered points at which as much as one-half inch of moisture has fallen in nearly two months, private telegrams have at various times reported enough rainfall to cause the Gulf of Mexico to overflow. Sherman, Tex., reported hard rain last Sunday, the government showed it to be .20. Paris, Tex., reported heavy rains the middle of last week, the government gauge at that point must have a hole in the bottom of it since none is yet recorded. In years gone by it was hard to get any good crop news from the South. A deluge of crop damage reports were always at hand and viewed suspiciously by the trade. The South had not gotten used to high priced cotton, and the North has not gotten over expecting a larger crop, that the South admits, and these two factors have contributed largely to the present state of affairs, later on when the normal deterioration of July and August comes and when the oversold condition of the market is more apparent a different crop idea and a different market will result. Until then the spinner is the buyer, the speculator the seller."

TO DISCUSS SANITATION.

Chamber of Commerce and American Medical Association Arrange Meeting for Enlightenment.

Those who are interested in the subjects of sanitation, preventative medicine and the control of tuberculosis, will be afforded an opportunity to hear authorities upon the subjects at a meeting which is to be held under the joint auspices of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the American Medical Association at the Auditorium at 3:30 o'clock next Monday afternoon. Women will be welcome. This meeting was arranged because of the many inquiries along these lines that are made of the Chamber of Commerce by home-seekers.

The principal address will be delivered by Col. W. C. Gorgas, U.S.A., who has had great success in combating unsanitary conditions in the Panama Canal zone. There will be ten-minute addresses by Dr. S. Adolphus Knopf, of New York, who is an authority upon tuberculosis, and Dr. Abraham Jacobi, also of New York, a well-known orator and author.

James Slauson, president of the Chamber of Commerce will preside and Col. Gorgas will be introduced by former United States Senator Flint. The meeting will be preceded by an organ recital, which begins at 3 o'clock.

MURDER SUSPECT ARRESTED.

Virgil Hayes was arrested yesterday at Huntington Beach by Deputy Sheriff Wright, assisted by Deputies Squires and Jerrigan of Orange county, on a telegraphic warrant charging him with murder in Globe. Sheriff Thompson of Globe will arrive in the city tomorrow for the prisoner. Hayes was found at work on the sugar factory by the officers. At the County Jail he declared that he did not know what the charge meant. His wife resides in this city.

To Be Tried Anyway.

Though Earl Busse, the member of the "Purity" squad who recently confessed to having accepted a bribe, is mentioned on the complaints as a witness, the city prosecutor will not drop the cases against several women charged with vagrancy.

The case against Rosie Greenberg was dismissed by Police Judge Rose yesterday on motion of Assistant City Prosecutor Dodge, on account of lack of evidence. Against other women whose cases will soon be called, the showing is sufficiently strong to warrant the prosecutor calling them to trial without reference to Busse.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY.

James M. Flowers filed a petition in bankruptcy yesterday in the United States District Court. His assets are scheduled at $543, all of which he claims to be exempt, and his liabilities at $1988.47. Flowers has appeared recently before Justice Reeve in supplementary proceedings, instituted by his creditors.

GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY

Remedy Made from Garden Sage and Sulphur Restores Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs, which, unfortunately, are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hairs, however, are not always an indication of advancing age, for many people have gray hairs quite early in life. Of course, it is unnatural, and indicates that there is something wrong with the individual, and that Nature needs assistance in correcting the trouble. The same is true of hair that is constantly falling out and becoming
